STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE principal object of this Bill is to consolidate the Indian Statute law relating to merchant shipping and the carriage of passengers by sea. The necessity for such consolidation has long been felt, and two attempts in this direction were made in the years 1867 and 1882. The Bill prepared in 1882 was merely a measure of partial consolidation, but the Bill of 1867 was designed to consolidate the whole Statute law. The last mentioned Bill was abandoned pending the consolidation by Parliament of the English Statutes relating to merchant shipping, many of the provisions of which apply to India in common with the rest of Her Majesty's dominions. Legislation in England is, however, still delayed, and under the circumstances it is desirable to defer no longer the re-enactment in a single Act of the various Acts of the Indian Legislature

2. The present Bill embodies many provisions of the English Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 to 1892, which have not hitherto been dealt with by Indian legislation, which can be so dealt with, and which it appears desirable to repeal or re-enact in a Bill, like the present, for consolidating and bringing up to date the Indian Statute law. But, on the other hand, it necessarily leaves outstanding many provisions of those Acts which apply to India and which it is beyond the power of the Indian Legislature to repeal or re-enact. It is intended, when the present Bill has been passed, to publish a new edition of Mr. Pearson's Digest of the Merchant Shipping Law applicable to India, in which all the English Statute law excluded from the Bill will be arranged in a convenient form side by side with the cognate clauses of the Bill.

3. The opportunity afforded by the present Bill has been taken to make various amendments in the Indian law which have been suggested by experience These are, as far as possible, printed in italics, and a few of the more important of them are noticed in the following paragraphs. Statements are annexed, showing corresponding clauses of the existing Acts (Indian and English) and the Bill in parallel columns, and explaining the abbreviated references in the margin of the Bill to the Bills of 1867 and 1882 and the Statutes.

4. The subject of registration is one of the most important and difficult of the subjects dealt with by the Bill, and it is desirable to explain the position in some detail.

5. The Statute 3 & 4 Vict., c. 56, sections 3 and 4, conferred the following powers on the Governor General of India in Council.—

(a) power to declare that ships built within the limits of the Charter of the East India Company, being owned by Her Majesty's subjects for whom the Governor General in Council has power to legislate, and belonging to British Indian ports, shall be deemed to be British ships for all purposes of trade within the said limits, including the Cape of Good Hope and the territories and dependencies thereof;

(b) power, upon such declaration being made, to make regulations—

(i) concerning the registering, licensing and ascertaining the ad-measurement of the tonnage and burden, of such ships, and

(ii) generally for the trading of such ships within the limits aforesaid, and

(c) power to make regulations for admitting to all or any of the privileges and advantages of British ships for the purposes of trade within the limits aforesaid any ships—

(iii) belonging to Native Princes or States in subordinate alliance with, or having subsidiary treaties with, the East India Company, or such regulations to provide for the granting to such ships of licenses or passes, and generally, for the trading of such ships within the limits aforesaid.

6. The power mentioned in clause (a) of paragraph 5 was exercised by the Proclamation appended to Act X of 1841; the powers mentioned in clause (b) were exercised by Act X of 1841, sections 1 to 23 and 25 to 27, and Act XI of 1850, sections 3 and 4; and the powers mentioned in clause (c) were exercised by Act X of 1841, sections 24, 25 and 27, and Act XI of 1850, sections 2 and 3, it being provided that ships of Native States, to obtain passes, should be commanded by a British subject for whom the Governor General in Council has power to legislate.

Sections 3 and 4 of the Statute 3 & 4 Vict., c. 56, were repealed by the Statute Law Revision Act, 1874, No. 2 (37 & 38 Vict., c. 96), but the savings contained in section 1 of that Act operate to continue the Indian Acts in force, and consequently the registration of ships under the Indian Acts of 1841 and 1850 continues to be lawful; but the power to re-enact the provisions of those Acts, supposing the Acts themselves to be now repealed, would appear to have been taken away.

7. Registration under Acts X of 1841 and XI of 1850 is optional, and confers the privileges of a British ship within certain limits only, viz., those mentioned in paragraph 5. Consequently, certain classes of ships (namely, those of European build,) have long been registered in British India under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854; so that registration in this country is carried on, in different cases, under both English and Indian Acts. In addition to Acts X of 1841 and XI of 1850, there is a local Act on the Indian Statute-book dealing with the registration of ships, viz, Act XIX of 1838, which makes compulsory the registration under it of "vessels belonging to any of Her Majesty's subjects residing within the Presidency of Bombay, and employed on the coasts of the territories subject to the Government of Bombay, or in trading coastwise," and "fishing vessels and harbour craft belonging to any of Her Majesty's subjects." Act XIX of 1838 does not prescribe any system for the measurement of tonnage, but it is believed that measurement is made under rules similar to those prescribed under Act XI of 1850.

8. We thus have for the registration of ships in British India (excluding Bombay Act I of 1863, as to registry of ships on the river Indus)—

(1) the English Merchant Shipping Acts,

(2) Act XIX of 1838 (Bombay Coasting Ships), and

(3) Act X of 1841, as amended by Act XI of 1850, Act V of 1883, section 38, and Act VII of 1891.

9. In consolidating the law of Merchant Shipping the important subject of registration cannot be ignored, and, indeed, the opportunity ought to be taken to secure, as far as possible, that all registration be made under one and the same law. Under these circumstances, it is desirable to repeal Act XIX of 1838 and so much of Acts X of 1841 and XI of 1850 as deals with the registration of ships, and to leave all registration in British India for the future to be conducted under the English Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, as amended by subsequent Acts, subject to certain necessary qualifications as to the measurement of native craft engaged in the coasting trade, and such special provisions as are needed for Indian requirements. The only way in which, as the law now stands, it appears possible to maintain the qualifications required for India is to proceed under the power conferred by section 547 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, and this course has been adopted in Chapter II of the present Bill.

10. While, however, repealing those portions of Acts X of 1841 and XI of 1850 which relate to registration, the portions [viz., section 24 and part of sections 25 and 27 of Act X of 1841, and section 2 and part of section 3 of Act XI of 1850] relating to the grant of passes to ships belonging to Native Princes or States or their subjects have been left untouched, as it is desirable to maintain these provisions of the law.

11. The provisions of the English Acts on the subjects of measurement, marking and registration are contained in the following Merchant Shipping Acts, namely:

17 & 18 Vict., c. 104, Part II;
18 & 19 Vict., c. 91, sections 9, 11, 12, 14 and 15;
25 & 26 Vict., c. 63, sections 3, 4 and (re-measurement of foreign ships) 60 to 64;
30 & 31 Vict., c. 124, section 9, clauses (3), (4), (5) and (7);
31 & 32 Vict., c. 129;
32 Vict, c. 11, section 6;
34 & 35 Vict., c. 110, sections 5 and 6;
35 & 36 Vict., c. 73, sections 3, 4, 13 and 15;
36 & 37 Vict., c. 85, sections 3 to 6 and 30;
39 & 40 Vict., c. 80, sections 23, 24 and 44;
43 & 44 Vict., c. 18;
45 & 46 Vict., c. 55, section 4;
50 & 51 Vict., c. 62, section 3;
52 & 53 Vict., c. 43, sections 1 to 5 and (re-measurement of foreign ships) 6; and
52 & 53 Vict., c. 73.

The amendments effected by the later Statutes may be said not to modify in any important degree the principles embodied in Part II of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854; and an examination of that Part will bring out any difficulties that may arise if the English law is applied to all ships in British India.

12. Part II of the Act applies to the whole of Her Majesty's Dominions (see section 17). As stated in paragraph 7 above, certain classes of ships are already registered in British India under the English law, and, if the provisions of the Indian Acts relating to registration are repealed, all ships in British India owned by British subjects or certain classes of bodies corporate (see section 18) will come under the operation of Part II.

13. Sections 18 and 19 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.—There appears to be nothing in section 18, which treats of the "Description and ownership of British ships," which would be inapplicable to the circumstances of British India.

Section 19 lays down in effect that all British ships exceeding fifteen tons burden must be registered. In Bombay registration is already compulsory, under Act XIX of 1838. Acts X of 1841 and XI of 1850 do not compel a ship to be registered, but she must be registered to obtain the privileges of a British ship, and in practice most sea-going ships exceeding fifteen tons burden are registered. In this respect there is no necessity for any modification of the English law.

Bill, section 10. It is, however, unnecessary that the registration of any inland ships, whether exceeding fifteen tons burden or not, should be required, and a modification of section 19, clause (2), of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, is therefore desirable. The required provisions have been inserted in section 10 of the Bill.

Bill, section 11. In regard to ships, whether sea-going or inland, of fifteen tons burden or less, the power conferred by section 6, clause (k), of the Indian Ports Act (X of 1889), to license and regulate boats plying in Indian ports, appears to be sufficient to secure such registration as is necessary.

14. Sections 20 to 29 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.—Under the existing Indian law all ships (other than coasters) registered under Act X of 1841 are now (see Act X of 1841, sections 9 and 10) measured under the English rules. It is understood that coasters are sometimes measured under those rules, but that generally the special rules made under Act XI of 1850 are applied to them. These special rules are similar to the rules which were in force in Europe before the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, was passed. They have the merit of simplicity, and they are much more suited to native coasting craft not square-rigged than are the English rules, and for these reasons they are preferred by practically all the authorities which have to administer the Merchant Shipping Acts in connection with the registration of this class of ships. The great majority of these coasters are of less than one hundred tons burden, and they seldom, if ever, exceed three hundred tons. As the old system of measurement is preferred for these ships, it is desirable that the power of applying it should be retained. It will be sufficient to confine the operation of the special rules to Native sailing craft not square-rigged, engaged in the coasting trade. The existing special rules are not applicable to steamers, and it appears to be advisable to continue measuring square-rigged ships under the English rules. The reasons which make it desirable to apply the English rules to foreign-going ships registered in British India have hardly any force in the case of native coasters. The necessary provisions have been made in section 11 of the Bill, which leaves it to the option of owners of native coasting craft to have measurement made either under the special rules or under the English rules.

Bill, section 9. If Act XIX of 1838 and those portions of Acts X of 1841 and XI of 1850 which relate to registration are repealed, such matters as registration de novo in case of alterations in ships (Act X of 1841, section 21), fraudulent use of certificate of registry (ib., section 15), endorsement on certificate of registry of change of master (ib., section 16), must be provided for. To leave the Acts on the Statute-book for such purposes as these would be pro tanto to keep up the separate system of registry which it is proposed to abolish. It is therefore proposed by section 9 of the Bill to require ships registered under the Indian Acts to be re-registered under the English Acts, without payment of fees, and to repeal antagonistic provisions in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854 (viz., section 27 and part of section 19). When these ships are so re-registered the names of any of them can, if desired, be changed under the procedure provided by section 6 of 34 & 35 Vict., c. 110, and this will meet a difficulty which has been felt under Act X of 1841.

15. There is nothing in any of the remaining sections of Part II of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or of the Acts by which it has been amended, which may not, by slight and for the most part merely verbal alterations, be made applicable to Indian ships. These alterations are proposed in the Bill. The more important of them are as follow:

(1) The Local Government has, with certain exceptions, been substituted for the Board of Trade. Bill, section 12.

(2) Section 13 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1872, and part of section 29 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, are repealed, the first mentioned provision as being inapplicable to British India, and the second as having been superseded by section 3 of 50 & 51 Vict., c. 62.

(3) Clause (5) of section 30 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, as to registrars, is now out of date. The registrar at the principal ports in India should ordinarily be the Port Officer, but power should be given to the Local Government at its discretion to appoint any other person whom it may select. At the smaller ports the registrar should be any person whom the Local Government may think fit to appoint. The necessary provisions have been inserted in section 15 of the Bill. The enactment of this section renders unnecessary the retention of section 6 of 32 Vict., c. 11, which it is accordingly proposed to repeal. Bill, section 15.

(4) While allowing the English law on the subjects of transfers, transmissions, mortgages and sale to apply in the case of Indian ships generally, it is desirable to except native coasting-ships, not square-rigged, from the operation of sections 55, 57 and 66 to 83, and this has been done by section 16 of the Bill. Owners of this class of ships are not accustomed to the rules laid down in these sections. The rules, therefore, if applied to such ships, would probably be overlooked, and hardship would then follow from the action of the Courts. Bill, section 16.

(5) The fees chargeable for measurement of tonnage under the English Acts are fixed, under section 30 of 36 & 37 Vict., c. 85, in sterling, and are, under present practice, converted into Indian money at the current rate of exchange. The continuance of this practice is undesirable, particularly with reference to native coasting-ships, for which fixed fees have hitherto been prescribed under Act X of 1841, s. 25, and Act XI of 1850, s. 4. Other fees connected with registration are also fixed, by or under the English Acts, in sterling. It is desirable that in all these cases fees should be stated in Indian money; and provisions with this object have been inserted in section 14 of the Bill. Bill, section 14.

(6) There is a custom in the Bombay Presidency of increasing the burden of a ship by means of temporary structures after the tonnage has been registered, the object being to evade payment of port-dues. To meet this evasion it is proposed by section 17 of the Bill to repeal a few words in sections 23 and 44 of 39 & 40 Vict., c. 80. Section 23 of this Statute does not, however, deal with uncovered spaces on ships which have no deck, and therefore does not sufficiently provide for the case of temporary structures erected on undecked native ships. It was principally with the object of requiring the re-measurement of ships of this class when temporary additions to their carrying capacity are made that the Government of Bombay recently proposed legislation. Clauses giving the necessary powers have been inserted in section 11 of the Bill. Bill, section 17. Bill, section 11.

(7) Section 13 of the Bill re-enacts the clauses of 30 & 31 Vict., c. 124, section 9, as to deductions from tonnage, with the object of giving complete effect to section 113 of the Bill. It is proposed by the latter section to assimilate the Indian law with the English law, so far as crew spaces for Europeans are concerned; but the English law has nothing corresponding with the Indian law on the subject of crew spaces for lascars. It is understood that, in the case of ships already registered in British India under the English law, deductions for crew space are made under the rules prescribed by that law, i.e., on the scale for Europeans. Lascars are, however, carried on these ships, and it is desirable that the provisions of section 113 of the Bill as to them should be distinctly recognised in making deductions from tonnage on account of crew space. In applying the English law to the measurement of ships registered under Act X of 1841, the corresponding provisions of the existing Indian law (Act I of 1859, section 70,) were expressly saved—see Act X of 1841, sections 9 and 10, as substituted by Act VII of 1891, section 3. Bill, section 13.

16. It might be urged against the scheme of Chapter II of the Bill that the provisions of English Statute law on the subjects of measurement, marking and registration, and the orders of the Board of Trade under them, are so scattered that it will be difficult for registrars at Indian ports to ascertain what their duties will be. This inconvenience exists at present in cases where ships are already registered in British India under the English law, although it is to some extent minimised by the periodical publication of the rules and orders of the Board of Trade in pamphlet form; and care will be taken further to reduce it as far as possible when a new edition of Mr. Pearson's Digest is taken in hand.

17. It would be preferable, if it were possible, to enact a simple law for the registration of native coasting craft not square-rigged; but the Government of India is not free to pass such a law, and must wait until Parliament consolidates the Merchant Shipping Acts with such amendments as are needed for giving it the necessary powers.

18. Throughout the Bill "Shipping Office" has been changed to "Mercantile Marine Office," and "Shipping Master" to "Superintendent of a Mercantile Marine Office." These changes follow those made in the United Kingdom by section 15 of 25 & 26 Vict., c. 63.

19. Section 31.—Important alterations have been made in this section. They have been made in order to assimilate the Indian law with the English law, as explained in the Board of Trade's "Instructions to Superintendents," No. 359*a*, dated March, 1889.

(1) All foreign-going ships are at present required to have a certificated mate. The Bill dispenses with this requirement as regards ships of less than one hundred tons burden, and provides that if a ship of one hundred tons burden or upwards has two mates each must be certificated.

(2) Home-trade ships of three hundred tons burden or less are not at present required to have a certificated master or a certificated mate. The Bill reduces this limit to one hundred tons in the case of both masters and mates where a ship does not carry passengers, and withdraws it altogether in the case of masters of ships carrying passengers. The reduction of the limit in the case of masters was urged in a recent communication from the Government of Bombay.

(3) The exemption of ships manned exclusively by Asiatic masters and seamen from the requirements of the law as to carrying certificated masters and mates, which was enacted in its existing form by Act V of 1883, section 37, has been limited to the case of ships not carrying passengers. And, as it stands in Bill [section 31, sub-section (5)], it will apply to such ships when engaged in the "home trade," as defined in section 3, clause (3), and not when "trading between ports in India and the coasts of Arabia."

20. Chapters VII to XV relate to engagements, service and discharge of seamen, and the accommodation and provision to be made for them, and contain a number of provisions for the better protection of seamen.

The amendments are mainly directed to the following objects:

(1) To extend to seamen engaged for service in foreign ships the provisions now affecting seamen in British ships.

(2) To assimilate the law as to "running agreements" and the return of sailors to their homes with the corresponding law under the English Merchant Shipping Acts.

(3) To extend the protection of British law to natives of India, and to Arabs, Africans and Asiatics not being natives of India, who are, it appears, engaged at Aden in large numbers for service in foreign ships.

(4) To extend to India various amendments made in the English law since the passing of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

(5) To provide for the proper inspection of provisions and water for the use of the crews, both European and Asiatic, of ships, both home-trade and foreign-going.

(6) To protect seamen and apprentices from imposition.

(7) It is a common practice among lascars to carry with them sea-chests of a size much greater than would be required for their personal effects, the object being to bring back on the return voyage goods for traffic. These chests block up the spaces provided for the accommodation of the crew, and prevent ventilation. Section 114 has been inserted in the Bill with a view to limiting the size of these chests. The policy of the section is open to question, and it will be reconsidered before the Bill is further proceeded with.

21. Chapters XVI to XXVII deal with discipline, the protection of seamen or apprentices when left in British India, the official log, life-saving appliances, lights and fog-signals, survey of steam-ships, unsafe ships, and ship surveyors. So far as they are not a mere reproduction of existing law, they consist, with few exceptions, of amendments intended to adapt the English law to the circumstances of India.

The only alteration of substance not based upon this principle is that the power of the Local Government to exempt ship surveyors from the operation of section 69 of Act VII of 1880 [=section 247 of the Bill] has been restricted by Chapter XXV to the case of persons who exercised their profession before the date on which that Act came into force. It is, however, open to question whether the chapter ought to be continued on the Statute-book at all. Its provisions appear to be without precedent elsewhere, and they tend to interfere with the ordinary course of shipping and insurance business 22 Part VII contains the law applicable to native passenger-ships.

A Commission was appointed in 1890 to enquire into the administration of the Native Passenger-ships Act (X of 1887). Part VII of the Bill has been framed so as—

(a) to give effect to such of the recommendations of the Commission necessitating an amendment of the Act as have been accepted by the Government of India, and

(b) to make certain amendments in the Act with a view to securing a better control over the pilgrim traffic to the Red Sea.

The principal amendments are noticed in the following paragraphs.

23. Section 279.—Every voyage—

(1) to Aden, from any other port in British India,

(2) from or to British India, to or from the Red Sea, or

(3) during which the ship calls at one or more intermediate ports and has native passengers on board for two hundred and forty hours or upwards, is declared to be a "long voyage," whether the ship is or not one hundred and twenty hours continuously out of port.

Certain classes of voyages have been defined as "shelter-port" voyages and "excursion" voyages.

24. Separate sets of regulations have been made for—

(a) voyages in general,

(b) long voyages, and

(c) short voyages, shelter-port voyages and excursion voyages, respectively.

25. Section 291.—The requirement in Act X of 1887, section 26, as to carrying a medical officer on certain voyages is extended to ships carrying more than four hundred passengers—

(1) between the Coromandel Coast and Rangoon;

(2) between Calcutta and Rangoon;

(3) between any port in the Bombay Presidency and any port not in that Presidency; or

(4) between Aden and any other port in the Bombay Presidency.

26. Part VIII deals with coast-light dues. In section 330 power has been taken to abolish coast-light dues either entirely or in respect of any class of ships. It is expedient that the Government should possess this power, to be exercised when it is found that ships are made to pay dues which derive no benefit from the lights, or when the receipts are much in excess of the expenditure.

27. Part IX contains certain miscellaneous clauses usual in Bills of this nature, mainly consisting of ancillary provisions as to rule-making, evidence, and the like. There are no alterations of the law of sufficient importance to call for separate notice.

28. Part X is a consolidation of the Indian Statute law, contained in Acts VI of 1884, III of 1890 and XIII of 1891, relating to inland steam-ships. It is considered desirable to keep the provisions as to inland steam-ships in a separate Act, rather than to embody them in an Act dealing with merchant shipping, because the law on the latter subject is liable to be affected by legislation in England, while the regulation of inland steam-ships is a matter solely within the scope of Indian legislation. But there are practical difficulties connected with procedure which have prevented this scheme from being carried out. Accordingly the law dealing with Inland steam-ships has been included in the present Bill, but it has been kept in a distinct part, so arranged that it can without difficulty, if desired, be separated from the rest of the Bill, and passed by itself as a different Act.

29. The Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884, and the Indian Steam-ships Act, 1884, were companion measures, and ran generally on similar lines; and in the present Part alterations and additions corresponding with those made in the earlier Parts of the Merchant Shipping Bill have been made with the object of maintaining this similarity. The arrangement of clauses has also been assimilated throughout.

30. Section 352, clauses (4) to (7).—The definitions of "Board of Trade certificate," "Colonial certificate," "local certificate" and "inland certificate" have been inserted to simplify the wording of Chapters XXXVIII to XL of the Bill. The first three definitions are a repetition of those contained in section 3, clauses (6) to (8), of the Bill.

31. Section 363.—This section is new. It has been inserted as a means of avoiding complicated clauses in section 364 of the Bill (=section 28 of Act VI of 1884).

32. Section 394.—Courts of Presidency Magistrates and Magistrates of the first class have been added, as in section 263 of the Bill.

33. The other alterations of the law continued in this Part follow generally those inserted in the earlier Parts of the Bill, and have been retained in order to facilitate the division of the Bill into two, should that ultimately be decided upon. If not, they can be removed before the Bill is passed.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1891-92.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS—No. 3420.

Calcutta, the 29th November 1892.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Dacca Division for the year 1891-92.

This concise Report is submitted by the Officiating Commissioner, Mr. Cooke, whose administration of the Division dates from the 22nd June 1892. The late Mr. Boxwell and the late Mr. Worsley were among his predecessors who held charge of the division at different times during the year, and the Lieutenant-Governor has already recorded the loss of these able officers, whose valuable services to the State will not soon be forgotten.

Tours.

2. The Commissioner's tour covered a period of 133 days, of which Mr. Boxwell completed 19 days, Mr. Forbes 76 days, and Mr. Worsley 38 days. The Collectors of Faridpur and Mymensingh were on tour for the full period prescribed by Government for their districts. The tour of the Collector of Dacca fell short of the standard by two days, and that of the Collector of Backergunge by 15 days. In the latter case, however, Mr. Savage explains that he was unable to finish his tour owing to an attack of inflammation of the eyes due to exposure in February while inspecting the several khas mahal improvement works. The Lieutenant-Governor is surprised to read that an officer of Mr. Hare's energy and ability should protest against the length of tour required from him, and that the Commissioner should be inclined to support him. His Honour believes that, if a Collector of Dacca distributes his tour throughout the year, he will not find that it interferes with his work at the Sadar or with his duties as a volunteer officer, but at least the manner in which that work, and those duties differ from the calls on the time of Collectors of other important districts should have been fully stated before the orders of Government were impugned, and in future, if the period of tour falls short of that prescribed, a full explanation should be submitted. All the Sub-divisional Officers in the Division observed the orders of Government. The Sub-divisional Officer of Manikganj, Mr. Palit, was out for as many as 141 days, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that his work at head-quarters was not neglected for the duties on which he was engaged during that time.

The orders regarding inspections of offices were generally carried out. The only sub-division not inspected by the Commissioner was Tangail, where the state of the office was said to render inspection useless, presumably on account of its excellence: but a perusal of His Honour's Inspection Note, dated the 11th August 1892, will show that the office is still far short of this ideal perfection. Moreover, there is an important question outstanding for decision, viz., whether the municipality should continue to exist. All sub-divisions and sub-treasuries were inspected by Collectors, but Goalundo in Faridpur, and the three sub-divisions of Backergunge were only inspected once.

Weather and crops and public health.

3. During the year under report the rainfall in every district of the Division was deficient or unevenly distributed, and the bhadoi, the winter rice, and the rabi crops all suffered in consequence. In Netrokona the outturn was below the average in consequence of unusually heavy rain during the sowing season. The effect was equally marked in the case of jute and pulses, so that the year was locally regarded as one of indifferent harvests. The unhealthiness prevalent in this division as throughout Bengal would seem to be traceable to the absence of rain and consequent deterioration of the drinking water. Fever proved by far the most fatal form of disease, and the number of deaths from this cause increased from 142,420 in 1890-91 to 160,302 in 1891-92. The total number of deaths from cholera decreased from 38,458 to 28,858, but the improvement was confined to the districts of Dacca and Faridpur. In Backergunge and Mymensingh the mortality from this cause was greater than in the previous year, and Mr. Savage's description of the epidemic in his district merits quotation:—

"The outbreak was remarkable for the sudden and unexpected manner in which it occurred in villages in all parts of the district The first report from any one village would show perhaps five or six or more persons attacked and all dead, and by the time medical aid could reach the village, the disease would have disappeared, to break out as suddenly and severely elsewhere. The severity of the outbreak in March was most probably enhanced by the extraordinary inrush of salt water into all the khals and rivers from south to north of the district in that month. The rivers as a result of the continued drought were exceptionally low during March; and some disturbance in the Bay just about the time of the spring-tide drove salt water far inland. At Barisal the river water was simply undrinkable (a circumstance which is unprecedented during living memory); and in April (this year) when I was on tour in Mendiganj thána in the north of the district, I saw the whole of the land over which the tide had flowed was encrusted with salt; a sight I have never before seen even in the extreme south of the district. In spite of all that has been done in recent years to provide good tanks in many parts of the district, the great bulk of the population is still dependent on river water for drinking purposes, and those who were forced to drink the saline water during March would no doubt suffer from diarrhœa and be exceptionally susceptible to the attacks of cholera."

The total number of deaths recorded in each district for this and the past two years is given in the following table:—

District.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.
Dacca	42,695	50,236	54,338
Faridpur	34,192	44,428	42,811
Backergunge	56,748	62,859	69,234
Mymensingh	59,219	66,870	67,774
Total ...	192,854	224,393	234,157

The Commissioner gives the death-rate for the past two years for each district as follows:—

District.	1890-91.	1891-92.
Dacca	20·7	22 4
Faridpur	24·7	23 8
Backergunge	29 1	32·1
Mymensingh	19·2	19 4

It is evident that the returns must be very imperfect, especially in Mymensingh. Registration is best in Backergunge, but in the other districts there is great room for improvement.

Material condition of the people.

4. A gradual amelioration would seem to be taking place in the material condition of the peasantry of Eastern Bengal, which has not been appreciably affected by the events of the year. The Commissioner writes that the standard of comfort has distinctly risen during the last decade, chiefly owing to the construction of the Dacca-Mymensingh Railway. The prevailing prosperity extends to the artisans, except the weavers and potters, but not to the poorer members of the middle class, who have nothing to compensate them for the high prices of food and other necessaries. Weavers are said to be taking to cultivation and potters to be badly off, because everywhere earthen vessels are being replaced by brass. On the other hand, as an indication of the general well-being, the condition of jewellers is said to be improving.

Manufactures, Trade and Commerce.

5. The only important manufactory in the Division is the steam oil-mill at Jhalukati in Backergunge, which produced 18,000 maunds of oil and 33,000 maunds of oilcake, against 17,000 maunds and 28,000 maunds, respectively, in 1890 91. The Commissioner reports that, since the close of the year, a steam oil and flour mill has been opened at Dacca by a joint-stock company promoted by some of the wealthiest native firms of Dacca. The manufacture of Dacca muslins continues, but in a declining state.

Trade suffered from the bad harvests and other untoward events of the year. The Commissioner writes as follows regarding the statistics of trade passing into and out of the Narainganj port:—

"The total trade of the Narainganj port has further decreased from Rs. 96,02,874 in 1890-91, to Rs. 73,00,346 during the year under report. The falling off was both under imports and exports, which show a decrease of Rs. 1,07,857 and Rs. 21,94,671, respectively. The decrease in imports was in articles both of Indian and of foreign produce, and in exports was confined to articles of Indian produce only. In imports, the falling off was principally in cotton, jute, kerosine-oil and timber, while in exports it was chiefly in jute, which alone is responsible for a decrease of Rs. 23,12,193. The decrease is attributed partly to the bad harvest of the year, the result of drought and low rise of rivers, and partly to the conflagration which took place in the godowns of Messrs. Ralli Brothers, which prevented that firm from exporting jute to Chittagong for some time. The trade of the port declined under all heads, excepting hides and skins, wood, treasure, grain and pulse, metals, oils and tobacco."

If statistics were available elsewhere, they would probably show the same diminution in the volume of trade. The chief rice-exporting district of the Division is Backergunge, and the Collector estimates that about 38 lakhs of maunds were exported as against 47 lakhs in 1890-91.

Statistics.

6. The statement given by the Commissioner in paragraph 62 of his report, showing the extent to which births and deaths are registered in certain municipal areas, is a sufficient proof of the necessity of the step taken when this important work was transferred to the police. The Commissioner writes:—

"Dacca, Narainganj, Faridpur and Barisal present some improvement, and as the Magistrates remark, the work there appears to have been better attended to than in the preceding year. In the remaining municipalities of the Division the registration of births and deaths would seem to have been left to take care of itself."

The Lieutenant-Governor hopes with the Commissioner that more reliable statistics will be furnished next year.

		Total ...	64½	67,080	46,674	69,215	36,489	8,050	3,26,109	11	27	1,921

The unit of cases given in column 12 of the statement is obtained by treating each title suit as equal to three ordinary suits, and each Small Cause Court suit as one-third of an ordinary suit. On this basis the average number of cases disposed of by each Munsif was 1,921. The highest figure was reached at Iswarganj, where three different Munsifs in a period of 8 months and 10 days disposed of work at a rate which brings out the immense total of 4,084 for a whole year. After them came the Munsifs of Madaripur, Bhanga, and Netrokona, who decided respectively 2,639, 2,412 and 2,438 cases apiece. All these figures seem to indicate undue pressure, and suggest the necessity of strengthening the judicial staff at these places. The least work was done by the Munsif of Naraingunj, and the averages were generally lower in the Dacca district than elsewhere. The Munsifs of Kishoreganj in Mymensingh detained 42 per cent. of their witnesses over two days, and in the courts there the ratio of cases pending at the close of the year to cases disposed of was also 42 per cent. The ratio of witnesses detained over two days to witnesses examined exceeded 10 per cent. in the Courts of the Munsifs of Dacca, Munshiganj, Kaliganj Pirojpur, Patuakhali, Bhola, Mymensingh, Jamalpur, Sherpur, and Pingna. The Munsifs of the Faridpur district are the best in this respect. After Kishoreganj and Jamalpur (43 per cent.), the highest ratio of cases pending to cases disposed of occurred in the Munsifs of Bhanga, Mymensingh, Jamalpur, Netrokona, Bajitpur, Atia, and Pingna, in all of which the ratio was 30 per cent. or more; the lowest ratio is shown by the Munsifs of Patuakhali. The ratio of cases modified or reversed on appeal to cases confirmed ranges from 53 per cent. in Faridpur to 40 per cent. in Dacca.

Crime, Police and Criminal Justice.

8. The number of cognizable cases reported increased from 13,250 cases in 1890, to 15,828 cases in 1891. The number of non-cognizable cases decreased from 17,786 cases in 1890 to 17,441 in 1891. The increase in the number of cognizable cases extends to all the districts of the division, and to all the six classes of crime. The number of rioting cases increased from 478 in 1890 to 518 in 1891, and the Commissioner writes—

"The increase is considerable, but it is worthy of note that most of these cases were neither serious nor important. The cases in Backergunge were chiefly the result of disputes about lands, which Mr. Savage thinks that 'no repressive measures will put a stop to, unless and until the whole district be brought under settlement.' The improvement noticed in last year's report in the district of Mymensingh has not been maintained, while Dacca and Faridpur have pretty nearly recovered lost ground."

There was also an unsatisfactory increase in the number of cases of dacoity and burglary, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that an earnest endeavour will be made in the present year to put down this class of crime.

The Commissioner's remarks regarding the working of the police may be quoted in extenso:—

"The improvement noticed in last year's report in the working of the police in Backergunge has not been maintained, and the Magistrate reports that there is but little that can be said in praise of their conduct. It is stated that the Inspectors worked well, but, from Sub-Inspectors downwards, the main object of the force seems to have been to do as little work and to deceive the superior officers as much as possible, and that for every one man who has deserved credit for an attempt to do his duty honestly, there have been twenty whose shifty and unsatisfactory conduct has been the subject of comment. Uneducated and badly paid, they prove indolent and untrustworthy and perform no part of their duty except under the compulsion of frequent punishments.

"In the other districts of the Division, however, their conduct is stated to have been, on the whole, fairly good. The Magistrates of Dacca and Faridpur remark with satisfaction that there have been but few accusations of malpractices against them, and none which may be regarded as seriously affecting the general character of the force.

"The working of the Town Police also was, on the whole, satisfactory, considering the harassing duties which they have to perform. The town work is very much disliked; and in Dacca, out of 53 resignations tendered during the year in the entire district, as many as 52 were from the Town Police."

Town Police.

As regards chaukidars, the Commissioner says:—

"The chaukidars of Backergunge are reported to have worked fairly well, and those in Mymensingh to have much improved in their attendance. In Dacca and Faridpur, however, they are not favourably reported on. The Magistrate of Dacca reports that the chaukidars of his district are remiss in attendance and dilatory in reporting crime, and in Faridpur they are stated to be backward and to need careful watching.

"In every district, especially in Backergunge, the men are now paid their wages more regularly than before, but there is still considerable room for improvement in this respect. The new Bill, when passed into law, will, it may be hoped, remedy the evil."

Criminal Courts.

9. The following table shows the work of the criminal courts in the Division by districts:—

Taking Stipendiary Magistrates first, 39¼ officers disposed of 16,247 cases, the average number of cases disposed of by each being 413. The Deputy Magistrate of Pirojpur in Backergunge disposed of the enormous number of 1,097 cases. Next come the Deputy Magistrates of Patuakhali in Backergunge and of Manikganj in Dacca, who disposed of 790 and 761 cases respectively. The Sub divisional Officers of Goalundo and Narainganj disposed of over 600 cases each. Some provision must be made for additional help to these officers, who are evidently overworked. The Magistrates at the sadar stations of Faridpur and Mymensingh disposed of considerably less than the average number of cases. The average number of witnesses per case was 5·18. The average reached 10 in the Court of the Stipendiary Magistrate of Netrokona, 9 in the Court at Kishoreganj, 8 in the Court at Madaripur, 7 in the Courts at the sadar station of Backergunge, and 6 in those at the sadar station of Mymensingh. The ratio of witnesses detained over two days is generally small, but over 10 per cent. were so detained in the courts of the Stipendiary Magistrates at the head-quarters station of Mymensingh. The number of police cases disposed of was 3,979, of which 508 were remanded six times or more. Ten per cent. or more of the police cases tried were so remanded in all the sadar courts of the Division, and in the Sub-divisional Courts of Munshiganj, Narainganj, Jamalpur and Kishoreganj. At Mymensingh Sadar the ratio was 29 per cent. and at Kishoreganj 22 per cent. The percentage of persons convicted to persons acquitted ranges from 81 per cent. at Dacca to 52 per cent. at Mymensingh, the average for the Division being 65 per cent. At Madaripur the ratio of cases modified or reversed on appeal, to the number appealed, was as high as 57, at Faridpur it was 54, at Dacca and Manickganj 51, and at Munshiganj 50 per cent.

Honorary Magistrates.

10. Much assistance was given in the disposal of petty cases by the Honorary Magistrates, who tried as many as 4,269 cases in the course of the year, with an average of 3·54 witnesses to each case. The Commissioner remarks that their work is as yet crude and requires much supervision, but the relief given to Stipendiary Magistrates is undeniable. The following table shows the attendance of Honorary Magistrates during 1891:—

District.	Number of times asked to attend.	Number of times actually attended.	Number of times absent.
			With leave or notice.	Without leave or notice.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Dacca ...	2,117	1,828	210	79	289

Backergunge ...	305	250	51	6	57
Mymensingh ...	2,064	1,319	119	626	745

The attendance is worst in Faridpur and Mymensingh and best in Dacca. In Backergunge the number of Honorary Magistrates is few. Honorary Magistrates who persistently refuse to attend should be called upon to resign, and the necessary action has been taken in some cases.

Sessions Trials

11. The following statement shows, by districts, the work of the Sessions Courts:—

* Includes cases pending from last year.

The lowest percentage of convictions was in Mymensingh, and the highest in Dacca and Backergunge, both of which were above 70 per cent.

Collection of Fines.

12. The following table shows the impositions, realizations, and collections of fines during the year:—

Registration.

13. The following statement shows the work done by the registration offices:—

District.	Class of Registration office.	Number of offices.	Number of documents registered.	Average per office.
1	2	3	4	5
Dacca ...	Special	1	5,083	2,640

Mymensingh ...	Special	1	6,156	3,251

The largest number of documents was registered in Backergunge, and it would perhaps add to the convenience of the people if the number of offices in that district were increased.

Collection of Government dues.

II. Temporarily-settled estates.

The total collections of land revenue amounted to 94·4 per cent. on the total demand, Rs. 34,95,801 having been collected out of a total demand of Rs. 37,01,596. Rupees 8,143 were remitted, leaving a balance of Rs. 1,97,652. This result is satisfactory as showing an improvement on that of the previous year, when only 92·9 per cent. of the total land revenue demand was collected; but the collections do not, in all instances, come up to the standard prescribed by Government. It is evident also from the table above that attempts are being made to reduce the amount of cesses outstanding at the end of the year. The largest proportion of land revenue was collected in Mymensingh, while the demand is largest in the district of Backergunge, where there are special difficulties to contend with. The Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to approve of the action which Mr. Savage proposes to take in respect to estates farmed out, and if farmers deliberately refrain from paying their dues, their leases must be cancelled and the estates sold or managed khas, but the subject should be separately submitted through the Board of Revenue.

15. The following statement shows the number of certificates filed during the year, and how they were disposed of :—

Certificate work.

There were thus 15,140 cases for disposal, of which 10,173 cases were disposed of, leaving a balance of 4,967 cases pending at the close of the year. In all cases except Backergunge the number pending increased during the year. The Commissioner says :—

"The disposals were satisfactory in Backergunge, where they considerably exceeded the number instituted during the year. In Faridpur and Mymensingh they kept pace with the institutions, while in Dacca they very much lagged behind, as shown in columns 3, 8, and 10 of the Appendix XVIII. The short outturn of work in Dacca appears, however, to have been unavoidable, as a very large number of certificates (1,442) were instituted during the last quarter of the year, against only 543 during the corresponding quarter of the preceding year. It was not possible to dispose of these within the official year."

	Dacca	Faridpur	Backergunge.	Mymensingh.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6

Number of cases pending at end of year ...	162	4	3	294	463
Number of cases pending over six months	141	3	3	256	403

The number of cases pending in Dacca and Mymensingh leaves much room for improvement, and the Collectors of those districts will be directed to use their best endeavours to reduce the arrears.

Excise.

The Commissioner remarks that the total revenue derived from this source has increased, while consumption has diminished. The consumption of country spirits is largest in Dacca, and of gánja and opium in Mymensingh. Though still the largest, the consumption of gánja in Mymensingh has diminished owing, it is said, to losses caused by the failure of the jute crop.

Education.

18. The educational statistics show a total gain of 1,524 schools and 20,846 pupils, the ground lost in 1890-91 having been more than recovered as regards the number of schools, though the number of pupils is still less than it was in 1889-90. The improvement extends to all the districts of the division, and to all classes of institutions except the high English and middle vernacular schools. The figures show a considerable advance of primary education, the ratio of the total number of pupils to the boys of school-going age being highest in Dacca and Backergunge and lowest in Mymensingh. The following table brings together the main facts concerning education:—

District.	Class of schools.	Number of schools.	Number of pupils on rolls.	Cost. Provincial.	Cost. District Board.	Cost. Municipality.	Cost. Fees.	Cost. Other.	Cost. Total.	Cost per head of pupils. The number of girls under instruction increased from 14,507 in 1890-91 to 17,961 in 1891-92, and the number of Muhammadan pupils from 112,804 in 1890-91 to 130,530 in 1891-92. The attention of the Mymensingh District Board should be called to the lowness of the position of that district in column 14 as compared with the rest of the districts in the Division.

Dispensaries.

19. The following table gives statistics concerning the dispensaries of the Division:—

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Dacca	10	106	...	10,037	17,210	27, 53	126	310·59	2·3
Faridpur	4	178	280	1,641	3,155	5 254	10 31	76·69	1
Backergunge	4	164	2,079	1,217	2,639	6,099	18 38	120	1·1
Mymensingh	15	435	871	3,372	14,311	18,989	42·60	418 06	1·8
Total ...	33	883	3,230	16,267	37,315	57,695	50·79	23·31	1·6

The ratio of out-door patients to total population is smallest in Faridpur and Backergunge, and is low in all district contrary to the ordinary rule in this Province. The number of pupils at the schools exceeds the number of out-patients at the dispensaries in every district except Mymensingh.

Local Self-Government institutions.

20. Regarding District Boards, the Commissioner says that, as in previous years, they have worked well and satisfactorily. The Commissioner insists on the necessity for the existence of a supply of good drinking water in every village, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that all District Boards will recognize that it is an important part of their duty to make provision in some way or other for this crying want. The attendance of members at District and Local Board meetings was generally fair, with some exceptions in the case of Local Boards. As regards municipalities, the Commissioner writes:—

"As reported last year, the Municipal Commissioners have, on the whole, worked smoothly and satisfactorily; there has been very little or no friction, and the interests of the public have been generally well attended to. Most of the municipalities, however, are poor bodies covering large areas, and have consequently little power to effect real improvements. In Dacca, the largest of all the municipalities in the Division, the drainage and the conservancy arrangements are defective, and the Chairman has been requested to increase the rate of assessment from 8 to 10 per cent., to employ a larger staff of mehters, and to prepare a well-considered scheme for the better drainage of the town. I trust these matters will receive due attention during the current year."

The diminution in the receipts from pounds both under District Boards and Municipalities is considerable, but the Commissioner explains that it is due to the fact that, in the two preceding years, many of the farmers sustained loss by the heavy rainfall and inundation, and did not therefore bid high at the auctions in 1891-92.

Conduct of Zamindars.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor has again noticed with great pleasure the favourable mention by the Commissioner of the names of Nawab Sir Abdul Ghani, K.C.S.I., and the Hon'ble Nawab Ahsanullah Bahadur, C.I.E., so well known throughout Bengal as liberal and enlightened landlords. Raja Rajendra Narayan Ray of Bhawal and Raja Srinath Ray of Bhagyakul in Dacca are well spoken of in the Commissioner's Report, as also Raja Sir Surendro Mohan Tagore and Babu Kali Kissen Tagore in Backergunge, and, among others, Babu Jogendra Kishore in Mymensingh, who has given a liberal donation of Rs. 30,000 towards the cost of the construction of a bridge over the Brahmaputra river at Nasirabad. But while there are many good zamindars, the relations between landlord and tenant in several districts of the Division afford sufficient cause for anxiety, and threaten to retard the development of this populous tract, rich in natural advantages of river and fertile plain, and capable of an immense extension of agricultural and commercial wealth. Backergunge in particular has long been notorious for its agrarian disturbances, which have now reached a new stage in their development. Originally the outcome of quarrels between rival zamindars, they are now due to disputes between the landlords and their raiyats, the latter having formed conspiracies to withhold payment of rent. Mr. Savage, the Collector, is reported to say of his district:—"Every one is too much engaged in watching his own familiar enemy to have time to waste on any public subject," and again he states—

"There is an indication that the general danger arising from combination among tenants against payment of rent may lead to the one good result of compelling the zamindars to unite for self-protection and cease from their hitherto interminable disputes. These combinations (jots) of raiyats are a Frankenstein created by the zamindars themselves. In their fights one with another they used, and accustomed the tenants to the use of, the jot as a powerful engine against their enemies, and now the tenants are using the engine on their own account to the dismay of the zamindars, of whom few are rich enough to carry through a long warfare in the Civil Courts as at present administered."

In another part of the Commissioner's Report, instances of such combinations on the part of the raiyats are given, and the Collector is again quoted as saying—

"The question as to how these combinations have to be dealt with is becoming a serious one. The case of Ulania has shown that the ordinary Civil Court procedure is insufficient, and numerous other instances could be cited to prove that no combination has ever been broken down by zamindars themselves, except by the use of force or bribes; and it looks as if in the course of a few years either there must be a change in the law, or the greater part of the district will have to be brought under the management of the Court of Wards under section 95 of the Tenancy Act. The present state of affairs has led many zamindars to look anxiously for some help from the law, and many are watching closely the proceedings for survey and settlement in Dakhin Shabazpur estate and in the Ulania taluks."

"In the latter case especially is the result a subject of keen interest, as it will show whether a survey and settlement without management by the Court of Wards will give landlords the power, with the law as it stands at present, to realize rents really due. The position of the great majority of zamindars in this district is such that they would be well content if they could be certain of realizing fair rents; and I have good reason for believing that if the hope held out by the Lieutenant-Governor in a recent speech, that there will be brought into force some summary procedure for realization of rent in estates in which survey and record of rights have been completed under the Tenancy Act, is realized, application for survey and record of rights in a great part of this district will at once be made."

In Dacca the relations between landlord and raiyat are better, but in Faridpur and Mymensingh they are again far from reassuring. Though these districts are now in a state of apparent tranquillity, the entire absence of cordiality between the owners and cultivators of the soil may lead to difficulties in the future. The Commissioner writes of Faridpur:—

"In Faridpur the relations have not been strained during the year under report, though they can hardly be said to be satisfactory when most of the big zamindars are non-resident and leave the management of their estates to ill-paid and unscrupulous amla, whose object is seldom to secure the interest of their employers or of the raiyats. The Collector writes that it is only when a chance of obtaining possession of a new char presents itself that the relations are in any way cordial, and this state of things lasts just as long as the one can be useful to the other."

And again of Mymensingh:—

"In Mymensingh the relations are, with few exceptions, neither good nor cordial, but quiet. The Collector states that 'there has been no general combination of raiyats, nor any serious manifestation of ill-feeling. But from what I have heard and seen, I should not be surprised to see such manifestation at any moment. Education is extremely backward, and the raiyats have not yet arrived at the stage of combination. One or two village Hampdens have been warred down at enormous cost, and as a consequence the rest are quiet. But it is not the quiet of contentment; it rather resembles the stillness before a storm. I have during the cold weather seen indications that the Muhammadan cultivators will turn on their oppressors if pushed too far. There have been many forcible and illegal attempts to get enhanced rent, and there have been numerous illegal evictions. The way it is done is generally to lease a part of the old tenant's homestead to a new tenant, who goes and erects a house thereon. Sometimes the means are more daring, and a raiyat's house is visited at night by a band of lathials with a view to intimidate him and compel him to abandon his holding.'"

22. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in recognizing the activity displayed by Mr. Forbes during the seven months that he held charge of the division, and the good work done by Messrs. Hare, Jenkins, Savage, and Phillips in their respective districts. The remarks of the Commissioner will be forwarded to the Appointment Department as usual, and extracts will be furnished, according to standing orders, to all officers whose work has been the subject of unfavourable comment.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The normal mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station. rainfall district, i.e. from total rainfall at the subdivisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one of

for the week ending Saturday, the 26th of November 1892.

Explanation.—.. indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 29th November 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 26TH OF NOVEMBER 1892.

THE changes of meteorological conditions during the past week call for little comment. For the previous two weeks the north-east moonsoon or cold season conditions which have prevailed over the province have been decidedly more pronounced than is usual so early in the season, and for the greater part of the present week similar conditions have obtained, while the changes from day to day have on the whole been rather small.

On the 20th, or the first day of the present week, a slight fall of pressure took place, which was largest in the north and east of the province, and pressure became generally slightly in defect of the normal. A steady northerly and north-westerly air current also prevailed over the whole province. The alterations of temperature since the previous day were small and rather variable, and while the night temperatures recorded were on the whole a little lower than usual, on the other hand the day or maximum temperatures were in slight excess, so that the mean temperature was nearly normal for the day. On the 21st a further rather more decided fall of pressure took place, and it became very distinctly in defect of the normal, while the temperature changes were very variable On the 22nd the fall of pressure had continued, and pressure became below the normal by amounts ranging generally up to about a tenth of an inch, and in the north of the province to 0·13″. A steady north-westerly wind continued, however, to blow at almost all stations, and temperature on this day began to fall distinctly, and minimum temperatures were again in considerable defect at many stations. On the 23rd the barometer had commenced to rise slowly, but it was still largely in defect, and the fall of temperature continued at the great majority of stations, while the minimum temperatures at such stations as Saugor Island, Calcutta, Cuttack, False Point, &c., were from 5° to 6° below the normal of the day. Winds were also a little more variable than they had been, and in many cases they were very light. On the 24th the increase of pressure which had commenced on the previous day continued more rapidly, the increase at some stations exceeding 0·08″, and the distribution of pressure became decidedly more normal than it had been. Temperature, on the other hand, rose rather rapidly in most districts, and became above the normal over the western half of the province, though it was still below it over the eastern half. Winds also became more normal and steadier than they were on the previous day. On the 25th the increase of pressure continued by small amounts, though pressure was still in defect by amounts averaging about 0·03″. The excess in the mean temperature in the western districts had to a considerable extent disappeared, and the general temperature of the province was in slight defect of the normal. A further slight increase of pressure was registered on the 26th, but still a slight defect existed over the province, and the excess temperature at the western stations had practically entirely disappeared, and temperature was about 2° to 3° in defect of the normal. Steady north-westerly winds also continued to blow over the province at this time. Fine clear weather, moderately low temperature and humidity, and a complete absence of rain have therefore prevailed throughout the whole week.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been in defect of the normal in all districts. The defect has been generally largest in the north of the province, where it has equalled from 0·05″ to 0·06″, and smallest in Orissa, where it has been about 0·02.″

Temperature.—The mean temperature of the province for the week has been 0·8° in defect of the normal, but the distribution has been unequal, and while Orissa and South-West Bengal shew defects of about 2°, temperature, on the other hand, has been fairly normal in Bihar and North Bengal. The distribution of temperature in the province for the week and its variation from the normal value are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with their normal values for the same period. From the figures in the table it will be seen that the principal variations have been in the night or minimum temperatures and in the south-western districts, where in such cases as Cuttack and Calcutta the minimum has been nearly five degrees below the normal :—

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1891-92, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
T. INGLIS, Secretary.

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 204Financial, dated 20th October 1892, and enclosure.

ORDERED, that this Despatch and enclosure be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

INDIA OFFICE,

FINANCIAL,

No. 204.

To His Excellency the Most Honourable the Governor-General of India in Council

MY LORD MARQUIS,

Monthly payment of absentee allowances and pensions of Civil, Military, and other officers.

It was recently decided that the practice of making monthly, instead of quarterly, payments of the furlough pay and pensions of Civil and Military officers, and members of the Ecclesiastical, Marine, and Pilot establishments, should be adopted generally at the Home Treasury; and arrangements have now been made to carry out that decision.

2. I enclose a memorandum* by the Accountant-General at this Office, showing the details of the arrangements in question; and I request that you will take the necessary measures for making the change of system generally known.

* Dated 22nd September 1892.

I have the honour to be,

MY LORD MARQUIS,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble servant,

KIMBERLEY.

Memorandum by the Accountant-General, India Office, dated 22nd September 1892.

I HAVE to request that you will be good enough to inform the authorities in India that the furlough pay and pensions of all Civil and Military officers, and of members of the Ecclesiastical, Marine, and Pilot establishments, will henceforth be issued at the Home Treasury, monthly in arrear.

The quarterly dates to which Military (including that of military officers in civil employ), Medical (including annuities), Ecclesiastical, and Marine pay, pension, etc., will be made up, will, for the future, be 15th February, 15th May, 15th August, and 15th November; whilst the quarterly dates to which civil pay, annuities, and pensions will be made up will be 15th January, 15th April, 15th July, and 15th October, respectively. Payment will in each case be made on or after the day following.

Advances (omitting shillings and pence) of one-third, approximately of the net quarterly amount will be payable on the 16th of the 1st and second month of each quarter, and the balance of the three months, less income-tax and other deductions (if any) on the quarterly dates on which the pay will in future be payable as specified above.

THOS. W. KEITH,
Accountant-General.

Information has been received that Heath rocks which dry at low water extend about 100 yards north, 200 yards east, and 30 yards south, of the beacon erected on them in approximately lat. 13° 28′ 15″ S., long. 143° 39′ 50″ E.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1891-92.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT

READ—

The reports from the several Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1891-92.

Read also—

The Resolution reviewing the Divisional Reports on the working of District Boards in Bengal during 1890-91.

The date fixed for the submission to Government of the District Board Reports is the 31st July. All the reports were received on or about the prescribed date, with the exception of that from the Patna Division, which did not reach the Lieutenant-Governor till the 3rd September 1892. Supplementary reports were subsequently received from the Commissioners of Patna and Burdwan. It is understood that some delay was caused by the issue, so late as the 5th of May, of Government orders giving additional instructions for the preparation of the district reports, some of which were then in an advanced stage. The Lieutenant-Governor will therefore only say that he expects next year to receive all reports without exception by the due date

2. The year under review was the sixth in which the Bengal Local Self-Government Act III of 1885 was in operation. There was no change in the constitution of District or Local Boards. As in previous years, there were 38 District and 106 Local Boards, the area under their jurisdiction being 110,043 square miles, with a population according to the last census of 61,787,908. All the District Boards were presided over by an official Chairman, who is the Magistrate of the district.

3. Constitution of District Boards.—The 38 District Boards in Bengal at the close of 1891-92 contained 790 members, including the Chairmen. Of the total number of members, 168 held their seats ex-officio, 313 were nominated by Government, and 309 were elected by Local Boards. The number of Europeans and Eurasians was 197, and of natives of the country 593. These figures give the following percentages as compared with those for 1890 91:—Ex-officio members 21·26, as against 23·45; nominated members 39·6, as compared with 35·81; representative members elected by Local Boards 39·1 to 40·73; and Europeans and Eurasians 24·93 to 25·22. The balance of power in the Boards has therefore practically remained unchanged.

4. The total number of meetings held by the District Boards was 512, the average number for each District Board being 13·4 against 12·6 last year. The largest number of meetings (24) was held by the Saran District Board; the Dinajpur and Pabna District Boards come next with 19 meetings each; while Darbhanga and Puri show 18 meetings each. The Boards which met least often were Jalpaiguri and Rajshahi, showing 8 and 9 meetings, respectively. In the following districts also the number of meetings held fell short of the prescribed number of at least one a month:—

Birbhum	... 11	Nadia	... 10	Shahabad	... 11
Hooghly	... 10	Tippera	... 10	Muzaffarpur	... 11
Rangpur	... 11	Patna	... 10	Malda	... 11

The decline in the aggregate number of meetings in Jalpaiguri and Rajshahi is attributed to the fact that most of the non-official members live in the mufassal at some distance from the sadar station, and consequently cannot always conveniently attend the meetings of the Board. The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to accept this as a satisfactory explanation, and he notices that in 1890-91 also these two districts were at the bottom of the list, the excuse in Jalpaiguri on that occasion being a different one. In Birbhum six meetings had to be adjourned for want of a quorum, the same difficulty occurring once in Rangpur and twice in Muzaffarpur. The Tippera District Board held no meetings in October or January, as there was no business to transact. This, the Commissioner remarks, coincides with the fact that of the three District Boards in his Division that of Tippera has by far the most of its business done for it by the Magistrate. In Malda no meeting was held during the month of July for the same reason. In the case of the other districts no explanation has been offered why so few meetings took place. The District Boards of Hooghly, Nadia, and Muzaffarpur were also unfavourably noticed in the Resolutions for the two previous years. The Lieutenant-Governor approves the action of those Commissioners who have again drawn the attention of the Boards to the views of Government on this subject expressed in the Resolutions for 1888-89 and 1889-90, and he finds it difficult to understand how there can be no work for a District Board to do for more than a month at a stretch. Under the rules passed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 138 of the Act, and by the Boards under section 32, there are several matters which cannot be disposed of except by the Board at a meeting, and others in which the action of the Chairman requires the confirmation of the Board, and it seems to Sir Charles Elliott undesirable that business of this kind, which is presumably of more than ordinary importance, should be allowed to remain in abeyance for more than a month.

5. Taking all the Boards together, the average attendance of members at each meeting was 9·61, against 9·68 in 1890-91. It was best in the following districts, where it amounted to or exceeded one-half of the total number of members:—

Bankura,	Bogra,
Birbhum,	Pabna,
Midnapore,	Backerganj,
Howrah,	Tippera,
24-Parganas,	Noakhali,

Chittagong,

and bad in Murshidabad, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Cuttack, and Puri. In Jalpaiguri it was below one-third of the actual strength of the Board. No adequate reasons have been assigned for the small attendance in these districts. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept local apathy, bad roads, and foul weather as sufficient explanations for repeated absence. District Boards cannot afford to lose the information and advice on local questions, which the attendance of mufassal members provides; and it is hoped that these gentlemen, whose convenience should always be consulted in fixing the date of meetings, will be more regular in their attendance during the current year.

6. Constitution of Local Boards.—The constitution of the Local Boards and the attendance of members are shown in Form 1 (b) of the Appendix. There were 1,248 members, inclusive of the Chairmen, in the 106 Local Boards in Bengal. Of these 40 held their seats ex-officio, 739 were nominated by Government, and 469 were elected members. The number of official members was 154, and of non-officials 1,094. There were only 105 European and Eurasian members in the Local Boards, the rest being natives of India.

7. The total number of meetings held by the Local Boards was 961, against 882 in 1890-91, being an average of nine meetings for each Local Board. The Local Boards noted in the margin held more than one meeting a month, while as many as eighty-six Boards failed to meet once a month. The Local Boards which met least often were Alipore which held three, and Barrackpore, Bagirhat, Dacca, Gopalganj, Kishenganj, and Puri, which held four meetings each. The average attendance at the meetings of Local Boards was 5·15 against 5·41 in 1890-91. Various reasons, none of which taken alone appear to have much weight, have been assigned for the fewness of the meetings of these Boards and the small attendance at them. On this subject Mr. Earle, Magistrate of Jessore, writes as follows:—

"The inadequate attendance at the Local Boards is said to be due to the fact that no travelling allowance can be allowed to the members in respect of their attendance. In this connection it is also urged that if members were allowed such an allowance for inspecting ferries, pounds, &c., when requested to do so, much useful work might be obtained from them. I regret that I have not had sufficient experience in these matters to be able to give an opinion as to how far the granting of travelling allowance would afford a remedy, but I fear that a want of public spirit is the real cause of the evil."

On this the Commissioner very properly remarks that—

"The essence of Local Self-Government is that private gentlemen should give their services to the public gratuitously, and if they decline to work unless paid for it public spirit must be at a low ebb."

In connection with a somewhat similar explanation offered by the Chairman of the Gopalganj Local Board in Saran, the Commissioner of Patna remarks:—

"I do not attach any importance to this excuse. The cost of attending is very small, and it is idle to say that it stands in the way of the members, who are comparatively well-to-do persons, being present."

The Lieutenant-Governor, however, is disposed to think that the true explanation is to be found in the small powers given to the Boards, and the paucity of work with which they have to deal, and he does not therefore attach as much importance to the infrequency of meetings and the poverty of the attendance in the case of Local Boards as in that of District Boards: for the latter there must almost always be sufficient business to lay before a monthly meeting, while in the former, the little work there is to be done is usually disposed of by the Chairman, and the functions of the Board are limited to advice or confirmation which can usually, without disadvantage, be accorded at longer intervals.

Of the entire number of members (790) in District Boards, 31·5 per cent. were Government servants; 28·9 were zamindars and talukdars; 22·6 were pleaders and mukhtears. Of the total number of members (1,248) of Local Boards, 47·7 were zamindars, talukdars, or zamindars' servants, 23·8 were pleaders and mukhtears, and 12·5 Government servants. In the District Boards Government servants furnish the largest proportion owing greatly to the number of official Chairmen. In the Local Boards the landed interest is most largely represented, and the percentage of Government servants is very small. The proportions in each case are virtually the same as in 1890-91.

9. Powers of Local Boards.—There has been little change in the powers delegated to Local Boards, but these powers vary a good deal in different districts. They continue in almost every district to administer the grants for village roads and to control pounds; in seventeen districts they are invested with powers over primary education, and in twelve with the control of ferries: in eight districts they undertake the maintenance of unmetalled minor district roads, and in five their connection with education is extended to middle schools. In Bhagalpur all the dispensaries are under their charge, while in Jessore, Backergunge, Purnea and Balasore, this control is only partial. In Pabna, Faridpur, Mymensingh, Monghyr, and Cuttack, the construction and maintenance of tanks and wells is part of the duties of the Local Boards, and in Faridpur, Patna, and Shahabad their powers extend to the control of sanitation and the relief of the sick.

10. With regard to the powers which are or should be given to Local Boards, and the manner in which they exercise them, the following remarks are of interest. In Burdwan, the Commissioner's general conclusion is that "Local Boards, when entrusted with work in which the members take an interest, and where they have an executive in good order, as in educational matters, show creditable results, but they fail when given anything to do requiring organisation and supervision."

Mr. Beames, Commissioner of the Presidency Division, makes the following remarks:—

"The local officers are not generally satisfied with the manner in which the Local Boards have worked. They all think, with the exception of the Magistrate of Khulna, that the Local Boards take very little interest in the duties entrusted to them, that they lack method and business habits, and that they require constant and close supervision. To remedy these defects, the Magistrates of the 24-Parganas, Nadia and Jessore recommend official Chairmen in all cases. The Magistrate of Murshidabad thinks that the Boards are of little practical use, while the Magistrate of Khulna is of opinion that they have no comprehensive knowledge of the entire area placed under their charge. Probably the petty nature of the charge devolving upon Local Boards has a good deal to do with their want of zeal: much is also due to their want of experience. It seems also that Local Boards have been too freely created: it would be better if they were only constituted in those places where there was a real necessity for their existence. In small districts the whole of the work could be perfectly well done by the District Board, and there is no necessity for having Local Boards at all. It is only introducing an elaborate machinery for doing that which could be better done without it."

In Mymensingh the Chairman would only leave to Local Boards the control of education, water-supply, and village roads.

Mr. Forbes, the Commissioner of the Patna Division, writes:—

"As regards the question of distribution of works between District and Local Boards, I think that the tendency in some places has been to push the principle of decentralization much too far. The functions of Local Boards should properly be regarded as consultative rather than executive. The local members are not as a rule persons of business habits, or possessed of sufficient technical experience in matters of education for example, or of engineering, sanitation, and so on, to be usefully entrusted with administrative duties other than those of the most simple kind. Local Boards can, if they choose, be most useful in bringing to the notice of the District Board different matters requiring attention, and in advising them on many subjects both of general and especially of local importance or interest; but to this, as a general rule, their functions should be limited. The actual carrying out of works and the administration of the funds must remain in the hands of the District Board, who have the advantage of having an efficient engineering staff and a trained accounts establishment at their disposal, besides that of being assisted by selected sub-committees in special charge of the different departments under the Board's control. I think that it is quite sufficient, as a general rule, that Local Boards should be entrusted with the charge of village roads, and, where the services of a properly qualified overseer can be placed at their disposal, with a responsible official Chairman to look after him, with that of a few other of the less important unmetalled roads, and with the management of pounds. Even in these minor matters their administration is often uneven, feeble, and wasteful."

Mr. Quinn, Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division, is not in favour of the administration of primary education by Local Boards. In his opinion, the interest of the members is confined to English education, and "elementary education should be under the control of the District Board, the Local Boards being treated as consultative and not administrative bodies in this respect."

Mr Allen, Chairman of the Puri District Board, makes the following remarks:—

"I remarked last year that Local Boards should meet more frequently in order to discuss local requirements and prepare schemes for the consideration of the District Board, instead of leaving the whole initiative with the Chairman of the District Board; but I regret to say my remarks have been unheeded. The Sadar Local Board has done nothing in this direction. After the cyclone in November, which caused great damage to trees and houses, and to the crops adjacent to the estuary of the Devi river, cries of distress arose from all parts of the Sadar sub-division, but it never occurred to the Local Board that it was their duty to do or suggest anything in this crisis. As it was in the days before Local Boards had been created, all the information was collected by officials, and the Collector was left to visit the tracts alleged to be affected, and to decide when, where and how relief was to be afforded, unaided by the members of the Local Board individually or collectively."

11. The circumstances of the various districts in the Lower Provinces differ so greatly that the Lieutenant-Governor is not disposed to lay down any definite rule: it will be sufficient to say that only those duties should be entrusted to Local Boards which they can discharge with greater efficiency than the District Board at head-quarters. The maintenance of village roads falls within this category if the Local Board has a competent overseer or sub-overseer; so also does the control of pounds; but it appears from the Report on Public Instruction for the year just past that in the Director's opinion the educational duties of Local Boards have been discharged with varying success. The administration of primary education and the control of ferries and dispensaries are matters of too great importance to be exposed, save in exceptional cases, to the risk of uneven handling, while to entrust Local Boards with the maintenance of district roads seems to invite all the disadvantages of a dual control. Whatever may be said of primary education, the Lieutenant-Governor feels no doubt that Local Boards should have no concern with secondary education. Sir Charles Elliott will be glad if the District Boards will consider carefully the foregoing observations, and revise, if necessary, the powers given to Local Boards.

The year 1891-92 opened with a balance of Rs. 16,71,495, and the total amount available for expenditure was Rs. 78,84,819 against Rs. 78,01,109 in the previous year. The closing balance was Rs. 15,93,162.

INCOME.

13. Land Revenue.—The income under this head remained nearly unchanged as compared with that of the previous year. Of the total income Rs. 12,444 represent canal tolls in Chittagong, and Rs. 8,290 the sale proceeds of trees and grass, &c. The fees received for collecting road cess arrears were Rs. 12,551, and other fees, fines, and forfeitures amounted to Rs. 544.

14. Provincial rates.—The receipts under this head increased from Rs. 33,38,524 to Rs. 35,10,235, chiefly owing to the better collection of road cess during the year under report: it appears from the Resolution on the Board's Cess Report that the percentage of the current demand collected in 1891-92 was 83·3 as against 81·8 in 1890-91. The increase is noticeable in every division, with the exception of Burdwan, where there was a decrease of Rs. 10,907. The increase was highest in the Patna Division (Rs. 1,01,844), and is attributed to improved collections generally and to the complete revaluation in Muzaffarpur. Dacca comes next with an increase of Rs. 29,506, followed by the Presidency and Bhagalpur Divisions with about Rs. 14,000 each, while Rajshahi and Orissa contribute about Rs. 10,000 each, and Chittagong a little over Rs. 3,000.

15. Pounds.—The receipts under this head amounted to Rs. 4,72,187 against Rs. 4,43,775 in the previous year, showing a net increase of Rs. 28,412. The increase was distributed among the divisions named in the margin, Dacca alone showing a decrease amounting to Rs. 3,461. The Commissioner of that Division explains the decrease as being due to the losses of farmers in previous years and to more strict supervision.

16. A prominent feature of the year's administration has been the appointment or retention in nine districts of Inspectors of pounds, sometimes for this duty alone, and sometimes for the inspection of ferries also. This measure was adopted simultaneously in districts so widely differing as Tippera and Champaran, Rajshahi and Cuttack, and since the close of the year it is believed to have been extended to Jessore, Dinajpur, Shahabad and Saran.

17. The acquisition of sites for pounds is a question which has come into prominence during the year. So long as pounds were managed by the police, they were situate on ground the property of Government in close proximity to police-stations and outposts, but now that this tie has been severed, and the farming system considerably developed, the difficulty of obtaining sites is often a real one, and the farmer has sometimes, after taking the lease of the pound, to pay heavily for a place to establish it. It may be necessary in future for the District Board to acquire sites for pounds, and perhaps to erect and maintain the buildings themselves.

18. The Government of India having suggested that the system of farming out cattle-pounds was in some respects open to objection, the question of the continuance of this practice was carefully considered in consultation with district and divisional officers, who reported on the matter at great length. The Lieutenant-Governor's conclusion, in reviewing the whole subject, was that the increase in the number of pounds effected in recent years had been very advantageous to the people; that such increase was only possible under the farming system; that the system of direct management could only be properly worked at thánas, sub-divisional head-quarters, &c., under the eye of officials, and could not properly be applied to outlying villages, where constant supervision over the pound-keeper is impracticable; that there is no reason to insist upon direct management being introduced even at head-quarters of thánas, inasmuch as all the charges brought against the farming system are equally applicable to the direct system so long as it is possible for the paid pound-keeper to embezzle the receipts and not to enter them in his books; and that the attempt now to go back to the system of direct management would inflict on the revenues of the District Boards a heavy loss. These views having been laid before the Government of India, they have agreed to leave the matter to the discretion of the Lieutenant-Governor, who is about to issue orders providing for the better inspection of pounds, and for the introduction of revised forms and registers, measures which will, it is hoped, while interfering as little as possible with the farmers, provide effectually against the abuses alleged to be inherent in the farming system.

19. Education.—The total income from this source was Rs. 37,803 against Rs. 33,496 in 1890-91. The increase occurred in all the Divisions except those of the Presidency and Orissa. The increase was highest in the Rajshahi Division, being Rs. 1,950, of which the district of Rangpur alone contributed Rs. 1,107, representing donations from Raja Gobinda Lal Rai Bahadur towards the maintenance of the technical school throughout the year, as well as schooling fees realised from the students of the same school. In the Orissa Division the decrease in the district of Cuttack is attributed to the cyclone of November last, which led to the closing for some time of several schools managed by the Board.

20. Medical.—The receipts under this head were Rs. 10,006 as compared with Rs. 7,035 in 1891-92, showing an advance of Rs. 2,971 chiefly due to an increase in private contributions (Rs. 2,661) during the year.

21. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The receipts under this head, which increased from Rs. 1,425 to Rs. 3,123, have not been noticed in their reports by any of the Commissioners except the Commissioner of Dacca. In Dacca the sum of Rs. 470 represents the amount realized from the zamindars of the Kartick Baroni Fair on account of conservancy arrangements.

22. Miscellaneous.—The receipts were Rs. 1,55,633 against Rs. 1,31,538 in the previous year. The slight falling off in the receipts from "Staging bungalow" and "Serai" fees was, especially in districts where revaluation proceedings were in progress, more than covered by a considerable increase under "Miscellaneous," including fees, fines, and forfeitures. There was also an increase on account of sale proceeds of old stores and materials, and a considerable sum was realised in Cuttack by the sale of trees uprooted by the cyclone of November 1891.

23. Civil Works.—The total receipts were Rs. 4,18,759 against Rs. 3,73,379. The receipts from tolls and ferries, which are the main source of income under this head, were Rs. 3,75,664 as compared with Rs. 3,38,558, showing an increase of Rs. 37,106. The increase was shared by all the Divisions: and was highest in the marginally noted districts. In Jalpaiguri the large increase is attributed to the adjustment of outstanding balances of deposits received from the ferry farmers. In Burdwan, Champaran and Howrah the advance is due to better collections of the gross demand, while a better settlement accounts for the increase in Monghyr and Malda. In Patna, Mymensingh and Tippera there was an increase in the number of public ferries. In Cuttack the advance is attributed to a contribution received on account of municipal ferries.

24. Since the year when the ferries were divided between Government and the District Boards, the revenue credited to Local Funds has risen from Rs. 2,96,076 to Rs. 3,75,664, thus fully justifying the assertion so often made by Government, that the ferry revenue was an improveable one. But the Lieutenant-Governor is not yet satisfied that it has been developed to its furthest extent; he inclines to the belief that in some districts there still remain ferries which it would be to the public advantage for the District Boards to administer, and it is notorious that in many districts the collection of rents from the farmers is a matter of great difficulty and delay. It should everywhere be considered whether the conditions of the lease should not provide for the payment of a quarter's rent in advance, as well as the deposit of an equal amount as security, and also whether leases for a longer period than one year should not be given to farmers of proved solvency. Lastly, defaulters should not be treated with unnecessary leniency, as appears to have been the case in the 24-Parganas.

25. Contributions.—The income from this source was Rs. 8,01,509 against Rs. 8,13,129, being a decrease of Rs. 11,620.

26. Debt.—The total receipts under this head, which includes deposits made by farmers of pounds and ferries, and contractors, and the recovery of advances, rose from Rs. 6,91,111 to Rs. 7,69,377 in 1891-92.

27. Loans.—Only one new loan was granted, and the disbursement of two loans previously sanctioned were completed during the year. The Dinajpur District Board drew the second instalment, Rs. 40,000, of the loan of two lakhs referred to in the Resolution for 1890 91. The Patna District Board also drew the second or last instalment of the loan of Rs. 80,000 for the construction of bridges on the roads between Bakhtiarpur and Bihár, and between Masourhi and Pabhera. A loan of Rs. 50,000 was granted to the District Board of Saran to enable them to meet the heavy and unexpected expenditure which they were obliged to incur in consequence of the damage done to the roads of the district by the floods of August 1890.

EXPENDITURE.

28. Administration.—The expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 2,82,895 against Rs. 2,65,885 in 1890-91, showing an advance of Rs. 17,010, and a ratio of 5·2 per cent. on the ordinary income of the Boards. Excepting the Presidency and Orissa Divisions, all the Divisions show an increase, which was greatest in Patna and Chittagong. In the Patna Division the advance is attributed chiefly to the annual increments granted to District Boards' employés, to an increase in the cost of audit and treasury establishments, to heavier charges for the travelling expenses of members of District Boards, and in Darbhanga to an increase of Rs. 100 per mensem in the pay of the Secretary, and Rs. 300 granted as arrear pay for part of the previous year. The increase in Chittagong is due to a large sum advanced for law charges in a suit brought against the District Board by the contractor for the construction of their office building: the case is still pending. The increase in the other Divisions calls for no remarks, being mainly due to the increased pay of office establishment.

29. Pension and Provident Fund Rules.—The establishment of Provident Funds, which was recommended to District Boards by the orders of Government, dated the 12th January 1891, has been very generally carried out during the year, though the Lieutenant-Governor would have liked to see even greater progress. During 1890-91, three District Boards, viz., those of Patna, Muzaffarpur and Monghyr, adopted the Provident Fund scheme, and secured the approval of Government to their rules. Their example was followed during 1891-92 by the Boards of Burdwan, Howrah, Nadia, Murshidabad, 24-Parganas, Dacca, Faridpur, Backergunge, Gya, Shahabad, Darbhanga, Saran and Purnea. In several other districts the rules have been sanctioned since the close of the year, and in others matters are in train for the adoption of the system. Provident funds have been actually established and are in working order only in Patna, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Purnea and Malda. The adoption of Pension Rules has been delayed in a still greater degree, only ten districts having accepted them up to the 31st March 1892. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that before the close of the current year, Pension and Provident Funds may be established in all districts where it has been decided to introduce them, and that those Boards which at present stand aloof may see their way to following the general lead.

30. Pounds.—The charges under this head amounted to Rs. 33,874 as compared with Rs. 29,618 in the previous year. The small increase (Rs. 4,256) is mainly due to the construction of new pound buildings in certain districts and to the appointment of pound inspectors.

31. Education.—The total expenditure incurred by the District Boards on education was Rs. 11,05,375 against Rs 10,01,855 in 1890-91, showing an increase of Rs. 1,03,520. The following table shows, in a comprehensive form, for each District Board in Bengal, its total ordinary income during 1891-92, the actual expenditure, first, on primary education only, and secondly, on education generally, and the ratio per cent. which each bears to the income of the Board. The ordinary income has been calculated by deducting from the total income as shown in column 73 of Form No. II, all contributions from Government for special purposes, all contributions from other District Boards, and the figures under Debt in column 72 of the Form, the remainder being taken as the regular ordinary income of each District Board for the year :—

32. Taking the province as a whole, it appears that one-fifth of the Board's income was expended on education, and that about half of this amount was devoted to primary schools, but the correctness of the latter figure is open to much doubt, as some of the expenditure on these schools has evidently been shown under "Grants-in-aid." It is impossible therefore to say with certainty how much has been expended in each district on primary education. But the figures given in paragraph 17 of the Resolution on the Education Report for 1891-92, show sufficiently how the case stands. While throughout the province 30 per cent. of the boys of a school-going age are being taught at primary schools, this ratio is exceeded in the Presidency, Burdwan, Dacca, Chittagong and Orissa Divisions, while the rest of the Province falls below it, the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions, with ratios of 13 and 13·5 per cent., being the lowest of all. The Shahabad, Darbhanga, Muzaffarpur, and Purnea districts have actually less than 10 per cent. of these boys at primary schools. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that a sharp remonstrance be sent by Commissioners to these District Boards, pointing out the necessity of doing more for the spread of education among the people.

33. The general average expenditure on education which is 20·5 per cent. on ordinary income would have been very much higher but for the small figures of the districts in the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions: for, with the exception of the 24-Parganas, Jalpaiguri, Mymensingh, and Chittagong, every district outside the two divisions named exceeded the provincial average, the highest figures being so large as 42·4 in Balasore, 35·8 in Pabna, 35·5 in Howrah, 34·4 in Bankura, and 34·1 in Dacca, while Midnapore, Hooghly, Khulna, Nadia, Jessore and Cuttack all have percentages of 30 or more. On the other hand, the districts of Gaya, Shahabad, Darbhanga, Muzaffarpur, and Jalpaiguri have spent less than 10 per cent. of their ordinary income on education. Sir Charles Elliott trusts that the report for next year will show a more liberal expenditure on this object, and a larger sense of what the District Boards are bound to do for the intellectual improvement of the population.

34. Action was taken for the first time under section 64 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act III of 1885, providing for the transfer of high English schools under public management to local bodies. By a notification, dated the 13th November 1891, the maintenance and management of the high English school at Monghyr were entrusted to a joint-committee, consisting of ten members, five delegated by the District Board of Monghyr, and five by the Commissioners of the Municipality. The cost of maintenance is to be paid by the Municipal Commissioners and the District Board, respectively, in the proportion of four to five.

35. Technical or Industrial Schools.—In Midnapore the Mysadal Raja's technical school was transferred to the management of the District Board during the year. The Board contributed Rs. 50 towards its maintenance, in addition to the monthly grant of Rs. 50 from Government. A passed student of the Sibpur Engineering College is the head-master of the institution, and the number of students on the roll increased from 21 to 49 under the Board's management. Towards the close of the year the Howrah District Board founded two scholarships of Rs. 8 a month each, tenable for two years, at the Sibpur Engineering College. The sum of Rs. 16 only was paid during the year. On the 31st March 1892 the number of students in the technical school at Rangpur was 60 against 71 in the previous year, but the average monthly attendance was 69 against 67 in 1890-91. Nine students passed last year, all of whom obtained employment as sub-overseers, draftsmen, or surveyors under District Boards and zamindars. The total value of the articles made by the students during 1891-92 amounted to about Rs. 1,600, and the net profit derived from the workshops was Rs. 104. The expenditure for the school during the year was Rs. 5,512 against Rs. 2,368 in the preceding year, the increase being principally due to the entertainment of a Superintendent at Rs. 150 a month, as well as to the purchase of some valuable tools for the workshops. The increased expenditure did not, however, burden the District Fund, as the Board received from Government a contribution of Rs. 1,000 for the purchase of tools and plant, and Rs. 80 a month towards the pay of the Superintendent. A technical school was established in Purnea in January last: it is attended by 15 boys, under the instruction of a teacher in carpentry, who received a salary of Rs. 25 a month:

an allowance of Rs. 4 a month was also paid to each of these boys. At Comilla, the Artizan Workshop has been at work since December 1890, teaching carpentry and blacksmith's work. On the 31st March 1892 there were 18 boys on the roll of the school, 7 in the smiths' and the rest in the carpentry class. Twelve scholarships of Rs. 4 each have been awarded to the boys of the workshop. The District Board continued to award two scholarships of Rs. 15 each, tenable at the Sibpur Engineering College, for natives of the district of Tippera. A scholarship of Rs. 10 a month, tenable at the Sibpur Engineering College for five years, was created by the Noakhali District Board in 1890, and was awarded to a native of the district who had passed the F.A. examination.

36. Female Medical Education.—This cause has been furthered by the District Boards during 1891-92 in two ways—either by grants to local hospitals and dispensaries towards the training of midwives entertained by them, or by the offer of scholarships. In regard to the first measure, the District Board of Gaya take the foremost place with an expenditure of Rs. 669 during the year in the training of midwives at the Gaya Pilgrim Hospital. The Burdwan Board granted Rs. 12 a month to the local municipality for the same purpose. The Cuttack District Board made a grant of Rs. 100 to the Lady Dufferin Fund for the furtherance of female medical education. Offers of scholarships to female students of obstetrics were made on very liberal terms, but without success, by the District Boards of Burdwan, Bankura, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Pabna, and Champaran: in other districts greater success has been obtained. The Midnapore Board paid a scholarship of Rs. 10 to Miss Kadambini Mukerjea, a student of the Campbell Medical School, for six months of the year. The District Board of Saran awarded a scholarship of Rs. 10 a month to Mrs. Kadambini Banerji, a female student of the same School, who has guaranteed to serve under the Board for at least as many years as she has received the stipend: it was proposed to confer the scholarship on a Bihári, but no candidate came forward. In Birbhum and Tippera, the District Board, finding after prolonged trial that their invitations met with no response, have abandoned the provision of scholarships of this class.

37. Medical.—The total expenditure under this head increased from Rs. 58,519 to Rs. 76,323. The increase is noticeable under all the sub-heads. The following table shows the working of the dispensaries managed by District Boards during 1891-92:—

38. The smallness of these figures is due to the fact that these dispensaries are all at small outlying places. Wherever a considerable population is collected together in a town, there is sure to be a municipality, on which the maintenance of the dispensary mainly devolves. Of forty-one dispensaries, only fourteen receive indoor patients, and it is in that direction that expansion should be looked for. It is to be regretted that the District Boards of Hooghly and Murshidabad still fail to realize their obligation to contribute towards the cost of hospitals and dispensaries. It is true that in the latter district there are one or more dispensaries supported by the Kasimbazar Estate under the Court of Wards, but the liberality of individuals in particular localities cannot discharge the Board from their liability to provide medical assistance to other parts of the district. The District Boards of Rajshahi and Muzaffarpur also again did less than their duty in this respect, but the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that they have now set apart funds for the maintenance of dispensaries and hospitals.

39. The figures in the above statement, however, do not show all that has been disbursed by the District Boards under the head "Medical." Besides maintaining dispensaries entirely at their own expense, they have contributed to dispensaries already established, and have made special grants for other purposes to so great an extent that, while the total sum expended by District Boards in the province on their own dispensaries has been only Rs. 26,782, they have disbursed under the general head of "Medical" as much as Rs. 76,323. Some of the objects on which their funds have been expended have already been mentioned under the head of Female medical education. Grants towards the support of midwives have been made by the District Boards of Pabna and Noakhali. To the Dufferin Fund a liberal contribution for a lady doctor was made by the District Board of Gaya (Rs. 1,200), together with a sum of Rs. 2,200 for a site for her residence, and the Chittagong District Board paid Rs. 130 a month for the same purpose. For aid in epidemics of cholera grants were voted in Rangpur, Backergunge, Pabna, Shahabad, and Saran. There was some expenditure on sanitation in Bankura and Saran. The Mymensingh District Board imitated the example of Tippera by advertising that wherever the people of any locality would provide Rs. 20 or Rs. 25 a month, the District Board would grant an equal amount for the establishment of an outdoor dispensary. The example is one which might well be followed elsewhere. Large grants have been made in aid of municipal and sub-divisional dispensaries by about half the districts in which the Local Self-Government Act is in force.

40. Sanitation.—Statement IV appended to this Resolution gives details of the works undertaken by District Boards for the improvement of sanitation during the year. The District Boards in the Patna Division expended the largest amount (Rs. 11,361-12-3), and those of the Chittagong Division the lowest (Rs. 916). The efforts of the District Boards in the matter of sanitation were directed chiefly to the construction and repairs of wells, and to the excavation of tanks, the total amount expended on these objects being Rs. 37,278.

41. Although the figures do not show that much progress has been made in the direction of sanitation, yet it is gratifying to notice that the subject has attracted the attention of District Boards, and the Lieutenant-Governor anticipates that greater progress will be made in future years, especially in the direction of supplying good drinking water, a matter of the first importance along the main arteries of traffic in each district. The remarks made by the Commissioner of Chittagong in this connection are worth mentioning:—

"Though the foregoing does not recount much progress, I found while on tour that this subject had received a great stimulus, which I attribute to some orders passed by Government regarding the clearing of tanks in Birbhum, and that it was everywhere under consideration, and that the clue or specific guidance from Government or the new Sanitary Board was no longer being waited for. The direction taken nearly everywhere was the improvement of the water-supply and then of the drainage, and a great number of projects in all three districts have been marked out, and on some tentative steps have been taken; while altogether much more has been done than the reports would lead to be supposed. A large number of tanks have been informally reserved. The Noakhali district, which expended more on sanitation in 1890-91 than any other in Bengal, nearly all in improving the water-supply, has had to economize; but its designs are still large and comprehensive, and the present Chairman, Mr. Nanda Krishna Bose, has drawn up and got passed a set of rules for reservoirs so reserved, to be enforced by the rural authorities or village heads, which are practical and simple, and will prove most useful."

42. Sanitation at fairs.—In the Burdwan Division, the Birbhum District Board made sanitary arrangements for the fairs at Joydebkendoli, Bakreswar, and Birchandpur. The District Board of the 24-Parganas, in the Presidency Division, expended Rs. 1,705 for the sanitary and conservancy arrangements of the fairs held at Sagar island in the Diamond Harbour sub-division, and at Harwa in the Basirhat sub-division. In Dacca the District Board incurred an expenditure of Rs. 6 11-3 and Rs. 48-9-10 for sanitary and conservancy improvements at the Kartik Baroni and Nangabund fairs respectively. The District Board of Saran, in the Patna Division, spent Rs. 4,060 on sanitary arrangements at the different fairs held in that district, the greater part of which was expended at Sonepore.

43. Stationery and Printing.—The expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 48,527 against Rs. 46,446 in the previous year. The increase, which occurred in all the Divisions, with the exception of those of the Presidency and Patna, is attributed in some districts to the payment of bills during the year for supplies received in the previous year, and to the large purchase of prescribed forms in others. The Commissioner of Burdwan observes that most of the District Boards have a tendency to incur unnecessary expenditure under this head, and that he was obliged to curtail the provisions made in some of their budgets.

44. Miscellaneous.—The expenditure under this head decreased from Rs. 46,686 to Rs. 40,890. There was an increase of Rs. 400 under sub-head "Donations for charitable purposes," due to the contribution made by the Champaran District Board towards the cost of dispensaries and medical relief. This expenditure should have been shown under Medical. The expenditure under head "Miscellaneous refunds" declined from Rs. 14,980 to Rs. 4,261.

45. Famine Relief.—The only Divisions in which expenditure was incurred under this head were those of Rajshahi, Patna, and Bhagalpur. In the Rajshahi Division no regular relief operations were needed in any district except Dinajpur, where a sum of Rs. 10,000 was set apart for affording relief to landless labourers, who in ordinary years live by labour under jotdars on petty cultivation. Out of this amount Rs. 6,471 was spent during the year: the main portion of it was spent in improving roads on the piece-work system, and has been dealt with under the head "Civil works." Only Rs. 1,250 is shown under "Famine Relief," of which Rs. 11 was spent in Rangpur on test operations. In the Patna Division Rs. 2,529 were spent on famine relief in the districts of Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, and Champaran. Of this amount Rs. 283 were spent in Muzaffarpur, Rs. 2,126 in Darbhanga, and Rs. 110 in Champaran. Over and above these sums advances of Rs. 20,000 and Rs. 10,000 were made in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga at the close of the year, the adjustments of which will be made in the accounts of the current year. In the Bhagalpur Division the total expenditure incurred under this head amounted to Rs. 8,896, viz., Rs. 423 in Monghyr, Rs. 1,188 in Bhagalpur, and Rs. 7,285 in Purnea. In the Dacca Division no relief operations were called for in any district, but in Faridpur a sum of Rs. 150 was advanced in loans. This amount, together with the sum of Rs. 787 out of Rs. 1,400 advanced in 1890-91, was recovered during the year. In the Orissa Division a sum of Rs. 300 was advanced in the month of March to provide employment for the people of Astrang in the Puri district who suffered from the effects of the cyclone. Half of this amount was recovered from the zamindars of the distressed locality and from the owners of the tank on which the labourers were employed.

46. In the revised edition of the Bengal Famine Code, which was issued at the end of the year, the duties of District Boards in times of scarcity and famine were defined, and it is hoped that in future no doubt will be felt as to the nature and extent of their obligations in this respect.

47. Civil Works.—The following table shows the Public Works expenditure under the several heads as compared with that of 1890-91 :—

Year.	In charge of Civil Officers (ferry establishment, &c.)	Original works.	Repairs.	Establishment.	Tools and plant.	Water-supply and water-works.	Drainage works.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1890-91 .	58,1[illegible]5	11,82,488	20,16,580	5,65,143	29,759	38,232	51,482	39,37,101
1891-92 ..	38,458	12,85,540	20,85,807	5,64,163	26,171	34,117	8,556	40,43,238

There was an increase in the total expenditure exceeding a lakh of rupees: it is shewn under the heads of "Original works" and "Repairs." The decrease under the head "Drainage" was due to the large payments made in the districts of Dinajpur (Rs. 1,042) and Rangpur (Rs. 49,898) for drainage works executed in the previous year. A large outlay on account of original works was incurred by the Dinajpur District Board in the year under review—43 permanent bridges and culverts, aggregating 524 feet, having been constructed at a cost of Rs. 40,000. In Chittagong several iron and timber bridges have been constructed or reconstructed, and three wooden jetties were erected on the bank of the Bagkhali river at the ferry ghats. The expenditure under the head "Original Works" decreased in every district in the Bhagalpur Division, owing to the several District Boards reserving large sums for famine works.

48. A most expensive work, taken up by the Burdwan District Board towards the close of the year, was the construction, at an estimated cost of Rs. 67,995, of the Victoria Bridge over the river Khenry at Karjona on the Burdwan to Katwa road. Messrs. Burn & Company have taken the contract for the work.

49. District Roads.—The table in Appendix A gives all necessary particulars as to the length and cost of the different kinds of roads maintained by the District Boards in Bengal in 1891-92. It will be seen that during the year 22,308 miles of roads of all kinds were maintained by them at a cost of Rs. 26,97,002. Of the total length 3,362 miles were embanked, bridged and metalled roads, 12,023 miles were embanked and bridged, but not metalled, and 6,923 miles not embanked or bridged. Of the total cost, Rs. 10,81,607 were expended in original works, and Rs. 16,15,395 in repairs. The expenditure on account of embanked, bridged and metalled roads was highest (Rs. 4,13,095) in the Patna Division, Burdwan coming next with Rs. 3,45,311, and Chittagong showing the lowest expenditure Rs. 12,148. The outlay on roads that are embanked and bridged, but not metalled, was highest in the Rajshahi Division (Rs. 3,06,818), and lowest in Orissa (Rs. 40,011). The outlay on roads that are not embanked or bridged was highest in the Patna Division (Rs. 55,277) and lowest in the Orissa Division (Rs. 8,097).

50. The following table shows the average cost of maintaining one mile of each class of road in the different districts:—

51. Village Roads.—The following table compares the total expenditure on village roads for 1890-91 and 1891-92:—

	1890-91.	1891-92.
	Rs.	Rs.
Burdwan Division	30,420	35,245
Presidency Division	47,820	57,127
Rajshahi Division	19,311	20,250
Dacca Division	68,738	70,498
Chittagong Division	57,617	53,843
Patna Division	69,876	61,472
Bhagalpur Division	50,680	43,445
Orissa Division	16,336	24,973
Total ...	3,60,798	3,66,853

There was an increase in the expenditure in the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahi, Dacca, and Orissa Divisions, and a decrease in Patna, Bhagalpur, and Chittagong. The increase was highest in the Presidency Division (Rs. 9,307), and the expenditure incurred in the various districts differed to an astonishing degree. While Jessore spent Rs. 20,798, Nadia expended only Rs. 162. It appears that Rs. 2,500 were provided in the Budget for village roads in the latter district, but that the allotment had to be withdrawn to meet a deficit of the preceding year: under any circumstances an allotment of Rs. 2,500 seems insufficient for so large a district, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the District Board will take steps to see that this important branch of their duties is more carefully looked after in future. The Lieutenant-Governor again notices with satisfaction that in the Burdwan and Dacca Divisions grants for village roads were in some instances supplemented by private subscriptions, and hat in the latter Division free gifts were also made of lands required for the construction of these roads. In the Patna Division the expenditure on village roads was reduced from Rs. 69,876 to Rs. 61,472. The expenditure was highest in Saran (Rs. 25,621), where the roads are numerous and important, and lowest in Darbhanga, where it was said to have been only Rs. 432. There is, however, some confusion in the Darbhanga figures, which should be investigated without delay. The rate of expenditure per mile in the Division varies from Rs. 21 in Gaya to Rs. 5-14 in Shahabad.

52. Water communications.—The Telkupi khal in Pabna was kept in navigable condition during the year by the removal of silt at a cost of Rs 1,033. A sum of Rs. 289 was expended by the Mymensingh District Board in improving and deepening the Khatiakhali and Bhabadobkhali in the Netrokona sub-division. The side excavation of the road to Feuny from Sudharam in the district of Noakhali has been widened and is now navigable by small boats during the rains. The re-excavation of the Gokarna, Jagidara, and Kaitalla khals was taken up and completed by the Tippera District Board. The first of these is an old Mogul work, and shortens by 28 miles the approach to Brahmanbaria by water. The Malda District Board expended the sum of Rs. 173 in removing snags from navigable channels. A sum of Rs. 499 was expended by the Murshidabad District Board in clearing and repairing two drainage cuts, aggregating 8½ miles in length. The Dinajpur District Board kept in good order the Dinajpur-Gouripur channel, at a cost of Rs. 511, and drainage obstructions at four different places were removed at a cost of Rs. 383.

53. Steam river service.—The daily steamer service between Rampur Boalia and Damukdia, and between Pabna and Kushtea continued to be maintained by the District Boards of Rajshahi and Pabna through subsidies of Rs. 200 and Rs. 300 respectively. The District Board of Dacca continued to manage the steam ferry service between Narainganj and Munshiganj till the 1st November 1891, when it was leased out to a farmer. In Backergunge the steam ferry services (a) between Barisál and Khulna, (b) Barisál and Patuakhali, and (c) Barisál and Noakhali, vid Dakhin Shabazpur, continued throughout the year. Towards the end of the year a new steamer service was opened between Barisál and Chandpur, in the district of Tippera, with a branch to Madaripur in Faridpur: this new line of steam communication connects Barisal with the districts of Dacca, Tippera, and Faridpur. The usual monthly subsidy of Rs. 500 and Rs. 100 for the Barisal and Khulna, and Barisál and Patuakhali lines, respectively, was paid. The total amount paid during the year for these two lines was Rs 6,900-2-6. For the Barisál to Chandpur line, a subsidy of Rs. 1,000 has been promised, and will be paid in March next. In Noakhali the Board continued to pay a subsidy of Rs. 200 a month to the Flotilla Company for the steamer service from Barisál to Taktakhali. In Tippera a steamer belonging to the India General Steam Navigation Company plied daily between Chandpur and Hajiganj on the Dakaita, the District Board granting a monthly subsidy of Rs. 250 to this line. A steamer service opened experimentally between Naraingani and Daudkhandi was discontinued after a month's trial. The Malda District Board subsidised the steamer service between English Bazar and Rampur Boalia, the total amount paid during the year as subsidy being Rs. 2,020.

54. Miscellaneous Public Improvements.—A sum of Rs. 1,000 was expended in Faridpur on improving communications in khas mahals, and in Backergunge Rs. 202 were spent in repairing the jetty at Patuakhali. The expenditure under this head in other districts either has not been explained, or would more properly have fallen under other heads.

55. Railway feeder roads.—In the Burdwan Division the construction of the Haripal-Bhandarhati road was completed during the year, with the exception of a length of about one mile. Another project before the Burdwan District Board referred to the construction of a feeder road from the Debipur railway station to the village of Debipur, a distance of three miles. A zamindar of the village, Babu Kali Das Singha, offered to construct the road at his own cost, and the District Board have given him permission to begin the work. The road from Sripur station to Gosinga, in the Dacca Division, was continued up to Kapasia. Two other feeder roads, one from Mirzapur to Kapasia, and the other from Kudda to Simulia, were undertaken, of which the former has been completed. In Mymensingh the earthwork of two feeder roads from Balipara to Nandail and from Mymensingh to Parabari was completed during the year, and the feeder road to Iswarganj was metalled. In the Bhagalpur Division about 21 miles of feeder roads have been surveyed in the district of Purnea, from the Nagar station to Minpur on the main line of the Assam-Bihár State Railway, and from Soodam station on the Kishenganj branch to Minpur.

56. Tramways.—In the Burdwan Division permission was given by Government for the construction of a steam tramway between Tarkeswar and Magra. The land acquisition proceedings have commenced, and the construction of the line is said to have been taken in hand. An old scheme for the construction of a tramway from Burdwan to Katwa, a distance of 34 miles, was revived during the year, and the leading men of the district, interested in the scheme, were addressed by the Collector of Burdwan, in order to ascertain what money it would be possible to raise for the purpose. In the Presidency Division the question of constructing a light tramway from Berasat to Bassirhat was under the consideration of the District Board of the 24-Parganas and an establishment for the registration of traffic on the proposed line has been sanctioned since the close of the year. The District Board of Nadia proposed the construction of a steam tramway from Ranaghat to Krishnagar vid Santipur, at an estimated cost of Rs. 14,50,000. The Board have given a guarantee of 4 per cent. on the capital: the scheme has received the Lieutenant-Governor's support, and the matter is now under the consideration of the Government of India. In the Patna Division, the Gaya District Board are collecting statistics of traffic with the object of ascertaining whether a tramway from Tikari to Gaya along the road from Gaya to Daudnagar would be likely to prove remunerative. The construction of a steam tramway on the Baktiarpur-Bihár road, at an estimated cost of Rs. 3,25,000, was under the consideration of the Patna District Board, and a formal application to construct the line has been made to Government since the close of the year.

57. Public Works Establishment.—The following table shows for each district the ratio per cent. which the cost of establishment bears to the total outlay on Civil Works during 1891-92 and in the year previous:—

The maximum limit of 20 per cent. prescribed in the second proviso of section 33 of the Act was exceeded in Saran, Nadia, Malda, Rajshahi, and Darbhanga. The excess has been satisfactorily explained in every case to be due to reduced expenditure, and not to undue increase of establishment. The ratio was highest in Saran (24·1) and lowest in Chittagong (7·1). The average of the province was 13 9 per cent.: this was exceeded in twenty-three districts, and seventeen districts spent less than the average on establishment.

58. General remarks.—The following are the observations recorded by the Commissioners in their reports on the working of District and Local Boards:—

Mr. Power, Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, writes:—

"I am glad to be in a position to report that District Boards continue to work harmoniously with their official Chairmen, and seem to be adopting more and more the character of deliberative and consultative assemblies, shaping policy without needlessly interfering in details; as such their utility is great. In Local Boards there is at present no real life, they supply no acutely felt want and satisfy no aspirations. I agree with Mr. Grant in holding that the people in general care nothing for Local Self-Government, and that whatever enthusiasm there may be on the subject is mostly fictitious."

Mr. Beames, Commissioner of the Presidency Division, observes:—

"The District Boards have on the whole worked well and intelligently, in some cases even with marked success. The Local Boards have so restricted a scope for their activity that they have been unable to display much energy. I have so frequently expressed my opinion on Local Self-Government in previous reports from other divisions, that it is hardly necessary for me to say much this year. I will only remark that if Local Self-Government means the administration of the affairs of a locality by the principal residents thereof, elected by the rate-payers and watched by them, then we can hardly be said to have got Local Self-Government at all yet. The principal, and certainly the most active, members of these Boards are, for the most part, pleaders who are not natives of the district, and are no better able to judge of local requirements than the Magistrates and Deputy Magistrates. Until the leading residents of a place come forward to take seats on the Board, the movement can only be said to have substituted one class of government by outsiders for another."

Mr. Nolan, Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, remarks:—

"In my opinion the District Boards do not work so well as the former Education Committees for the special purposes of that Department, the members not being selected for their knowledge of the subject. In other matters they are on the same footing as the Road Cess Committees, by which they were preceded, acting generally with the District Magistrate, who is their Chairman, and giving him the benefit of their assistance."

Mr. Cooke, the Officiating Commissioner of the Dacca Division, makes the following observations:—

The District Boards collectively are perfectly amenable to the guidance of the official Chairman when that officer is possessed of ordinary tact and discretion. Factious opposition appears to be unknown, and if detected, I should regard it as primâ facie evidence of a defect in the system adopted by the president, rather than to wanton obstructiveness as is the case elsewhere. A few members of a District Board take part in the debates, the remainder silently acquiesce in the conclusions arrived at. The only Board whose policy is at all open to adverse criticism is that of Backergunge, which persistently declines to impose the cess at full rates, though the urgent necessity for additional funds for sanitary and other purposes has been clearly pointed out to it. This I do not regard as due to obstructiveness of a wanton description, but to parsimoniousness on the part of the members in their own interests and in that of their class.

A good deal of the fervor which Local Self-Government commanded has now disappeared, and the value of the assistance of an official as Chairman is recognized, and the public is disposed to view the question more from the utilitarian and less from the sentimental point of view than was the case when Local Self-Government was a novelty."

Mr. Oldham, the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, states:—

"The official Chairmen all testify in an appreciative way to the good work done by their Boards. I, too, think that all the Boards have done very well. Their ways of working are different. The Tippera Board is led in almost all matters by its Chairman, Mr. Greer, who does for it far more than any other Chairman in the Division does for his Board, and one result is shown in its having held fewer meetings than any other, while other results appear in its excellent dispensaries, its artizan school, and its ambitious, perhaps over-ambitious, public works. The Chittagong Board again follows its very efficient District Engineer in the matter of the larger public works, and its Chairman in all general matters; while as regards minor public works and purely localized interests, nearly every member strenuously acts and works for the area which he represents in a very marked way. This is due to the presence of so many English planters on the Board. The Noakhali Board, on the other hand, seems to come nearer to the model of what the institution was intended to be, and under so strong a Chairman as Mr. Macpherson has shown more than once remarkable independence and solidarity. Mr. Macpherson's own remarks on it are worth reproducing: 'The District Board continued to do good work, most of the members taking very considerable interest in the proceedings. It showed itself amenable to the advice of professional men, and satisfactorily fulfilled its duty as a branch of the Government of the country.

Mr. Forbes, Commissioner of the Patna Division, remarks as follows:—

"The District Boards have, on the whole, worked successfully and well during the year. The members have taken interest in the various questions brought before them, although in executive matters and in those involving questions of an administrative nature they have had to depend mainly upon the Chairman and the executive sub-committees. Their value as consultative bodies is, however, unquestionable.

Mr. Quinn, the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division, writes:—

"It will be gathered from the remarks of the District Magistrates that, in the more advanced districts, where the administration does not altogether centre in the Chairman of the Board, the control is chiefly in the hands of the permanent Committees. Mr. Wace, late Magistrate of Bhagalpur, does not regard this as a defect peculiar to the working of the system in Bengal, though he would no doubt admit that it would be better if the general body were to take a more active part in the conduct of affairs. The objection, however, in my opinion to the monopoly of authority by the Committees is their tendency to interfere too much with the executive officers of the Board, the result being frequently delay and sometimes friction. The value of local bodies in one important department has been tested during the past year by the scarcity which prevailed to a greater or less degree in three out of the four districts of this division in which there are District Boards. As mentioned in the General Administration Report, the District Boards have all shown a praiseworthy readiness to apply the funds under their control to the relief of the sufferers, but there is no indication that these bodies have from their local knowledge rendered any material assistance to the responsible officials in gauging the actual condition of the people and the extent of the distress, or in determining the kind of works to be undertaken, or the places in which they should be opened. In all these matters in which it was anticipated that the local bodies would be most valuable auxiliaries, the district officers have, as far as I can judge, been in no better position than in the old days when the idea of Local Self-Government lay still undeveloped in the minds of reformers. Information and other aid were no doubt obtained from individual residents, including members of District and Local Boards, but I have not heard of any instance in which the action or advice of the local bodies, as such, contributed in any appreciable degree to the efficient administration of relief. In one respect, however, I think that their influence was useful. Being responsible for the fund out of which the chief cost of relief measures was met, they were disposed to discourage exaggerated statements of the extent of the distress. As an illustration of the inability of Local Boards presided over by non-officials to deal with such matters, I may mention the fact that, when the necessity of undertaking relief operations became evident in the Madhipura sub-division of the Bhagalpur district, the non-official Chairman at once resigned his office in order that the sub-divisional officer might take his place."

Mr. Toynbee, the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, makes the following remarks:—

"I fear I must again record my opinion that Local Self-Government, properly so called, does not exist in this Division except in name. The absence of friction and the loyal support of the measures proposed by the Chairman and Vice-Chairman are not enough to constitute Self-Government. The small number of meetings, the low percentage of attendance at them, and their frequent adjournments for want of a quorum, the absence of any measure initiated by the mufassal members to supply local wants, the difficulty of getting sub-committees to check work, to audit accounts, and so on, all point to this conclusion. The seeds of Local Self-Government in Orissa have been sown on poor soil, and will take many years to germinate, but there is, perhaps, some hope of their doing so in the absence of party spirit and factions and opposition."

59. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to find that the experienced officers whose opinions have been quoted, record what is on the whole a favourable estimate of the working of Local Self-Government in Bengal. That institution has now been in operation over the greater part of the Lower Provinces for some six years, and from the mists and uncertainty of its inception there have emerged certain solid principles, which the Lieutenant-Governor cannot fail to recognize and accept. It has become abundantly clear that the true function of the District Boards is to supply advice and information: the executive duties of the administration, must as before, be left to the Chairman aided by his Vice-Chairman and his small group of experts, the District Engineer, the Civil Surgeon, the Deputy Inspector of Schools: the members of the District Board in a well regulated district are cordially admitted to the counsels of the Chairman on all important matters, and render him the greatest assistance by bringing to bear on the questions before them their special knowledge, their experience of the people, or their peculiar information on particular subjects or in regard to special localities. Any other system, especially one which would distribute executive duties among a number of non-professional men, must involve want of union, waste of power, and unsatisfactory results.

60. In respect of Local Boards it is less easy to define a policy. The Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to think that either too much or too little has been made of them: as at present constituted, they possess exiguous powers and evoke little interest, so that one phase of opinion counsels their abolition: on the other hand, it is urged that an increase of responsibility would be followed by a development of energy. Sir Charles Elliott is not prepared either to abolish Local Boards or to increase their powers so long as they are constituted as they generally are at present: the remedy, in his opinion, lies in the hands of the members themselves, and consists in the election of official Chairmen. Were this more generally done, he feels convinced that the work would be more efficiently carried through, not because the Chairman was in receipt of salary from Government, but because he would bring to bear upon his duties a certain prestige and a familiarity with public business, both of which, in most instances, are lacking in a non-official Chairman, while he would, in the great majority of cases, be of the same nationality as the Chairmen who now for the most part preside. If the work of the Local Boards proceeds upon these lines in future, the Lieutenant Governor hopes that those bodies will, within a short time, merit the thanks of the public as much as the District Boards have done, and that the whole machinery may work smoothly and without hitch, presenting a spectacle of duties distributed to the best advantage, action falling to the lot of those who are most fitted to undertake it, and advice and assistance being asked of those from whom it would be most valuable.

61. Though this stage of perfection has not everywhere been reached, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to put on record his cordial appreciation of the services rendered to the administration all over the country by the members of Boards of either class: he has, as in the previous year, conferred with these gentlemen in all the districts which he has visited, and has brought away with him the impression of much hearty co-operation by all classes and of a steady tendency towards progress, which cannot fail to be encouraging to the well-wishers of Self-Government in its broadest sense.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

A SCHEME FOR THE EXTENDED SALE OF QUININE IN BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

READ—

The Proceedings of the Government of Bengal on the subject of extending the sale of quinine in Bengal.

The Reports of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for 1890-91 and 1891-92.

The mortality from fever in the Lower Provinces of Bengal has been from the earliest times of the British occupation a matter of lamentable notoriety, and since the collection of vital statistics was commenced, rumour has solidified into knowledge, so that it is now possible, with more or less accuracy, to indicate in what places, and at what seasons, the ravages of fever have been most severe. To abate these ravages has long been an object of solicitude to successive Governments, and besides the general measures adopted from time to time for drainage, water-supply, and the improvement of sanitation in its broadest sense, more than one proposal has been made of late years for the general dissemination of quinine.

2. In 1869 the Sanitary Commissioner suggested that it would be a great boon to the sick in Bengal villages if they could obtain really good English medicines at a reasonable price. The opinions of District Officers on the subject were invited, and the sale of quinine and certain other medicines at ten per cent. above prime cost was sanctioned through the agency of medical officers at Sadar and sub divisional stations. Again in December 1871, at the instance of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, instructions were issued to Civil Surgeons to send for sale, to those sub-divisions in which the District Magistrate might consider a supply of the medicine to be necessary, or likely to be useful, small sealed packets of quinine made up in proper doses with the price clearly marked in vernacular and with directions for use. In August 1878 the sale of quinine was stopped, partly because the privilege of purchasing it at low rates was believed to have been abused by persons who bought with the object of selling at a profit, and partly because the Government was then anxious to promote the sale of cinchona febrifuge. The following table illustrates the working of these orders during the period for which they were in force:—

Year.		Quinine sold. lbs.	Value. Rs.
1871-72	...	298	16,420
1872-73	...	272	15,454
1873-74	...	290	16,396
1874-75	...	196	11,209
1875-76	...	88	5,620
1876-77	...	89	6,383
1877-78	...	160	10,452
1878-79	...	32	2,156

3. These figures show that the amounts sold varied greatly from year to year, that in the later years of the period the sales tended on the whole to fall off, and that the system clearly did not succeed in establishing an effective demand for quinine among the poorer classes in the interior of Bengal. This comparative failure to attain the objects originally contemplated seems to have been due to the fact that the medicines were offered for sale only at district and sub-divisional head-quarters, and that no special arrangements were made to bring them within easy reach of the rural population.

4. The great reduction that has taken place of late years in the price of quinine generally, and the development of the Government cinchona plantation near Darjeeling, have now rendered it possible to renew, with greater prospects of success, the attempt to popularise the use of quinine among the poorer classes of the province, and the Lieutenant-Governor has resolved to make that attempt. In order to attain the end in view, certain essential conditions must be complied with. In the first place, the quinine sold must be first-rate and uniform in quality, and must be guaranteed as such by being sold in packets bearing a Government stamp. Secondly, it must be sold in very small quantities procurable for the smallest coin in daily use among the people. Thirdly, it must be sold at a large number of centres and at places which people are likely to frequent in the ordinary course of business. Fourthly, the sellers must be given an interest in pushing the sales and in making it generally known that quinine can be bought in small quantities at certain places.

5. It has therefore been arranged that quinine should be supplied from the Government factory near Darjeeling, and that it should be made up by jail labour into packets containing five grains each, which will be sold at one pice the packet. When the system has been fully developed, it is intended that these packets should be for sale at all public offices in the interior of districts such as police stations and outposts, dispensaries, pounds and post offices, but as a first step, with the permission of the Government of India, it has been determined to commence the experiment with post offices only.

6. Under the arrangements which have now been completed, every postmaster in charge of a branch office or sub-post office will be supplied through the post by Mr. Hanlon, Superintendent of Jail Manufactures, Calcutta, with a parcel containing a certain number of these 5-grain packets, which will include, besides the packets for sale, a further number at the rate of one in sixteen, the price of which he will be allowed to retain as his commission. At present they are made up in parcels of 102 packets, worth at a pice apiece Re. 1-9-6, of which anna 1-6 are to be retained as commission by the vendor, and Re. 1-8 to be repaid to Government. Possibly larger parcels containing more packets may be found more suitable in future, but the system will be the same, and the rate of commission will be one anna in the rupee. The value of these parcels will be treated as a permanent advance, but when further supplies are required, they will have to be paid for by money-order, the cost of which will be borne by the Jail Department. As already stated, the packets will be for sale at one pice each, and the value of them will have to be accounted for by the postmasters.

7. At present only the offices of the Bengal postal circle have been supplied, comprising the districts named in the margin and the State of Kuch Bihar, and the quinine has been issued from two centres, viz., Calcutta and Hazaribagh; but orders have now been issued for the extension of the system to the Bihar and Eastern Bengal Circles, which embrace the remaining districts of the Lower Provinces, and the issues in future will be from Calcutta alone.

8. Instructions have been issued by the Postmaster-General, Bengal, directing all postmasters to apply in good time to the Superintendent of Jail Manufactures, Calcutta, for the replenishment of their supply. In large towns where head post-offices exist, to which these parcels are not sent, other measures will be adopted, and supplies will be sent to Civil Surgeons for distribution there on the same system through dispensaries or otherwise. Lastly, any private employers of labour, zamindars or indigo or tea planters, who may desire to utilise this method of distributing quinine, are invited to make application to the officer named above.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor, who has the success of this experiment much at heart, reckons on the hearty and energetic support of all mufassal officers in carrying it out. Much can be done, especially by District and Sub-divisional Officers, by District and Local Boards, and by Civil Surgeons. Notices and proclamations should be freely employed, and every means should be adopted which experience may suggest to make known the intentions of Government, the efficacy of the medicine, and the facilities now provided for obtaining it, and Sir Charles Elliott hopes that during the present tour season officers of all kinds will use their best endeavours to further the scheme which should be specially mentioned in their annual reports. It is inevitable that objections will be raised and that difficulties now not to be foreseen will occur; these should be promptly reported through the usual channel in order that they may be overcome or removed. If the hearty co-operation of all officers and leading non-officials is accorded, His Honour is sanguine that the Government will be able to carry to a successful issue a measure whose far-reaching benefits will be felt in every household in Bengal.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

FORECASTS OF RICE CROPS OF 1892.

THE following is published for general information.

CALCUTTA;
Agri.,
The 5th December, 1892.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Second Note on the Winter Rice Crop of 1892 based on District Officers' Reports received from 1*st to* 15*th November.*

1. Character of the season.—The rainfall of the monsoon of 1892, month by month, has been as follows:—

In May, the rainfall was above the average in East and North Bengal, and less than the normal in the rest of these Provinces. In June, rain was deficient except in Orissa, Chota Nagpur and some districts of the Patna Division. In July, the rainfall was abnormally heavy in most districts of the Rajshahi Division, normal or slightly in excess of the normal in the districts of the Chota Nagpur, Bhagalpur and Patna Divisions, and in the 24-Parganas, Dacca and Chittagong, and deficient in the rest of these Provinces. In August, it was singularly deficient throughout the country, except in South Bhagalpur, and the districts of the Patna Division, in Dinajpur, Rangpur and Jalpaiguri, in which the fall was considerably above the normal. The deficiency was still greater in September, when, with the exception of Chittagong, Orissa, Palámau and Singhbhum, all the districts had much less than the normal fall, the greatest deficiency having occurred in North and South Bihár, and in the districts of the Rajshahi Division. The month of October was generally rainless up to the end of the third week, when rainy weather again set in throughout the greater part of these Provinces, and continued during the first three or four days of November. The only districts which did not receive any rain during this period were those of North Bihár. The fall in South Bihár was rather light and scattered. Everywhere else rain was general and plentiful for the season. The absence of rain during the first part of October is reported to have seriously affected the rice crop in Central Bengal, Bihár and Chota Nagpur.

2. Area cultivated.—The normal area cultivated with winter rice in these Provinces is shown in the attached returns as 31,963,063 acres. The total area shown to have been cultivated in 1892 is 30,172,678 acres as against 29,506,861 acres in 1891.

These figures must be taken as mere approximations to truth. It is not probable that the area cultivated with winter rice this year was short of the normal area. It was probably in excess of the cultivation of last year on account of the more favourable season; and may have exceeded the cultivation of last year by 665,817 acres or 2 per cent. as shown in the returns. It is impossible to speak with more precision with regard to cultivated areas in these Provinces.

The districts which show a decrease in area sown with winter rice, amounting to 10 per cent. and upwards on the normal, are Burdwan (26 per cent.), Midnapore (25%), Hooghly (39%), Jessore (13%), Jalpaiguri (21%), Mymensingh (10%), Shahabad (25%), Purnea (10%), Cuttack (13%), and Palámau (10%). Patna and Pabna are the only two districts which show an increase in area amounting to over 10 per cent. on the normal; but the increase in these districts, being for Patna 61 per cent., and for Pabna 45 per cent. on the normal, if correct, are very remarkable.

3. Character of the Crop.—With regard to the character of the crop of 1892, it may be pointed out that in only 5 out of the 45 districts, viz., in Birbhum, Dinajpur, Rajshahi, Tippera and Noakhali, is the crop reported to be average or above the average. It is believed, however, that there is a great tendency to understate outturns, and that the orders of Government as to appraisement of crops (which are to the effect that 16 annas are to be taken to mean an average crop, and over 16 annas a bumper crop) are often forgotten. The character of the crop is probably more correctly compared with last year's crop. Thirty-four out of 45 districts report a better crop than that of 1891; five* districts report equal crops; and only five† report worse crops.

* 24 Parganas, Khulna. | Chumparan, Balasore. Lohardaga.

† Bankura. Midnapore. | Hooghly. Manbhum. Singhbhum.

The whole crop of 1891 for these Provinces was estimated at 10 annas only. In the preliminary note on the crop of 1892 an estimate of 16 annas was made. As pointed out, however, above, the scanty rainfall of October marred the good prospects in many districts in Central Bengal, Bihár and Chota Nagpur, and the estimate for the whole Province must be somewhat reduced. It may, however, be safely estimated as not less than 14 annas.

In the following districts and sub-divisions the outturn is estimated at 8 annas or less, viz. Bankura (8 annas), Midnapore (8 (?) annas), Nadia (8¼ annas), Sadar and Raniganj sub-divisions of Burdwan (8 annas); Uluberia Sub-division (8 annas); Bongong sub-division (6 annas); Jangipur sub-division (6 annas); Sadar and Bhabhua and Buxar sub-divisions of Shahabad (8 annas), Gobindpur sub-division (8 annas).

4. The price of common rice in the return for the fortnight ending 31st October ranged from 7 seers the rupee in Mymensingh (dearest), and 9 seers in Dacca, to 16 in Champaran, and 18 in Balasore, (cheapest). It is dearer than at this time last year in every district except Dinajpur, Purnea and Malda. The price of other common food-grains is generally higher than last year.

October had no rain at all up to the 23rd This unexpected deficiency of rain has interfered with the previously splendid prospects. Up to mid-September the rainy season was agriculturally perfect An almost complete cessation of rain thereafter, till 22nd October, made me fear that this year would be an exact repetition of last year and that the outturn would be but 12 to 14 annas. But since 23rd October the Rampur Hât sub-division has had over two inches of rain, and the southern portion of the Sadar has had about two inches: rain has been general everywhere and the weather promises more, and therefore a full 16 annas crop is expected.

This year it has been counteracted a little by irrigation. this 10 annas is expected. This would be only about 6 annas of an average crop on the normal area.

The Collector makes no reference to the rainfall in the last week of October, which must have improved the prospect of the crops. More rain has fallen in the first week of November since the submission of this report. In the Crop Report for the week ending 5th November 1892, the prospects of the rice crop are reported to have been improved by the late rainfall.

Abundant rainfall in the district in the last week of October and the first week of this month is likely to have improved the propects of the haimanti crop.

(a) The difference of one and a half annas between this and the former estimate is due chiefly to excessive rainfall lately, which has to some extent damaged the crop.
Owing to excessive rain and to the sudden rise of water during the sowing season, some damage was done, otherwise the outturn would have been a bumper one
The recent rain has done much good and a better outturn is expected Insects are reported to be doing some damage at present owing to cloudy weather during the last five or six days (4th November).
Timely fall of rain during the year has been beneficial to the crop and a better outturn is expected this year than last year.
The recent rain has improved prospects and the crop is expected to be a full average crop of 16 annas against the 10 anna crop of last year
The excessive rain for seven or eight days during the last week of October and first week of November has injured the rice plants, and hence it is feared the outturn will be less than estimated in the first forecast
There was short and untimely rain in the Cox s Bazar sub-division.
If the sky continues cloudy and rainy, as it has been for the last few days paddy plants may seriously suffer from insects and the estimated outturn be affected.

Champaran	Sadar	971,520	654,000	229,000	229,760	229,000	9	10	Absence of rain in Hathia has reduced the outturn from 16 annas, as estimated in the previous return, to 10 annas in the Sadar sub-division. In the Bettiah sub-division, deficiency of rainfall since the middle of September 1892 is the cause of the low outturn. Owing to the total failure of the Hathia rains, high-lying paddy fields will produce a low outturn in many places. In low-lands, the crop was much damaged by excess of rainfall on the 26th to 28th August.

	Jamui	1,019,520	515,300	364,300	357,400	342,400	3	12	Total absence of rain in the latter part of September and in October has already damaged the crop to the extent of 2 annas, and it is likely that 2 annas more will be damaged, as there has been no rain except a little drizzling up to this time.	Since the submission of the report, plentiful rain (2·2 inches at Begusarai and ·95 inch at Monghyr) has been received in many parts of the district. It may improve the prospects of the rice crop to a slight extent.

Bhagulpur	Sadar	599,040	404,000	249,500	294,700	249,500	8	12	This year the rainfall was seasonable, though rather scanty. Early cessation of rains and a very scanty rainfall in October have necessitated a modification of the first estimate.

Sadar	1,646,080	950,000	290,000	256,000	282,000	6	14	There was sufficient rainfall till the middle of September, but the want of rainfall from the latter part of September up to date has affected the winter rice crops, especially on high lands. The preliminary forecast of the winter rice crop was reported to be 16 annas, as the rainfall had been very favourable up to that period. But the failure of rain in October has caused a probable loss of 2 annas.

In some parts of the district, the plants while still young were damaged by heavy floods, rendering sowing and transplanting a second time necessary rather late in the season. Rainfall was also deficient at the time of maturity. The crop in the Khurda sub-division was benefited by the late rain.

The difference of outturn between this report and the first forecast is

There has, however, been good rain in some parts during the last few days; this may slightly raise the outturn.	Since the date of the report (28th October), more and general rain has fallen in the district. The preliminary estimate may yet be realized.

Final Note on the Bhadoi crops, 1892.

1. Character of the season.—The yield of the rain crops known as the bhadoi crop is, so far as the early rice is concerned, determined by the rainfall of April to September, and especially by the rainfall from the middle of May onwards. In April, showers heavier than the normal, except in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, fell throughout these Provinces. In May, the rainfall was above the average in East and North Bengal, and less than the normal in the rest of these Provinces. In June, rain was deficient except in Orissa, Chota Nagpur and some districts of the Patna Division. In July, the rainfall was abnormally heavy in most districts of the Rajshahi Division, normal or slightly in excess of the normal in the districts of the Chota Nagpur, Bhagalpur, and Patna Divisions, and in the 24-Parganas, Dacca, and Chittagong, and deficient in the rest of these Provinces. In August, it was singularly deficient throughout the country, except in South Bhagalpur and the districts of the Patna Division, and in Dinajpur, Rangpur, and Jalpaiguri, in which the fall was considerably above the normal. The deficiency was still greater in September, when, with the exception of Chittagong, Orissa, Balasore, and Singhbhum, all the districts had much less than the normal fall, the greatest deficiency having occurred in North and South Bihár and in the districts of the Rajshahi Division.

2. Area cultivated.—The normal area under bhadoi crops is only approximately known. The total of the district returns appended to this note comes to 15,836,442 acres. The total area cultivated last year was probably less than the normal, as the season was unfavourable, while in 1892 the season having been much more favourable, the area cultivated was probably equal to or in excess of the normal, although according to the figures returned by District Officers, it is shown to be somewhat less than the normal. The total area shown under bhadoi crops in 1892 is 15,805,498 acres. This estimate, so far as Bengal and Orissa are concerned, relates chiefly to the early rice crop, though other crops, especially jute, are included, and, so far as Bihár and Chota Nagpur are concerned, relates chiefly to the maize and millet crops, though other crops, especially bhadoi paddy, are included. Separate estimates of the jute crop were published at the beginning of July and at the end of August.

3. Outturn.—The tendency of the cultivators, and in a less degree of reporting officers, is to understate the crops; and it will be seen from the appended statement that in only 16 out of 45 districts from which returns have been received are the crops said to come up to or exceed a full average crop. But 27 out of the 45 districts report a better crop than that of last year, and 7 report equal crops.

The districts which report crops worse than last year are the 5 districts of the Burdwan Division and the 3 districts of Orissa, the 24-Parganas, Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Singhbhum. The crop does not seem to have quite fulfilled its promise in the Eastern Districts on account of excessive rain and flood. But North Bengal, Bihár, Chota Nagpur and the Chittagong district had generally excellent crops. The outturn of the bhadoi crops for the whole province in 1891 was estimated in the final report published on 5th December 1891 as 12 annas, or about $\frac{3}{4}$ths of an average crop. It is probable that the outturn of the present year for the whole province has been 16 annas or a full average crop.

W. C. MACPHERSON,

Offg. Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 6th December 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 3RD OF DECEMBER 1892.

At the close of the previous week ordinary cold weather conditions obtained over the whole of Bengal, and fine settled weather was reported in all districts except in the hills, where conditions were becoming slightly disturbed. On the 27th, or the first day of the present week, pressure commenced to rise at the western and northern stations, but elsewhere there was a slight fall. Weather continued fine in all districts except in the hills and in the districts near them, where rain had fallen in the plains and snow in the hills, and thus general rain was reported from the districts of Jalpaiguri, Kuch Bihar, and Darjeeling on this day. On the 28th the increase of pressure had extended over the whole province, though pressure was still very slightly in defect of the normal. The disturbed weather had, however, practically disappeared from the hills, and except for slight showers at Kuch Bihar and Jalpaiguri, no rain was reported, and hence fine settled weather had again set in over the whole province. A further slight increase of pressure was reported on the morning of the 29th, and the pressure distribution became practically normal. On the 30th pressure commenced to fall by very small amounts, but there was a rapid rebound on the 1st of December, when pressure rose by about 0·06″ to 0·08,″ and hence became in excess of the normal. This increase continued on the 2nd and 3rd but by smaller amounts, and at the close of the week pressure was in excess of the normal by amounts ranging up to nearly a tenth of an inch in the south of the province. Throughout the whole week also a steady north-westerly and northerly wind has blown over the province, and the cold weather conditions have continued to be rather strongly developed. During the week also the changes of temperature have been generally small, though the tendency has been for the rather large defect which existed at the beginning of the week to become smaller, and while on November 27th the mean temperature was below the normal by amounts ranging up to about 4°, on the 3rd of December, or the last day of the week, the mean temperature was in defect by only about 1° to 3°. In all districts, except the three previously mentioned, there has been no rain during the week and even in these three districts the falls have only averaged about half an inch.

It will thus be seen that fine settled weather has continued to prevail in Bengal practically throughout the week; but, on the other hand, in the centre and south of the Bay conditions have been disturbed. A slight barometric depression accompanied by strong winds and squally weather formed in the south-east of the Bay, and after remaining stationary for some days, slowly drifted in a westerly direction towards the south Madras coast. It was approaching rather near that coast on Friday, the 2nd of December, where it gave a gale of wind and squally weather at some of the stations on the Madras coast; but on this day also it rapidly filled up, and on the 3rd it had almost ceased to exist. Probably, therefore, almost throughout the week squally unsettled weather has obtained in the south-east, south, and perhaps centre of the Bay.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been in excess of the normal by small amounts, but the usual excess is not larger than about 0·02″. This variation has been fairly equally distributed in all districts of the province.

Temperature.—The mean temperature of the province for the week has again been in distinct defect of the normal, the general defect equalling 1·7°, while in such districts as South-West Bengal, East Bengal, and Chota Nagpur the defect has exceeded 2°.

The distribution of temperature in the province for the week and its variation from the normal value are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with their normal values for the same period. Again, it will be seen that the largest variations have taken place in the night or minimum temperatures:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

INCREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Jute, screwed	1,794	Kerosine oil	2,613
Mymensingh, Postgolah, Saidpur and Sirajganj show the principal increases.		Due to the prohibition of carriage by boat within certain limits of the port of Calcutta.
		Railway plant and rolling-stock	2,115
		Due to construction of connected railways.

DECREASES.

	Tons.		Tons.
Coal	16,114	Jute, unscrewed	7,621
Sufficiency of stocks for railway and flotilla use.		Haldibari, Kushtia and Sirajgunj show large decreases, due to dullness of Calcutta market. All available jute was bought by up-country traders.
Cotton piece-goods, &c.	2,870	Oil-seeds	2,631
Due to Pujas falling about a month earlier this year than the last.		The decrease was principally in despatches from Goalundo, Kushtia and Pangsa, due to short crop.
Rice	2,825	Salt	2,346
The decrease was principally in despatches from Goalundo and stations on the Northern and Bihár sections, said to be due to falling of price in the Calcutta market and short crop.		Ordinary fluctuation.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1891-92, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

T. INGLIS, Secretary.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with theSuperintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of "O." The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in seven volumes during the current year; but an eighth volume may also be issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The period of registration of subscribers' names having expired on the 1st October, the price will in future be in India Rs. 45 and in England 3 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made). An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England, at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately.

[First Publication.]

CHINA SEA—BORNEO, NORTH-WEST AND NORTH COASTS.

Existence of a shoal off the north-west coast.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 488 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

The following information concerning the existence of a shoal lying off the north-west coast of Borneo, and the buoyage, &c., of Mallawallé channel, has been received from Commander A. M. Field, H.M. Surveying ship Egeria :—

(1) Shoal north-west of Acis shoals.

A shoal (James shoal), with 12 fathoms water on it, and 22 to 31 fathoms around, lies about 25 miles north-west of Acis shoals, in approximately lat. 4° 0′ N., long. 112° 18′ E

(2) Mallawallé channel—Buoys and beacons.

a. BILLEAN ISLAND.—A cylindrical buoy, painted red and black in horizontal stripes, and surmounted by a black spherical cage (20 feet above the sea), is moored on the east extreme of the 2½ fathoms shoal lying N.-E. by N. from Billean island, with the north end of that island in line with the centre of Tagipil island bearing S. 36° W., in approximately lat. 6° 38′ 55″ N., long. 117° 47′ 50″ E.

CAUTION.—A shoal, with 3 fathoms water on it, lies about one mile N.-E. ¾ E. from Billean buoy, which does not therefore mark the edge of the danger line north-east of Billean.

b. LEONAN REEF.—A beacon consisting of a framework iron tripod surmounted by a black triangle has been erected on the south-east extreme of Leonan reef, with Kalangaan island bearing N. 74° W., distant 7¾ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 44′ 30″ N., long. 117° 37′ 40″ E.

A small red buoy, surmounted by a ball (6 feet above the sea), is moored with Leonan reef beacon bearing S. 61° W., distant 2¼ miles.

c. SANDY ISLAND.—A beacon, consisting of a framework tripod, painted red and black, and surmounted by a cage 35 feet high, has been erected on Sandy island, with Sipindung island bearing N. 59° W., distant 4¼ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 49′ 30″ N., long. 117° 37′ 10″ E.

d. SIPINDUNG ISLAND.—A small red buoy, surmounted by a ball (6 feet above the sea), is moored with Sipindung island bearing N. 33° E., distant 1½ miles, or in approximately lat. 6° 50′ 45″ N., long. 117° 32′ 35″ E.

CAUTION.—A note has been placed on Admiralty chart No. 1650 to the effect that "The route marked has been followed with safety, but in such reef strewn waters other dangers not charted may exist."

CHINA SEA—BORNEO, NORTH AND EAST COASTS.

Newly discovered dangers.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 489 issued by the British Admiralty is republished.

The following information relating to the existence and particulars of the undermentioned dangers and banks lying off the north and east coasts of Borneo has been received from Commander A. M. Field, H.M. Surveying ship Egeria:—

1. BANGUEY SOUTH CHANNEL.—A coral head (Ten foot rock), 70 yards long in an E.-N.-E. and W.-S.-W. direction, and 30 yards broad, with a least depth of 10 feet at low water spring tides, and 17 fathoms close around, lies near the fairway of South Banguey channel, with Petrel rock bearing N.-N.-E. ¾ E., distant about 7 cables, or in approximately lat. 7° 3′ 50″ N., long. 117° 6′ 10″ E.

CAUTION.—As no less than three shoal patches have recently been discovered in the track usually followed in this part of Mallawallé channel, the utmost caution must be used in navigating this locality, as well as the whole channel to Sandakan, as it is more than probable that others exist as yet undetected.

2. LANKAYAN ISLAND.—A coral patch (Kechil rock), about 3 cables in extent, with 4½ fathoms water on it, and 19 to 21 fathoms around, lies with Lankayan island bearing about S.-W. ⅝ W., distant 7 miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 34′ 40″ N., long. 118° 1′ E.

3. LANGAAN ISLAND.—A coral patch (Johnston rock), 4 cables long in a N.-N.-W. and S.-S.-E. direction, and 2 cables broad, with 13 feet on it at low water spring tides, and 18 fathoms around, lies with the south-east extreme of Langaan island bearing S.-W. ¾ W., distant 2$\frac{3}{10}$ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 13′ 20″ N., long. 118° 11′ 15″ E.

4. NYMPH REEF.—A coral shoal (Royalist rock), 4 cables long in a N.-N.-E. and S.-S.-W. direction, with a least depth of 6 feet at low water spring tides near its south-west end, and 18 fathoms around, lies with Nymph reef bearing N.-N.-E., distant about 1¾ miles. Approximate position, lat. 5° 42′ 50″ N., long. 118° 40′ E.

5. Sunday bank, previously known to exist, somewhat circular in shape and about 5 miles in extent, has depths of 9 to 47 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest part found (9 fathoms over coral) lies near its western edge in approximately lat. 5° 49′ 30″ N., long. 119° 9′ E.

6. A bank (Normandy bank), about 5 miles long in a N.-N.-E. and S.-S.-W. direction and 2⅓ miles broad, has depths of 6 to 50 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest part found (6 fathoms over coral) lies near its south-west end, in approximately lat. 5° 47′ N., long. 119° 13′ E. Soundings of 119 and 203 fathoms were obtained between this bank and Sunday bank.

7. A bank (Sentry bank), the north edge of which has not been defined, but probably about 7 miles in extent, has depths of 7 to 50 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest spot found (7 fathoms) lies about one mile within its western edge in approximately lat. 5° 40′ N., long. 109° 18′ E.

8. DENT HAVEN.—A narrow coral shoal (Hardy patch), 1⅓ cables long in a north and south direction, with a least depth of 18 feet at low water spring tides, lies in the approach to Dent haven, in approximately lat. 5° 15′ 20″ N., long. 119° 18′ 20″ E.

9. SIBUKO OR ST. LUCIA BAY.—A coral head (Hand rock), about 50 yards in extent, and a wash at low water spring tides, with 18 fathoms around, lies in the fairway of Sibuko bay, in approximately lat. 4° 8′ N., long. 118° 11′ E. This rock should be marked P.D.

A narrow coral patch, about 2⅓ cables long in an east and west direction, with a least depth of 14 feet at low water spring tides near its west end, lies with Batu Tinagat, north shore of Sibuko bay, bearing E. by N. ½ N., distant about 3 miles. Approximate position lat. 4° 12′ N., long. 117° 56′ E.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 210 of 1892 issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 490 of 1892) that telegraphic information has been received through the Board of Trade that the light-vessel on the south side of entrance to Massawa harbour is replaced by a light buoy, from which is exhibited a fixed red light. The buoy is moored with Mudar fort flagstaff bearing approximately S.-S.-W., distant 2¾ cables.

INDIAN OCEAN.

Icebergs in about Lat. 50° S., Long. 104° E.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 497 of 1892) that information has been received from Shaw, Savill, and Albion Company, London, that the Commander of the S.S. Coptic reports that between lat. 50° 9′ S., long. 99° 40′ E., and lat. 49° 35′ S., long. 108° 37′ E., thirteen icebergs were passed.

NOTE.—Ice in this locality in this quantity is not frequent at this time of the year, though the records show it has occurred before. Taken in conjunction with the mass of ice at present in the South Atlantic, it appears probable that there has been an unusual dislocation and spreading north of the southern ice, and caution should be used.

THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.—SINGAPORE.

The port of Klang, Selangor, worked under the block system.

THE Colonial Secretary to the Government of the Straits Settlements has given notice, (Notification No. 636 of 1892) that on and after Thursday, 10th November, navigation of the river Klang between the Police station at Kuala Klang and the Railway wharves at the port of Klang will be worked under the block system.

A signal mast carrying a red ball will be erected near the Police station, Kuala Klang, and another at the wharves at Klang.

The normal condition of the river is to be considered closed, when the red ball on the signal mast will be at the yard arm.

When a steam-vessel desiring to enter the river comes within a mile of Kuala Klang, she must sound her steam-horn as a warning to the signalman at the Police station, and she may not enter the river until the signal ball is lowered from the yard arm.

No vessel may leave the wharves at Klang without the consent of the Station master Klang, and until the signal ball at Klang wharves has been lowered.

The ball signal will be worked between sunrise and sunset, and a red lamp will be shewn in the same way between sunset and sunrise.

This Regulation does not apply to sailing vessels.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 501 of 1892) of the existence of a shoal, with an estimated depth of 6 to 10 feet on it, lying with Eyo islet bearing N.-N.-W., distant about one mile. With much swell or in heavy weather, the sea would probably break on this danger.

Approximate position, lat. 10° 24′ 10″ S., long. 161° 23′ 45″ E.

NOTE.—Near the coast, and N.-E. by E. ½ E. from the abovementioned shoal, is situated a village named Bea. From this village, and for about one mile to the south-eastward, a rocky ledge extends parallel to the beach, and about 5 cables from it, which dries at half tide.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 166, dated 17th September 1892, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 512 of 1892) that a straight channel, 200 feet wide, has been dredged to a depth of 30 feet at low water, from the 30 feet line of soundings outside Honolulu harbour entrance, to the same depth within the harbour; and that ships not exceeding 28 feet draught may now safely enter.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 115, dated 4th July 1892, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 475 of 1892) that on 1st October 1892, a sector of red light would be shown from Entrance Islet light-house, Macquarie harbour entrance, through an arc of 35°, or from the bearing of S. 16° E. to S. 51° E.

NOTE.—A wire hawser to facilitate communication has been stretched from Bushy (Cap and Bonnet) islet to the mainland; there is therefore no channel for vessels south-west of it.

Alterations in certain leading lights—Howe or North channel.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 476 of 1892) that on 13th September 1892 Tangaluma light would be moved 466 yards N. ¼ E. from its previous position, and would then be elevated 277 feet above high water.

Approximate position, lat. 27° 11′ 30″ S., long. 153° 23′ 20″ E.

The southern limit of the sector of white light shown from Yellow Patch light-house has been altered to bear E. by S. instead of E. ¼ S., as formerly.

NOTE.—Vessels entering Howe or North channel should proceed as usual until Tangaluma and Cowan Cowan lights are in line bearing S. 17° E., and should keep them so, till the southern limit of the sector of white light shown from Yellow Patch light-house is reached, when the course should be altered to the eastward to bring Tangaluma light open eastward of Cowan Cowan light the difference in their heights, and then proceed with them in that position. By following this course, a depth of not less than 21 feet at low water spring-tides will be carried.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1891-92

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS No. 3477

Calcutta, the 6th December 1892.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Presidency Division for the year 1891-92.

THE report is submitted by Mr. Beames, who was appointed Commissioner in November in succession to Messrs. Smith and Westmacott. The Commissioners spent about three months and a quarter on tour, to which Mr. Westmacott contributed 34 days, Mr. Beames 60 days, and Mr. Smith the remainder. The retirement of Mr. Smith has deprived the Lieutenant-Governor of the services of an officer of much industry, ability and experience, who had for some years before his appointment to the Board of Revenue been in charge of this important division. The district officers of the 24-Parganas, Nadia, and Khulna completed the period of tour prescribed for their respective districts by the orders of Government. In Jessore and Murshidabad the tours fell short, in the former case by 35 days, and in the latter by 12 days. In Jessore, Mr. Harris was out for 15 days between the 1st April and the 12th July, Mr. Stevenson-Moore for 44 days between the 13th July and the 22nd December, and Mr. Currie for only 26 days between the 23rd December and the 14th March. Mr. Earle, who was in charge for the remainder of the year, did no touring, being occupied with the inspection of the offices at head quarters. The frequent change of officers partly accounts for the failure, but the Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept this as an adequate excuse for the great defect in the amount of touring done. In Murshidabad Mr. Manisty was out for 53 days between the 1st April and the 31st October, and Mr. Collier for 55 days during the remainder of the year. The Commissioner inspected all district offices and all sub-divisions except three. The Collectors inspected their own and the sub-divisional offices twice, with the solitary exception of the Basirhat sub-division, which was inspected only once. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the rules regarding inspection of offices were so generally complied with.

Material condition of the people, health, and crops.

2. The climatic conditions of the year were unfavourable to agriculture, and the good outturn of the early rice harvest was more than counterbalanced by the failure of the late rice and winter crops. The deficiency was considerable in Nadia and extended generally to the rest of the Division, with the exception of some parts of the 24-Parganas, Murshidadad and Khulna. Summing up the situation, the Commissioner says:—

"Generally speaking, the year was therefore one of diminished prosperity for the agricultural classes, though the distress was nowhere so severe as to call for State intervention. Cultivators in the Murshidabad district make large profits by rearing silk-cocoons, though since the spread of disease among the silkworms this has come to be a somewhat precarious industry, and individuals occasionally lose by it. It is still, however, not uncommon for a single raiyat to raise cocoons to the value of Rs. 100, the greater portion of such sum being clear profit.

"The landless labouring classes were also not well off, because while the rates of wages, both for skilled and unskilled labour, remained stationary, they had to pay high prices for food. They, however, found ample work at the mills in the 24-Parganas, at the silk filatures in Murshidabad, and at the sugar manufactures in Jessore.

"The condition of the poorer middle class remains the same; they suffer from the difficulties which in all crowded civilised communities beset the poor gentleman who is compelled to incur expenses beyond his means to keep up his position. In India the difficulty is aggravated by the necessity of supporting a crowd of poor relations."

The absence of floods and the deficient amount and uneven distribution of the rainfall appear to have been important factors in determining the sanitary condition of the year, which was an extremely unhealthy one. In Nadia the death-rate reached 43·65 per mille, the highest ever recorded for that district. In Murshidabad the death-rate from fevers alone was 25·36 per mille, which the Commissioner says is the highest mortality for fever on record, and exceeds the total recorded mortality of several previous years. Besides fever, cholera proved very fatal during the year, showing itself in an epidemic form in nearly every district. The only district in which the death-rate is less than that of the previous year is Khulna, but here again the number of deaths is considerably higher than the average number in the two years preceding. The total death-rate of the division increased from 22·9 in 1889-90, and 25·8 in 1890-91 to 34·4 in 1891-92. The crying want of the division is good drinking water. The Commissioner writes:—

"The question of securing a good supply of drinking-water is undoubtedly a very serious one. The task is beyond the power of any Government to accomplish, but it is by no means beyond the power of the people themselves. Unfortunately the people of India are very slow to help themselves; their only idea is to cry to Government to help them. Educated Bengalis profess great attachment to the principle of Local Self-Government, so long as it is confined to spending money supplied to them by Government. It is time that they should be taught that Local Self-Government means local efforts to help themselves. District Officers should direct their Engineers to impress upon the people how much they may effect by local subscriptions and personal exertions. If the owners of tanks would throw them open for public use, and the labouring classes, who sit idle for a large part of the year, would give a certain number of days of gratuitous labour, much might be done. But so long as zamindars will not allow their tanks to be touched, and the peasant, though suffering from want of water, will not dig, unless he is paid for it, progress must necessarily be slow. Both these difficulties might in time be overcome if Collectors and Sub-divisional Officers would devote themselves to the task of persuasion and organising local effort."

Manufactures, Trade, and Commerce.

8. The number of mills, presses, and factories in the 24-Parganas stood at 46, as in the previous year. A glass manufactory, with a capital of Rs. 3,00,000, was opened at Titaghar towards the end of the year. The jute mills are said to have had a profitable year, but the cotton mills which have to contend with American competition did not do so well. The outturn of the paper mill at Titaghar was 2,955 tons against 2,756 tons in the previous year, valued at Rs. 10,18,697 against Rs. 9,65,711. In Nadia and Jessore the outturn and value of indigo exceeded that of 1889-90 and were about three times as great as in 1890-91, which, however, was a very poor season. Messrs. Renwick and Co's sugar-cane mills appear to become more popular every year, and 1,400 of these mills were hired out to cultivators against 1,100 in the previous year. The number of sugar factories in Jessore increased from 160 to 167, and there was also a considerable increase in the outturn and value of manufactured sugar. In Khulna the only important industry is said to be the manufacture of sugar, the statistics of which show a decline in the amount produced as compared with the year preceding, but an increase in the value, the figures for sugar and molasses combined being in 1889-90 produce 78,911 maunds valued at Rs. 2,35,604, and in 1891-92 produce 68,769 maunds valued at Rs. 2,46,658. The Commissioner observes:—

"Both the decrease in quantity and increase in value were due to the fact that the yield of date trees was much smaller in the year under report than in the preceding year. The smaller supply, coupled with a larger demand, raised the prices, which had been very low during the preceding year."

In Murshidabad both silk and indigo show signs of decadence, and it would seem that the European demand for Indian silk is declining. The number of indigo factories has decreased from 27 in 1889-90, and 28 in the following year, to 25 in the year under report. The produce as compared with 1889-90 has decreased by about a half, and the value by more than a half.

The figures showing the export and import traffic registered along the eleven main road routes of the 24-Parganas given by the Commissioner in paragraph 80 of his Report do not include all articles of traffic registered by weight. The total weight of traffic into Calcutta actually increased by 438,000 maunds, and that of traffic from Calcutta by 313,000 maunds. The trade along the Nadia rivers shows a considerable decline both in imports and exports. As regards the rail-borne trade of Khulna, the Commissioner writes:—

"It will be seen that there was a decrease in the tonnage of imports of over 13 per cent. There was, however, no decrease in the amount of freight, which, on the other hand, increased by over 9 per cent. This is ascribed to the fact that the reduction in tonnage occurred in coal and coke only, which are carried at low rates, while there was an increase in most other articles paying higher rates of freight.

"As regards exports there was an increase both in tonnage and freight, the former of which increased by a little more, and the latter by a little less, than 4 per cent. The most marked increase was in seeds, rice, jute, and betelnuts, which is said to show that the railway is beginning to divert a small portion of the trade in these articles, which had hitherto been carried on entirely by boats. Up to the present time, however, the railway has by no means answered to the expectations formed concerning it, the cheapness and freedom from restrictions and regulations of the river traffic enabling it to hold its own."

* Ranaghat Munsif. This number is not distributed in columns 6, 7, and 8.

The figures in column 12 are obtained by taking one title suit as equivalent to three rent or money suits, and one Small Cause Court suit as one-third of an ordinary suit. On this basis, the average number of unit cases disposed of by each Munsif was 2,149. The highest proportion of cases was disposed of by the Munsif of Meherpur, who, however, only sat for three months of the year. Next come the Munsifs of Barasat, Jhenidah, Satkhira and Jessore who all exceeded 2,300 cases. The least amount of work was done by the Munsifs at the Sadar and Azimganj stations of Murshidabad, and the Munsif of Ranaghat.

The worst returns of detention of witnesses over two days are shown by the Munsifs of Azimganj and Basirhat, who so detained over 30 per cent. of their witnesses. The ratio exceeded 20 per cent. in the munsifis of Ranaghat, Murshidabad and Kandi, and 10 per cent. in those of Diamond Harbour, Nadia, Chuadanga, Meherpur, Kushtea, Magura, and Lalbagh. With the exceptions named, the Munsifs of the 24-Parganas, Jessore and Khulna show best in this respect. The ratio of cases pending at the close of the year to cases disposed of was highest in the munsifis of Sealdah, Chuadanga, Ranaghat, Narail, Magura, Azimganj and Bagerhat in all of which it exceeded 20 per cent The lowest ratios are shown by the Munsifs of Jessore, Bangaon and Satkhira who, it will be observed, all disposed of over two thousand cases, and by the Munsif of Meherpur. The average ratio of decisions upheld in appeal was 57 per cent. The ratio was highest at Krishnagar, 68 per cent., and lowest in Khulna, 50 per cent.

As regards rent suits in the 24-Parganas, the Commissioner remarks:—

"The average duration of contested rent suits was 159 days, against 163 in 1890, and that of uncontested cases was 83 days against 88 in the year preceding. These figures, it is stated, relate to the proceedings prior to and including the decree, and not to execution proceedings subsequent to the decree. It is therefore observed that in uncontested cases (which in the case of rent suits are four-fifths of the whole) the Civil Courts take 83 days to reach the stage which, under the certificate procedure, is reached when a certificate becomes absolute: These proceedings occupy the certificate Courts about six weeks or 42 days. The Civil Courts are thus twice as slow in uncontested cases as the certificate Courts, and the Collector observes that, if under proper safeguards certificate Courts were thrown open to private suits for rents, the benefit to the zamindars would be considerable. I may also observe that the Collector and his Deputies would be overwhelmed with work."

Crime, Police, and Criminal Justice.

5. The number of cognizable offences reported rose from 14,689 to 15,099, the increase occurring chiefly under the head of burglaries, and attributed partly to an erroneous classification adopted in Murshidabad under the orders of Mr. Manisty, but since withdrawn, and partly to the better reporting of cases at stations It is satisfactory to observe that the number of rioting cases in Jessore and Khulna has considerably diminished, owing to the cessation of the indigo disturbances in the former district, and to repressive measures under the Criminal Procedure Code in the latter. The number of non-cognizable cases decreased from 17,647 in 1890 to 16,574 in 1891, the diminution occurring in the 24-Parganas, Nadia and Murshidabad, while Jessore and Khulna show a slight increase. In Murshidabad the increase in class IV cases is attributed to the lack of discretion on the part of Magistrates in entertaining complaints, a point to which inspecting officers should devote their attention.

Police.

6. The Commissioner says that, on the whole, the conduct of the police was good during the year under report, but that this praise is only relative will appear from the following remarks of the Magistrate of the 24-Parganas and the Commissioner's commentary upon them:—

"The standard of intelligence reached by the bulk of the upper subordinates in the police is disappointingly low. In the metropolitan district the police have to deal with criminals of an exceptionally cunning and dangerous class, and the picked men of the force are needed to cope with them. The majority of the district staff, however, are not picked men by any means, and a few of them are more than usually stupid and inert. Efforts are being made to secure recruits of a higher stamp, but the service is unpopular, and without a material increase of pay I doubt whether much improvement can be effected."

The Commissioner adds:—

"The same remarks might be fairly applied to the other districts of this Division."

The chaukidars are reported to have worked well except in Jessore, where they are said to have failed to report the absence of bad characters from their villages, but it may be that the system of questioning at the chaukidari parades is imperfectly carried out in that district.

Stipendiary Magistrates.

8. Taking Stipendiary Magistrates first, 55¼ officers disposed of 21,737 cases. The average number of cases disposed of by each officer was 393, but this number was considerably exceeded in the Sadar and Sealdah Courts of the 24-Parganas, and at Meherpur and Lalbagh. At Sealdah one officer disposed of 5,218 cases, but a large number of these were trivial offences, and in many cases no witnesses were examined. The least work was done at Dum-Dum, and at the Sadar stations of Jessore, Murshidabad and Khulna. The average number of witnesses examined per case was 3, but in Jessore the average was nowhere below 6, and at Jhenidah and Magura it was 9 and 8 respectively. At Khulna, Sadar, it was 7. Over 10 per cent. of the witnesses were detained over two days in the courts at Jangipur and Bagerhat. The returns show that with those exceptions cases were disposed of with commendable promptitude in all the courts of the division.

The number of police cases disposed of was 12,620, of which 387, or 3 per cent., were remanded six times and more. The figures for Sealdah (5,363) are very large, but they are almost all trivial cases of offences under the Municipal Act, and the cases disposed of by the Honorary Magistrates have been mixed up with those of the Joint Magistrate. The 2,845 cases disposed of in the Alipore Suburban Police Court were of the same character. The courts where more than 10 per cent. of such delays took place were those at the Sadar, Jhenidah, and Bangaon stations of Jessore, and all those in the Khulna district. At Bangaon, Bagerhat and Satkhira the ratio exceeded 20 per cent. Besides these, Maulvi Ikram Rasul at Krishnagar and Mr. J. C. Williamson at Murshidabad exceeded or nearly reached a ratio of 20 per cent. The percentages elsewhere are good. The percentage of persons convicted to persons disposed of was 70 for the whole division the highest percentage, occurring at Barrackpore and Sealdah, and the lowest at Bangaon, Jessore, Jhenidah, Khulna, and Magura. The percentage of cases modified or reversed on appeal to the number appealed was 31 for the whole division excluding Sealdah, and Barrackpore where no cases were successfully appealed against. It was as high as 45 for the Sadar station of the 24-Parganas, 41 for Jangipur, 40 for Bagerhat, and 38 for Narail and the Sadar station of Khulna. The ratio was lowest at Meherpur, Chuadanga, Magura and Kandi.

Honorary Magistrates.

9. The number of cases decided by Benches and Honorary Magistrates sitting singly was 7,115 in 1891 against 7,647 in 1890. The Honorary Magistrates at the head-quarters, Sealdah, and Barrackpore stations of the 24-Parganas, and at the head-quarter station of Nadia, disposed of most cases with a good percentage of convictions. A fair amount of work was also done at Rajpur, Navadwip, Kushtia, Jessore and Murshidabad. Of the decisions appealed against 51 per cent were modified or reversed, and this ratio reaches 100 per cent. at Meherpur, Murshidabad, Jangipur, Kandi and Satkhira, but the number of appeals was small. At Krishnagar the ratio was 68 per cent., and at Khulna 62 per cent. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the number of witnesses detained over two days is generally small, but at Bagerhat in Khulna 30 per cent., and at Joynagar in the 24-Parganas 12 per cent. of the witnesses were so detained. The Honorary Magistrates at Alipore disposed of 12 police cases, of which three, or 25 per cent., were remanded more than six times. The only police case made over to the Honorary Bench at Satkhira in Khulna was remanded more than six times. Mr. Baker specially mentions the excellent work done at the head-quarters of the 24-Parganas by Babus Manilal Banerjee and Preo Nath Mullick, who sat singly, and the Lieutenant Governor desires to thank these gentlemen for the assistance they afforded to the Officers of Government. Of the Benches in his district, except those at Sealdah and Barrackpore, Mr. Baker was unable to report favourably, and, with the exception to which reference has been made, the degree of success attained elsewhere in the working of the system was very moderate. The usual complaint is made of want of regularity in the attendance of Honorary Magistrates, and the Commissioner recommends that a rule should be made under which six consecutive absences would disqualify an Honorary Magistrate from further acting in that capacity. The following table, showing the attendance of Honorary Magistrates, is a sufficient indication that some action is called for; but the Lieutenant-Governor considers it sufficient that Honorary Magistrates who persistently refuse to attend should be requested to resign:—

District.	Number of times asked to attend.	Number of times actually attended.	Absence with leave or notice.	Absence without leave or notice.	Total absence.
1	2	3	4	5	6
24-Parganas	2,857	1,752	366	739	1,105
Nadia	2,050	1,397	78	575	653
Jessore	1,012	523	233	256	489
Murshidabad	814	517	175	122	297
Khulna	662	446	67	149	216

Sessions Courts.

10. The statement below shows by districts the work of the Sessions Courts during the year:—

	District.
	24-Parganas.	Nadia.	Jessore.	Murshid-abad.	Khulna.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Number of cases committed during the year.	101	35	37	23	49	245
Number disposed of ...	64	33	40	21	49	207
Do. in which conviction obtained.	33	28	29	13	34	137
Number of above in which sentence modified or reversed by High Court.	4	2	5	...	5	16
Number of cases acquitted by Sessions Judge.	31	5	11	8	15	70

The general ratio of success in commitments was 60 per cent.; it exceeded 80 per cent in Nadia and 70 per cent in Jessore and Khulna, but fell to below 50 per cent. in the 24-Parganas. The Commissioner's report gives no indication of the causes of these varying degrees of success.

Fines.

11. The following is a statement of the fines imposed, realized and collected during the year:—

	District.
	24-Parganas.	Nadia.	Jessore.	Murshidabad.	Khulna.
1	2	3	4	5	6
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Amount due at commencement of the year	18,171	2,275	3,064	2,908	2,319
Do. imposed during the year ..	69,742	23,423	13,470	16,183	14,485
Do. collected during the year ..	61,138	18,783	12,693	14,094	13,915

Do. pending at end of year	19,151	3,175	3,279	2,988	2,889

The balance of uncollected fines has increased in every district of the Division, and is inconveniently large in the 24-Parganas.

Registration.

12. The following statement shows the work done by the different Registration Offices:—

District.	Class of Registration Office.	Number of offices.	Number of documents registered.	Average per office.
1	2	3	4	5
24 Parganas ...	Special ...	1	4,339	4,339
	Rural ...	17	60,172	3,539
Nadia ...	Special ...	1	2,784	2,784
	Rural ...	10	17,403	1,740
Jessore ...	Special ...	1	5,748	5,748
	Rural ...	18	66,136	3,674
Murshidabad ...	Ex-officio ...	1	9,579	1,596

Khulna ...	Special ...	1	6,495	6,495
	Rural ...	11	29,016	2,637
	Total ...	66	201,672

Most registrations were effected in the districts of the 24-Parganas and Jessore. In those districts the pressure of work in the rural offices was heaviest, and the number of registration offices might probably be increased with advantage.

Collection of Government demands.

13. The following table shows the demand, collections, and balances of revenue and cesses during the year, district by district, the three classes of estates referred to in the statement being—

I.—Permanently-settled estates;
II.—Temporarily-settled estates;
III.—Estates held direct by Government.

§ Rs. 638 were remitted.

¶ Rs. 1,223 were remitted.
 Total remission Rs. 15,452.

The arrears of land revenue, which amounted to Rs. 1,62,883 at the beginning of the year, were reduced to Rs. 1,04,339 at its close, the percentage of collections on the total demand being 97·6 against 96·8 in the previous year. This is so far satisfactory, especially in a year in which agricultural conditions were unfavourable; but the arrears increased in class III estates in the 24-Parganas and in Jessore. Taking all demands together, the arrears were brought down from Rs. 2,98,941 to Rs. 2,59,054.

The number of cases pending at the close of the year exceeded the number pending at its commencement in all districts except Murshidabad, where the balance was reduced from 1,204 to 874, and in no district except Murshidabad did the number of cases disposed of keep pace with the number filed during the year. In the result the balances in all districts exceed 1,000 cases except in Nadia and Murshidabad, and in the 24-Parganas the balance is 3,315 cases.

Land acquisition.

15. The following table indicates that an attempt was made in the 24-Parganas and Murshidabad to reduce the files of land acquisition cases, but the number of cases pending is still large in the 24-Parganas:—

Wards' Estates.

16. There are several Wards' Estates in the Division which are under the management of the Court of Wards. The most important are those of the minor Baroda Prosad Rai Chaudhuri of Bhawanipur in the 24-Parganas, and of the minor Ashutosh Nath Roy of Kasimbazar in Murshidabad. In the former estate which was in a very disorganized condition when it came under the Court of Wards, the collections were unsatisfactory, though the Commissioner reports that the Manager has effected much improvement by clearing off the mass of arrears left by his predecessor and adjusting outstanding accounts. It is hoped that this will be a prelude to better collections in the future. The total collections on the estate of the Kasimbazar Ward amounted to Rs. 4,23,309, being 61·3 per cent. of the total demand, while the current collections were 57·8 per cent. of the current demand. Partly by the help of the remissions of Rs. 20,696, the arrears with which the year commenced, viz., Rs. 3,47,579 were reduced to Rs. 2,45,676 when the year closed: but the figures prove that more attention was paid to the realization of arrears than of the current demand. The collections in all the Wards estates were very indifferent and require much closer attention from the Collectors. The Commissioner observes that the financial position of the Kasimbazar Ward's estate continues to be very prosperous, and that it yields a large surplus annually after defraying all expenses. The orders of Government about expenditure on improvements should be particularly applied in this estate. Two important estates were released during the year—the Nashipur mal estate, and the Nashipur debutter estate. The former had been under the management of the Court of Wards for 26 years and 4 months, during which time the total collections amounted to Rs. 70,57,386, or 98 per cent. of the aggregate demand. Rupees 1,04,408 were written off, and the balance outstanding at the date of release was Rs. 36,045 reported to be recoverable. The Nashipur debutter estate was under the Court's management for 13 years and 4 months. The collections amounted to Rs. 15,45,258, out of an aggregate demand of Rs. 15,66,227. Rupees 691 were remitted, and the balance outstanding at the date of release was Rs. 20,278. These results must be considered eminently satisfactory and creditable to the management of the Court of Wards.

The Syedpur Trust Estate in Khulna is managed on a system analogous to that for the management of estates under the Court of Wards. The total demand amounted to Rs. 3,04,816, of which Rs. 1,99,566 were collected and Rs. 416 were remitted, the percentage of collection on the total demand being 65·2. The balance is unduly large and should be explained.

Education.

18. The total number of schools has increased from 5,641 to 5,675, and the total number of pupils from 178,643 to 180,636, showing a net gain of 24 schools and 1,993 pupils. The Lieutenant-Governor shares the satisfaction expressed by the Commissioner in recording the facts that the gain has occurred almost entirely in the lower primary and special schools, and that the contributions of District Boards and Municipalities to primary education are increasing in this division. His Honour has read with much pleasure the following remarks of the Commissioner:—

"The District Boards, which have now worked for about six years, continue to take a lively interest in all educational matters, and their relations with the Educational Department are perfectly cordial. In the 24-Parganas a revised scheme has been sanctioned during the year for the better inspection of primary schools under the District Board by the substitution of inspecting pundits for chief gurus, and it is proposed to introduce the system into the other districts during the current year."

But while recognizing that an improvement has occurred not only in the actual figures, but also in the attitude of local bodies towards the education of the masses, the Lieutenant-Governor still regards the proportionate expenditure by District Boards on high and middle schools, especially in the districts of Nadia, Jessore, and Khulna, as excessive, and considers that a considerable part of the sums so spent might, with advantage, be devoted to primary education. As regards municipalities, His Honour has constantly laid down the principle that it is one of their first duties to provide primary education for all the boys resident within their limits, and until this duty has been performed, no municipality should be allowed to give anything to secondary education. The following table brings together the main educational statistics, and the figures in column 14 will show that the proportion of boys at school to boys of school going age varies from 47 per cent. in the 24-Parganas to 21 per cent. in Nadia and Jessore, and that there is a large field for improvement:—

The cost of each primary pupil exceeds Rs. 2 in all districts and Rs. 3 in Nadia. The contribution of District Boards and Municipalities to primary education amounts to less than one rupee per pupil in all districts, and less than eight annas per pupil in the 24-Parganas and Khulna.

Dispensaries.

19. The following table gives statistics concerning the dispensaries in the division, except those in the district of Murshidabad, as to which no figures have been furnished:—

Districts.	Number of dispensaries.	Income from—					Daily average patients—		Ratio per cent. of out-door patients to total population.

Murshidabad		Information not given.
Khulna	5	438	283	3,044	963	4,728	4·23	209·42	1·8

The ratio of the out-door patients to the total population is very low in Nadia, Jessore and Khulna, but in this and the other districts for which figures have been given the number of out-patients is far in excess of the number of pupils at the schools.

Local Self-Government institutions.

20. The District Boards are well spoken of in all districts except Khulna, where the amount of interest taken by members in the details of the administration is said to have diminished. The Local Boards are, as a rule, inefficient and supine. It is said that the amount of work entrusted to Local Boards is small, and not of a character to encourage zeal, but, until this unimportant but necessary work is well and thoroughly done, members cannot hope to have extended powers.

As regards municipalities, the report can only be said to be moderately satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor fears that there is too much truth in the following observations of the Commissioner, which would have been more conclusive if concrete instances of good and bad work had been given:—

"The great object of all Municipal Commissioners is to win popularity by reducing the public taxation as much as possible, regardless of the requirements of the town. It must not, however, be supposed that all municipalities are alike in this or in other respects: some are honourably distinguished by intelligent and zealous devotion to public interest, while others, and some of them, too, in the most advanced districts in the country, waste their time in party feuds and neglect their duties."

Public opinion and the conduct of zamindars.

21. There is little to be said regarding the state of public opinion during the year under report. The Commissioner writes:—

"Very little interest is taken in such matters by any but the educated classes, and their opinions are not always well considered. This class can hardly as yet be taken as a fair representative of what is known in European countries as public opinion, because public opinion in that sense does not exist in India, and the efforts made to create it do not seem as yet to have met with success."

Public feeling was in no instance more strongly aroused than by the lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, which evoked the greatest sympathy from the people for the Queen-Empress and the Royal Family in their bereavement. Regarding the Native Press Mr. Beames writes:—

"As I was in India only during the last four months of the year, I have not had much opportunity of noticing the tone of the native press during the period under review. I have never found that anything the native papers may write has any appreciable effect upon the population at large. An editor must live like any one else, and the higher he spices his paper the better it sells. This consideration accounts for much that is objectionable. They do not mean any harm, and I do not think they do any. They only want to sell their papers. It is perhaps a pity that they cannot find some other employment, but it is hardly worth while to be seriously annoyed with them"

22. In respect to the conduct of zamindars, the Maharani Sarnomoyi, C.I., maintained her high reputation for public spirit and benevolence. Khurshed Kadr Syad Iskandur Ali Mirza (Sultan Saheb) and Sulaiman Kadr Syad Wahed Ali Mirza (Nawab Jan Saheb), brothers of the Nawab of Murshidabad, continued to render useful service to their native town, the former as Chairman of the Municipality, and the latter as an Honorary Magistrate. The Kandi zamindars and Rai Dhanput Singh Bahadur have also been conspicuous for their public conduct, and the district of Murshidabad is fortunate in the possession of leading citizens such as those who have been named. In Nadia Babu Nafar Chandra Pal Chaudhri, Vice Chairman of the District Board, and in Jessore Mr. Shureff and Babu Ram Mohan Roy of Lagimia in the Jhenida sub-division, are especially well spoken of.

Conclusion

23. Sir Charles Elliott desires to acknowledge the efficient administration of Messrs. Smith and Beames during the year. His Honour has read with gratification the favourable reports of the conduct of District Officers, conspicuous among whom are Messrs. Baker and Collier. The confidential reports on all officers will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1891-92.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 13th December 1892.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The reports from the several Commissioners of Divisions on the working of the Municipalities in Bengal (except Calcutta) during the year 1891-92.

Read again—

The Resolution reviewing the Divisional Commissioners' reports on the working of Municipalities during the year 1890-91.

The following Resolution reviews the reports submitted by Commissioners of Divisions on the working of municipalities during the year 1891-92. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to notice that these reports were again received late, which is due to the fact that in the majority of cases district reports did not reach the Commissioners till after the due date. His Honour is aware that some delay was caused by orders received locally after the close of the year prescribing changes in the form of the reports and the submission of additional information, and he is not insensible to the difficulty of obtaining complete reports from the smaller municipalities, but he requests that steps may be taken to prevent delay in future, and in particular that some time before the end of the year, the attention of all Chairmen may specially be drawn to the subject.

2. Amendment of the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884.—Early in 1891-92, the attention of the Lieutenant-Governor was drawn to a judgment of the High Court, ruling that orders passed extending to particular municipalities certain provisions of the repealed Bengal Municipal Act V of 1876 did not apply to the corresponding provisions of Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884. It followed that these provisions dealing with important branches of conservancy, sanitation, and cognate subjects, were not legally in force in any municipality to which they had been extended under Bengal Act V of 1876. This state of things called for an immediate remedy. Two courses were open, either to amend the Act so as to validate orders of the kind referred to which were passed under the old Act, or to issue fresh orders under the new Act for each place affected by the judgment. While considering this point the Lieutenant-Governor was led to enter upon the general question, whether the time had not come to amend the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884 on a variety of points which had from time to time been brought to notice as calling for amendment. The matter principally requiring reform is the system under which the assessment of municipal rates is framed, in which many irregularities are found to exist. Larger powers are also needed to enable the municipalities to enforce sanitary regulations, and provisions are required to facilitate the control of the Government over municipalities which neglect their duties, a control which can now only be exercised by the drastic process of suspending or abolishing the powers of the Commissioners. A draft Bill embodying such changes as appeared to be most urgently called for was accordingly prepared and submitted for approval to the Government of India. The question was still under discussion at the close of the year.

3. Number of Municipalities.—The total number of Municipalities in existence at the close of the year was 145, being the same as in the previous year. The statement in Appendix A shows the date of establishment of each municipality in the province, the population within municipal limits, and the actual number of rate-payers in each. The total population enjoying the benefits of municipal administration in the 145 municipalities in Bengal (outside Calcutta) is shown by the recent census as 2,721,405 souls. In 1881-82, when the previous census was taken, the number of municipalities including Unions and Stations was 185 and their population amounted to 3,005,029. The municipal population of Bengal was therefore 4·5 per cent. of the whole in 1881-82 and 3·8 per cent. in 1891-92. The decrease in the number of municipal institutions and of the population under municipal government is due to the operation of Act IV (B.C.) of 1884, which did away with a large number of unions which existed under Act V of 1876. These were small groups of villages which in reality were in no sense urban, and the administration of which it seemed better to transfer to the District and Local Boards then about to be formed.

4. The percentage of rate-payers is highest in the Presidency Division, where it is 21·3, and lowest in the Orissa Division, where it is no more than 14·5. In some few municipalities the proportion per cent. considerably exceeds the provincial average, as for instance in the three municipalities in Nadia of Birnagar (34·3), Ranaghat (30·8), and Santipur (30·2). In Cuttack and Darbhanga, on the other hand, the ratio was as low as 8·8 per cent. The extremely low figures in these two important municipalities indicate either an extraordinary proportion of the very poorest classes or the need for a thorough revision of the assessment. The average proportion of rate-payers to the whole population within municipal limits was 17·4 per cent.

5. Elective System.—The system under which two-thirds of the total number of Commissioners fixed for each municipality are elected by the rate-payers was, as in the previous year, in force in all the municipalities except the twenty-eight named in the Resolution for 1890-91.

6. Results of elections held during the year.—General elections were held only in the Municipalities of Kharar in Midnapore and Hazaribagh. In both places the elections were contested, but not with much spirit. The average attendance of voters at Kharar and Hazaribagh was 27·6 and 42·7 per cent. respectively of the total number of electors qualified to vote. The results of the bye-elections, as also those of the general elections mentioned above, are shown in detail in Appendix B. These bye-elections were in many cases contested, the percentage of attendance of voters varying from 77·7 at Arrah to ·09 at Lalbagh. Two of the bye-elections held during the year failed, one at Uttarpara and the other at Cuttack, and the vacancies were filled by the appointment of Commissioners under section 16 of the Act. It is curious to notice that in one ward in the Meherpur Municipality there are only three persons registered as qualified to vote at an election, and it seems ridiculous to recognise it as a separate ward for electoral purposes. The general percentage of voters at the elections held during the year for which complete figures are given was only 37·5, a figure which indicates clearly enough that in spite of statements often made to the contrary the average voter sets but little store by the privilege of the franchise.

7. Constitution of Committees.—The following table shows, separately for each Division, the constitution of the Committees of the municipalities, together with the professions or occupations of their members:—

The proportion of members of the legal profession is highest in the Chittagong and Chota Nagpur Divisions, where it is 36·9 and 34·7 per cent. respectively. In the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions the percentage is only 13·5 and 20·7. The landholding class are best represented in the Patna Division (26·2 per cent.), the Presidency (22·1 per cent.), Dacca (21·8 per cent.), and Bhagalpur (21·2 per cent). In the Patna Division there is a considerable proportion of non-official Europeans, and in the Monghyr district three-fourths of the Commissioners are European employés of the East Indian Railway. The table in the margin which compares the percentage of officials and Europeans, respectively, on the total number of Commissioners during 1890-91, with the corresponding percentages of the previous five years, shows that the fluctuations have been very small.

8. Attendance at meetings.—The table in Appendix C shows the number of meetings held in each municipality and the average percentage of attendance of Commissioners at each meeting. The largest number of meetings during the year in any municipality was 56, held by the Municipal Commissioners of Kumarkhali, a figure which implies either an extraordinary devotion to business or an unusual difficulty in securing a quorum. In each of the following thirty-seven municipalities the number of meetings held exceeded 20: during the previous year only twenty municipalities reached this standard:—

Under section 38 of the Municipal Act a meeting is to be held ordinarily once a month unless there is no business to transact, when a notice to that effect should be circulated to the Commissioners. As many as twenty-two municipalities held less than 12 meetings, the most prominent cases of default being those named in the margin. Both of the first two municipalities are badly spoken of by the district officer, and seem to need stimulus or abolition. At the same time it is to be noted that frequent meetings do not necessarily imply successful administration, since the Commissioners of Puri met on 26 occasions.

9. In respect of percentage of attendance the results of the year are satisfactory. In five municipalities three-fourths of the Commissioners attended every meeting, and in ninety-seven others the attendance was more than 50 per cent., so that the minimum attendance of one-half suggested in the Resolution for 1890-91 was attained in one hundred and two municipalities out of one hundred and forty-five as against eighty-three in 1890-91. The Lieutenant-Governor has read these figures with satisfaction. The highest average percentage of attendance was attained in the North Barrackpore Municipality, where it is shown to be 87·5, and the lowest place is held by Ranchi, where at 12 meetings an average of only 30·7 per cent. of the Commissioners attended.

10. Ward Committees.—In consequence, probably, of the remarks made in last year's Resolution, considerable attention has been given in this year's Reports to the question of appointing Ward Committees, and the general opinion appears to be unfavourable to their creation. They exist in 19 Municipalities only. It is reported that in the Burdwan Division, endeavours are being made to appoint Ward Committees in the Municipalities of Kalna, Raniganj and Suri, and that the Commissioners of the Burdwan Municipality are averse from this measure as it had not been found to work well. The Chairman of the Howrah Municipality holds that it is not desirable to appoint Ward Committees in Howrah, as there is a strong "executive, quite distinct from the Commissioners, which recognizes only the orders of the Commissioners as a body, and not orders of single Commissioners. A Ward Committee is partly consultative and partly executive, and is thus peculiarly liable to exercise abuse of powers." The Commissioner agrees in this view. In Burdwan no Ward Committees have been formed, but the elected Commissioners are supposed to look after the interests of the wards for which they were severally elected. A counterfoil book is supplied to each Commissioner in the following form:—

Street.	Matters brought to notice.	Street.	Matters brought to notice.	Orders passed by Chairman.

The Commissioners keep the counterfoil and send the other part to the Chairman for action. This is a good idea, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it will commend itself to the Commissioners of Municipalities in which no Ward Committees have been formed. The Magistrate of Nadia, however, thinks that it is a mistake to entrust these Committees with the duty of making assessments or collection of taxes, as being residents of the wards, the members are not strong enough to resist local influence or to risk odium. Their services could, he says, be better utilised in supervising conservancy arrangements, road-cleaning, and petty public works. The Commissioner of Rajshahi reports that the Ward Committees that existed formerly in the Rampur Boalia Municipality having proved of little use during the incumbency of the late Municipal Board, no such Committees were formed by the existing Board, and the duties hitherto delegated to the Ward Committees are now performed by the Ward Commissioners. The views of the Commissioner of Dacca on the subject are expressed in the following extract from his report:—"As the result of personal enquiries in another part of Bengal, I attribute the unwillingness of Commissioners to appoint Ward Committees to a want of confidence in such Committees observing a uniform mode of procedure in dealing with matters entrusted to them. Chairmen who take the greatest interest in their duties prefer to seek the co-operation of individual Commissioners, whose views are in sympathy with their own, to constituting Ward Committees that might become the centres of organized opposition to their wishes." Referring to the Ward Committees in the Arrah Municipality, the Chairman observes:—"I am not sure myself that the institution of Ward Committees in Arrah is necessary at present. The Chairman and Vice-Chairman look after the sanitation of the town and give their directions to the Overseer. If the Ward Committees acted wisely and energetically, they would be no doubt of use, but from my experience of three months' work in this municipality, I think their supervision would give the Chairman more trouble and take up more time than the performance in person of their duties would demand." The Commissioner of Patna agrees with these remarks; and reports that Ward Committees are no doubt very good in theory, but in practice they merely tend to disintegrate the working and generally to dissipate the control of the central authority, and as a general rule they give more trouble than they are worth. As regards the Cuttack Municipality, the Commissioner of the Orissa Division reports that the crying want of this municipality is a thoroughly competent staff for supervising its public works. Complaints are made by the rate-payers, that no steps have yet been taken for the formation of such Ward Committees, and that the Chairman and Vice-Chairman do not periodically and constantly inspect every part of the town. These officers cannot always afford the necessary time, but if Ward Committees were formed the members of them could do so on behalf of the rate-payers.

11. Municipal Benches.—The Municipal Benches in the Province which were four less than in 1890-91 tried 20,090 cases of nuisance and breaches of conservancy rules in which 17,354 persons were convicted, against 19,668 cases and 17,689 persons convicted in the previous year. The amount of fines inflicted on each offender varied considerably, the general average being Re. 1-2-1. Some few of the benches appear to exist in little more than name, the work done at Goverdanga, Nator, and Daudnagar for instance being very small, while seventeen others tried less than 100 cases. Where Municipal Benches exist full use should be made of their powers for the punishment of petty offences against municipal and conservancy regulations, and for the relief of the stipendiary Magistracy. The Municipal Bench at Faridpur and three benches in the Saran district were abolished on the establishment of independent benches in those places. The Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to believe that some of these benches do not fulfil the conditions under which municipal benches were established by Sir George Campbell in 1873, and that some of them try cases other than those under the Municipal Act and the conservancy clauses of the Police Act. The point will be separately dealt with.

12. Assessments.—The statement in Appendix D shows the mode of assessment prevailing in each municipality in the province, the rate at which the tax was levied, i.e., whether on holdings or on persons according to their circumstances and property within municipal limits, and the result of any revision of assessment made during the year. The tax on holdings was in force in thirty-six municipalities* as in the previous year, and was levied at rates below the legal maximum (which is, with two exceptions, 7½ per cent. per annum on the annual value of holdings) in twelve towns as in 1890-91. The names of these twelve towns and the rate at which the tax is levied in each are given below—

13. As observed in last year's Resolution, seven out of these municipalities are the head-quarters stations of important districts, and it is not satisfactory to find that they should have again found places in the foregoing table, when want of funds is found to hamper municipal administration on all sides. The rate at Darjeeling was further reduced during the year from 7 to 5½ per cent, owing it is said to "the year having opened with a very large opening balance (Rs. 24,755), and because it was felt that the valuations of house property were specially high and the tax pressed heavily." Since the close of the year the rate is said to have been raised at Darjeeling to 6 per cent., and at Narainganj to 6¾ per cent. The Lieutenant-Governor must repeat the observations he made last year, and say again that "as long as the Municipal Commissioners of thriving towns so far neglect the means ready to hand of raising the funds required for much-needed improvements, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot admit the plea of financial inability so often put forward as an excuse for inaction in the most important duties of a Municipal Committee."

14. The average incidence per head of municipal taxation of all kinds throughout Bengal (excluding Calcutta) was Re. 0-12-4, against Re. 0-11-11 in the previous year; and in sixty-seven municipalities (none in the Rajshahi Division) the incidence amounted to 8 annas or less per head against seventy-two in the preceding year. The figures for the several Divisions show great variations, which do not seem to be altogether commensurate either with the wealth or the wants of the towns in question:—

The average rate in the thirty-six towns where the tax is levied on holdings,—which comprise the largest and wealthiest towns in the Province,—is 9 annas per head: in the remaining one hundred and nine Municipalities where it is levied on persons it is 6 annas per head.

15. The general or partial revisions of assessment undertaken and brought into force during the year resulted in an increase of income in fifty-two and a loss in twenty municipalities. In some cases the operations were not completed during the year, and in others it was proposed to enforce the new assessments with effect from 1st April 1892. The largest increase of income accrued to the Municipalities of Muzaffarpur (Rs. 3,000), Cossipore-Chitpur (Rs. 2,805), Jessore (Rs. 2,114), Barisal (Rs. 2,123), Balasore (Rs. 1,778), Burdwan (Rs. 1,442), Jalpaiguri (1,290), Dinajpur (Rs. 1,216), Nator (Rs. 1,171), Jajpur (Rs. 1,044), and Kendrapara (Rs. 1,000). It is reported, however, that through party feeling which ran high at Jessore, the revision was made inoperative on technical grounds. As the Chairman of this Municipality has lately been removed and the Vice-Chairman has resigned, it is hoped that obstruction will cease. With regard to the reduction of income in the municipalities in the Patna Division, the Commissioner of the Division remarks:—

"It is very evident that the assessments are not made on a regular system, and there is much room for improvement in this matter. The appointment of an independent assessor contemplated in the new Municipal Amendment Act is a much needed reform."

16. The subject of municipal assessment and its periodical revision is one of very great importance, and holds a prominent place in the Bill for municipal amendment now before the Bengal Council. For this reason the Lieutenant-Governor will not say much on the subject in this place, but will merely remind Municipal Commissioners that the most certain way of escaping the interference of Government and the appointment of an independent assessor—measures which in some quarters are viewed with some mistrust and apprehension—is to make a fair and reasonable assessment up to the limits allowed by law. The wants of almost all municipalities in the direction of drainage, water-supply, conservancy, roads and lighting are still insufficiently met, and until these omissions, which all make for the best interests of the population, whether rich or poor, are made good, no considerations should be allowed to interfere with the clear duty of the Commissioners.

17. Demands, collections, remissions, and outstandings on account of taxes.—The statement in Appendix E shows for each municipality the demands, collections, remissions, and outstandings for all sorts of taxes taken together. The current demand was Rs. 19,59,240, and out of this Rs. 15,69,550, or 80·1 per cent., was collected. Of the arrear demand of Rs. 4,15,370 only Rs. 2,99,455 or 72 per cent., was collected, and Rs. 61,011, or 14·6 per cent., was remitted. The total demand (including arrears) amounted to Rs. 23,74,610, of which Rs. 18,69,005, or 78·7 per cent, were collected, and Rs. 1,10,528, or 4·6 per cent., remitted, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs. 3,95,077, being about 16·6 per cent. of the total demand. The closing balance is less by Rs. 20,293 than the opening balance was. The table below summarises the results obtained by the municipalities in the various Divisions in this branch of administration :—

It will be seen that the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions show the best results all round. In the Dacca Division seven out of its eleven municipalities are in the highest group,—and in neither division did any municipality collect less than 70 per cent. Patna has the largest proportion of its municipalities in the first class. The Burdwan and Presidency Divisions occupy the last places in the scale, and it is to be regretted that these Divisions, which are considered by many of their inhabitants to be in the fore-front of progress, should show so poor a result.

18. It appears from Appendix E that in eleven municipalities there was no demand outstanding at the close of the year, the highest remissions allowed in any one of these cases amounting to 5·1 per cent. of the total demand, and that in seven more municipalities the unrealized demand was only Rs. 10 or under. It is clear, therefore, that other municipalities could show better results, if greater interest were taken in the collection of their revenue by the Commissioners concerned. It is evident from the reports that Commissioners of Divisions are paying attention to this matter, and the Lieutenant-Governor will only express the hope that the returns for the next year will show better results. Large remissions were allowed in the municipalities named in the margin. The Commissioners of Divisions are requested to see that any tendency to grant large remissions of recoverable arrears with the object of clearing off outstanding balances is checked.

19. The Lieutenant-Governor must record his opinion that the figures do not constitute a satisfactory record. For Land Revenue the standard of collection has been laid down at 95 per cent. for current and 99 per cent. for the arrear demand, and the Lieutenant-Governor is not aware of any reason why the realisation of Municipal demands should not attain to the same standard: that it can be done is patent from a glance at the foregoing paragraph, and Sir Charles Elliott must insist on continued attention being given to the subject during the current year, for the strict and punctual collection of the demand is essential to the well-being of a Municipality.

20. Fresh imposts during the year.—The Hackney Carriage Act was extended to the towns of Naihati and South Barrackpore in the 24-Parganas, and the Pilgrim Lodging-house Act was extended to the town of Nadia during the year. The Municipal Commissioners of Debhata in Khulna obtained sanction to levy tolls at a ferry over a khal within their jurisdiction, but there were no receipts from it in the year under report. The provisions of the Municipal Act regarding the levy of fees on the registration of carts kept or habitually used within the municipal area have been introduced into Lalganj, Sitamarhi, and Madhubani in the Patna Division and Chaibassa in the Chota Nagpur Division. A water-rate of 3 per cent. on the annual value of holdings was for the first time collected in the Bhagalpur Municipality. In the Municipalities of Burdwan, Bhadreswar, Kalna, and Balasore fees were for the first time levied under Part IX of the Act, although that part had been extended to those Municipalities some time ago.

21. Extension of various provisions of the Municipal Act and Bye-laws sanctioned during the year.—The conservancy and other provisions of Part VI of the Act were extended wholly or partially during the year to the municipalities of Burdwan, Howrah, Sonamukhi, Bally, South Suburbs, Baranagar, South Barrackpore, Meherpur, Satkhira, Santipur, Kushtia, Patna, Tikari, Cuttack, Jajpur, Puri, and Hazáribágh. Part VII, which relates to water-supply, was extended to part of the municipality of Bhagalpur. Part IX, which regulates the construction and cleansing of latrines, but which in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor is open to serious objection as imposing taxation on persons who receive no service in return, was extended to the municipalities of Howrah, Uttarpara, Kumarkhali, and Kishorganj, and to the portions of the municipalities of Bhadreswar, Hooghly and Chinsura, Baranagar, North Barrackpore, Krishnagar, Patna, Motihari, and Cuttack. The provisions of this Part, which had been extended to Motihari Municipality in December 1888, were withdrawn during the year on the recommendation of the Commissioners. Part X, which contains provisions for the regulation of markets, was extended to the municipalities of Burdwan, Howrah, South Barrackpore, Patna, Tikari, Monghyr, and Hazáribágh. Bye-laws framed under section 350 of the Act by the Commissioners of the following municipalities were confirmed by Government:—

There is a total discrepancy of only Rs. 90 between the opening balance of 1891-92 and the closing balance of the previous year. This is due mainly to the readjustment of the old accounts of the Revelganj Municipality. The other small discrepancies have been explained by the local officers.

23. The closing balances in some of the municipalities appear to have been again unnecessarily large, and it seems to have been forgotten in some places that endeavours should always be made to utilise the funds raised in any year during that year, unless it is proposed to accumulate funds for some expensive undertaking, such as drainage or water-works. The accumulation of a large closing balance usually implies inefficient handling and an inadequate control over works and expenditure. The following are some of the municipalities in which the accounts for 1891-92 have closed with unduly large balances as compared with the income during the year:—

INCOME.

24. It will be seen from the table in the preceding paragraph that there was a total increase in the income of municipalities in Bengal (except Calcutta) of Rs. 80,028. The income under the debt and suspense heads, including loans, deposits, and advances, amounted to Rs. 2,51,057 against Rs. 2,88,144 of the previous year; and the real increase in the income may therefore correctly be taken at Rs. 80,028+Rs. 37,087 (the difference between the receipts under the debt heads), or a total of Rs. 1,17,115.

25. The following table shows the income from taxation proper during 1891-92 and the two previous years:—

Year.	Names of Divisions.
	Burdwan.	Presidency.	Rajshahi.	Dacca.	Chittagong.	Patna.	Bhagalpur.	Orissa.	Chota Nagpur	Total.

26. The nett increase or decrease of income under this head in each Division during each of the last three years, as compared with the next preceding year, is shown in the following table:—

* Owing to the abolition of the Suburban Municipality on the 1st April 1889.

27. Thus the total income from taxation during 1891-92 shows an increase of Rs. 1,04,202 or 5·2 per cent. over that of the previous year, whilst in the case of the Divisions named in the margin the increase ranged between 11·6 and 6·5 per cent. of the previous year's income. Excluding the Darjeeling Muncipality, which shows a falling off of Rs. 7,929 in the income from taxation, the total income of the other municipalities in the Rajshahi Division shows an increase of 5·6 per cent. Although there was only a nominal increase in the Burdwan Division, the results must on the whole be considered satisfactory, seeing that there were large increases in the two previous years. In this Division Howrah shows a decrease of Rs. 15,881, and seven other municipalities also show a slight falling off of income. In Howrah the decrease is said to be due to defects in the system of collection. The rest of the municipalities show a total increase of Rs. 16,262. The results attained in the Chota Nagpur Division may also be considered satisfactory; but in the Orissa Division, what was gained in the previous year was lost during 1891-92. Taking the case of individual municipalities, the following show the largest fluctuations:—

Bhagalpur Division	11·6

28. The statement in Appendix F shows the details of income under each head, separately for each Division, as compared with that of 1890-91. The total receipts from the municipalities show an increase under the following heads:—

Heads of Revenue.	Amount of increase.
	Rs.
Taxation—
Tax on houses and lands	16,481
Tax on animals and vehicles	6,722
Tax on professions and trades	3,293
Water-rate	3,520
Conservancy rates	39,167
Tax on persons according to their circumstances and property	41,041
Total Taxation	1,10,224
Miscellaneous	12,913
Total increase	1,23,137

On the other hand there was a decrease under the following heads:—

Heads of Revenue.	Amount of decrease.
	Rs.
Tolls (on roads and at ferries)	4,174
Lighting rate	1,848
Extraordinary and debt	37,087
Nett increase	80,028

29. Tax on houses and lands.—There was an increase under this head as compared with the previous year in five Divisions, i.e., in all except, Burdwan, Rajshahi, and Orissa which show a falling off of Rs. 8,564, Rs. 6,029, and Rs. 1,420, respectively; in the Chota Nagpur Division this form of taxation is not in force in any of the Municipalities. The Municipalities named in the margin show the largest amount of increase in the five Divisions referred to above. In the Chittagong Municipality the income has risen from Rs. 7,804 in 1889-90 to Rs. 20,000 during the year under review; and in Sahebganj the income has more than doubled during the year. Of the eight Municipalities in the Burdwan Division in which this tax is levied, four show a decrease, namely, Howrah (Rs. 8,988), Bally (Rs. 1,858), and Serampore (Rs. 2,722), and Utterpara (Rs. 720). The decrease in Howrah is due to defects in the system of collection, and in Bally to confusion caused by revision of assessment, and also to the continued illness of some of the collecting staff. In Serampore also the decrease was partly due to the negligence of the tax collectors, and partly to the fact that the work of collection was stopped for about a month during the Local Auditor's visit. In the Presidency Division there was a falling off of Rs. 1,408 in the South Suburban Municipality, owing to great delay in the completion of the assessment. In the Orissa Division, the Puri Municipality shows a falling off of Rs. 1,092, this decrease being attributed to the non-realization of taxes due from persons whose houses were damaged by the late cyclone.

Name of Municipality.	Receipts.		Increase.
	1890-91.	1891-92.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Sahebganj ...	2,725	5,665	2,940

30. Tax on animals and vehicles.—The increase under this head was shared by all the Divisions except Chittagong and Patna, and it occurred mainly in the Municipalities of Midnapore (Rs. 3,258), South Suburban (Rs. 1,413), and Rangpur (Rs. 1,798). In the Patna Municipality there was a falling off of Rs. 5,127 chiefly due to decrease in receipts from the tramways, the Commissioners having remitted one-half of the rent due from the trustees up to March 1892. The increase in Midnapore is due to the realization of the arrears owed by the contractor to whom the cart registration fees were farmed out in previous years: this system has since been discontinued, since it was condemned by the Commissioner of the Division and the Legal Remembrancer. Although there was a slight increase in the Howrah Municipality, the Magistrate thinks that the revenue from this source admits of much improvement.

31. Water-rate.—This rate was for the first time levied in the Bhagalpur Municipality during the year 1891-92, where it produced Rs. 5,286. The only other municipalities where the tax is in force are Burdwan and Darjeeling. In the former there was a slight increase, whilst in the latter place there was a decrease of Rs. 2,009, due to a reduction in the rate at which the tax was levied.

32. Conservancy (including scavenging and latrine rates).—The increase under this head was distributed among all the Divisions except Burdwan, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur, which show a slight falling off of income. The total income of the remaining six Divisions shows an increase of about 20 per cent. over the income during the previous year. The following Municipalities show the largest fluctuations in the receipts as compared with the previous year:—

Name of Municipality.	Amount of increase.	Name of Municipality.	Amount of decrease.
	Rs.		Rs.
Burdwan	1,838	Howrah	6,308
Cossipore-Chitpur ...	4,540	Serampore	1,256
Manicktola	1,392
Berhampore	1,290
Rangpur	1,799
Narainganj	1,031
Patna	1,348

33. The increase in Burdwan is attributed partly to the realization of arrears and partly to increase in the demand on account of the introduction of Part IX of the Municipal Act. The decrease in Howrah and Serampore was due to the same causes which led to a falling off in income under "tax on houses and lands." In Patna this tax is levied only in a portion of the Municipality, but the Commissioners have, it is reported, recently resolved to levy the latrine-tax on all premises on which house-tax is levied, and it is expected that the receipts under this head will be nearly doubled. There was a decrease of Rs. 815 under this head in Motihari, due to Part IX of the Act having been withdrawn from the Municipality during the year. The increase in Rangpur was on account of the assessment of latrine-tax in two wards.

34. Tax on persons according to their circumstances and property.—It is satisfactory to notice that under this head there has been an increase on the totals of all the Divisions as compared with the previous year, the net increase amounting to about 8 per cent. on the previous year's income. Of the one hundred and nine municipalities in the Province in which this form of taxation is in force as an alternative to the tax on houses and lands, eighty municipalities show an increase, the remaining twenty-nine,* distributed among all the Divisions except Chittagong, showing a falling off of income. Appreciable increase of revenue from this source occurred in the municipalities of Baidyabati (Rs. 1,252), Ghatal (Rs. 1,010), Joynagar (Rs. 1,046), Khulna (Rs. 1,322), Lalbagh (Rs. 5,079), Barisál (Rs. 1,187), Muktagatcha (Rs. 1,406), Sasaram (Rs. 4,345), where it rose from Rs. 3,790 in 1890-91 to Rs. 8,135 in 1891-92, Darbhanga (Rs. 2,290), Colgong (Rs. 1,142), English Bazar (Rs. 1,234), and Kendrapara (Rs. 1,000). The increase was due to realization of arrears in many places and in some to revision of assessment.

35. Lighting rate.—This rate is levied only in the Howrah Municipality at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the annual value of holdings in a portion of the town, and of 3 per cent. in the rest of the area lighted with gas. The decrease of Rs. 1,848 is attributed to laxity on the part of the collecting staff.

36. Tolls on roads and at ferries.—No tolls are levied on any roads, and the receipts under this head represent income from ferries alone. There was a slight falling off under this head. Whilst some municipalities show a small increase of income, noticeably Chapra (Rs. 1,244), Daudnagar (Rs. 947), and Barisal (Rs. 1,165), there was a large falling off of income in the municipalities of Chittagong (Rs. 2,247), Cuttack (Rs. 2,037), Bhagalpur (Rs. 1,613), and Muzaffarpur (Rs. 933). The increase in Barisal is stated to be mainly due to the khasa management of the ferry on the Barisal river. This ferry was in previous years farmed to private individuals; but as many complaints were brought against the farmers, who also combined to run down the price paid for the farm, the Municipality resolved to hold the ferry under direct management. In Chittagong the decrease was only apparent, as the ferries having been sold at auction by the end of March 1892 the amount received in deposit in the following April could not be shown in the accounts of 1891-92. At Cuttack and Bhagalpur also the decrease was only a matter of account. At Muzaffarpur there was a real falling off, due to the opening of the Sitamarhi extension of the Tirhut State Railway.

38. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with satisfaction the record in the Commissioners' Reports of gifts of money or land made, and of works of public utility executed, by private individuals within municipal limits. His Honour notices the following instances of private munificence as specially deserving of acknowledgment:—Raja Mohendra Lal Khan of Narajal continued to contribute Rs. 25 a month to the Midnapore Municipality for the maintenance of the ward for contagious diseases. In Ghatal the masonry bathing ghat commenced by Babu Chintamoni Kumar in 1890-91 was completed during the year. Maharani Shurnomoyee, M.I.O.C.I., of Kasimbazar, gave a further sum of Rs. 500 for the construction of a road in Howrah, which has been called by her name. To the Bally Municipality Babu Akhoy Churn Guha, a rich gentleman of Calcutta, has made a gift of a strip of land, 15 feet wide and 490 yards long, for the construction of a road. Babu Srishtidhar Conch, another wealthy merchant of Govordanga, has sunk a well at a cost of Rs. 5,000. Babu Girija Prosunno Mukerjee, zamindar of Govordanga and the Chairman of the local municipality, has caused a large jheel to be excavated covering an area of nearly 15 bighas at a cost of Rs. 5,000. Srimati Monmohini Dasi of Naihati, widow of the late Babu Tarak Chundra Sarkar, of Kerr, Tarak and Company, has built an iron shed with ornamental pillars in the masonry ghat which she constructed last year at a cost of Rs. 6,000. At Jessore, Babu Umesh Chundra Ghose has excavated a new tank at Nilganj at his own expense. A substantial building, with ample and comfortable accommodation and spacious frontage, was erected in the heart of the town of Rampur Boalia, adjoining the college buildings, for the purposes of a hostel for the Hindu students of the college. The cost, which was about Rs. 10,000, was for the most part met by a contribution from the Dighaputtia Ward's estate. Babu Upendra Nath Sen, zamindar of Basanda, made a donation of Rs. 2,800 to the Barisal Municipality, for the construction of a cholera ward, attached to the Municipal Charitable Dispensary. Kazi Raizuddin Ahmed, a Municipal Commissioner of Dacca, constructed an embanked road in the Dacca Municipality at his own cost. Mr. Lucas, a zamindar, excavated a tank near the bazar in the Pirojpur Municipality. Nawab Ahsanulla, Khan Bahadur, C.I.E., of Dacca, contributed Rs. 3,000 to the Comilla Municipality for the erection of an additional ward in the municipal dispensary. The hospital for females at Comilla, which is being erected by the munificence of the Nawab Sahiba Faizunissa and her co-sharers, will be within the Comilla Municipality, where the site for it has also been given by these ladies. Messrs. Burrows, Thomson, and Mylne of Bihia contributed Rs. 652 towards the maintenance of the Jagdispur dispensary, and kept up a middle class English school at a cost of Rs. 1,354. Mr. J. Hennessy, a zamindar and indigo-planter of Mathurapur, made a gift of Rs. 1,000 for the improvement of the accommodation of the dispensary in the English Bazar Municipality. Raja Baikuntha Nath De, Bahadur, and Babu Satyendra Nath Dey re-excavated the Rani Sagar tank in the Balasore Municipality, at a cost of Rs. 3,764, and established a charitable dispensary for females, endowing it at the same time with an income of Rs. 600 per annum.

39. Loans.—Though considerable activity has been displayed during the year in preparing schemes for water-supply and drainage which will be found detailed in paragraphs 43 and 55 below and several loans have been applied for, the amount of loans actually brought to account during 1891-92 was only Rs. 63,000. Of this sum Rs. 30,000 were lent by Government to the Serampore Municipality for the improvement of the drainage, and Rs. 7,500 were paid over to the Rampur Boalia Commissioners in continuation of a loan for an equal amount in 1890-91. Of the balance, Rs. 25,000 at 4½ per cent. interest were raised in the open market by the Burdwan Municipality at a discount of a little more than three-fourths per cent., and Rs. 500 represents part of a sum advanced to the Chapra Commissioners by a private individual. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that borrowing for legitimate purposes is likely to be larger in the current year, and he agrees with the Commissioner of Orissa, who remarks as follows:—

"I have always considered that municipalities generally are far too cautious and unenterprising in the matter of borrowing. Their funds are only just enough to enable them to carry on what may be called the routine work of municipal administration. The Municipal Commissioners hesitate to incur unpopularity by increasing taxation, and the consequence is that no great and lasting improvement is ever carried out. Posterity should pay for such measures, and the only way of raising funds for them is by loans."

EXPENDITURE.

40. The total municipal expenditure of the Province (excluding Calcutta) was Rs. 28,66,056, against Rs. 27,81,524 of the preceding year, showing an increase of Rs. 84,532. The year closed with a balance of Rs. 3,99,028, against Rs. 3,60,942 of the year 1890-91. The statement in Appendix G shows the percentage of total expenditure (excluding debt and suspense heads) incurred under the principal heads of expenditure in each of the Municipalities in the Province.

41. The statement in Appendix H shows the details of expenditure under each head, as compared with the previous year. The total expenditure of each division in 1890-91 is not exhibited in the table, as some items which appeared in that year's account form have been split up and others amalgamated with new heads prescribed in the revised form. The largest expenditure was as usual incurred on Conservancy (Rs. 8,00,365), Roads (Rs. 4,32,600), Hospitals and dispensaries (Rs. 2,58,544), Office establishment (Rs. 1,87,452), Collection charges (Rs. 1,38,896), Lighting (Rs. 1,39,511), and Public Instruction (Rs. 1,30,068). It will be seen that several new heads have been prescribed in the accounts for 1891-92, which overlap in many cases the heads of account previously in force, and a comparison of the accounts under all the new heads is therefore not feasible. The chief differences in expenditure as compared with that of the previous year (excluding the debt and suspense heads) are the following:—

Increase.

Heads of expenditure.	Amount of increase. Rs.
Office establishment and collection charges ...	31,012
Drainage	6,772

42. Office and Collection Establishments.—The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to notice that an increase of expenditure under these heads occurred in every Division. The increase in the Burdwan Division was contributed to by all the municipalities except Howrah and Sonamukhi, the former showing a saving of Rs. 2,858 due to the employment of a Secretary on reduced pay. The large increase of Rs. 1,235 in Baidyabati is reported to have been due to a general revision of the establishments which was necessary owing to the state of chaos into which the office had drifted from internal dissensions. The present Chairman and Vice-Chairman are trying their best to bring matters into proper working order. The increase of expenditure throughout the province is variously attributed to the payment of larger sums as contributions on account of audit and banking charges, to grade increments allowed to officers according to the fixed scale of pay, to the employment of additional establishments in the Collection Department for the prompt realization of municipal dues, and to the purchase of furniture. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division, where most of the municipalities show an increase, observes that the tendency of many municipalities is to reduce taxation with one hand and with the other to spend as much public money as they can on official salaries. The Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, where all the municipalities with the single exception of Pabna incurred increased expenditure under this head, also thinks that there is a "general disposition among the Commissioners to spend more each year on mere administration." The large increase of

Rs. 2,257 in Darjeeling was due to the payment of invalid allowances and a personal allowance granted to the Vice-Chairman. The Commissioner of Dacca reports that although greater economy of expenditure under this head is being enforced, some of the municipalities labour under the disadvantage of having already engaged a clerk or other officer on higher pay than is really necessary, which cannot be reduced without causing disappointment. Of the sixteen municipalities in this division, there was a decrease of expenditure in five, the savings in the Dacca Municipality amounting to Rs. 935. The large increase of Rs. 1,651 at Cuttack was due to the erection of a new office building. At Balasore and Lohardaga the pay of the establishment for the last two and three months, respectively, of the previous year was distributed during the current year, and this caused an increase of expenditure on this head. Had the demand been promptly collected, this dislocation of the accounts would not have occurred, and what is more important, the municipal employés would not have had to wait so long for their pay. Government has on previous occasions pointed out that a tendency to increase the official establishment and to raise the pay of employés is a frequent characteristic of municipal administration in Bengal, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires again to draw the attention of Commissioners and District Officers to the fact. When work is not being well done nothing is easier than to increase the establishment for doing it instead of replacing the inefficient officials by men of greater efficiency, and again there is a widespread belief that a few years' service gives an unanswerable claim to increase of pay. The development of these tendencies must be carefully watched, for both appeal to the charitable instincts of the Municipal Commissioners, which however can be indulged only at the expense of the rate-payers.

43. Drainage.—The five Divisions named in the margin show an increase of expenditure, which was almost stationary in the Rajshahi Division the three remaining Divisions showing a falling off. The decrease of expenditure was due not so much to the apathy of the Municipal Commissioners on this subject as to a general desire on their part to proceed on an approved plan, as in several places experience has shown that by taking up the improvement of the drainage of portions of municipalities before maturing a complete project, money had been wasted. Comparatively large expenditure was incurred in the Municipalities of Serampore (Rs. 9,421), Darjeeling (Rs. 5,608), and Rampur Boalia (Rs. 7,904). Projects for drainage were considered during the year by the municipalities of Burdwan and Howrah, and also by the municipalities on the east bank of the Hooghly, but no final conclusions were arrived at. The Serampore Municipality drew a sum of Rs. 30,000 which was sanctioned so long ago as 1889-90. In Puri and Rampur Boalia loans of Rs 25,000 and Rs. 15,000 were taken for the same purpose, and considerable progress has been made. In Patna the municipal area was carefully surveyed, and a comprehensive drainage scheme estimated to cost over three lakhs drawn up for the approval of Government: a similar scheme was undertaken in Arrah and in Muzaffarpur with the assistance of the District Engineer: a loan has been applied for in all three cases. For the drainage of several other towns the schemes are in various stages of progress. Thus in the municipalities of Raniganj, Midnapore, Santipur, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Pabna, and Comilla drainage schemes were submitted to the Sanitary Board, while surveys are being carried on in Hooghly, Suri, Bally, Dainhat, Krishnaghur, Meherpur, Bogra, and Faridpur. The Lieutenant-Governor has perused this record of work with satisfaction.

44. Conservancy.—The figures showing for the year under review the expenditure under this head include the totals of three heads in the previous year's accounts, viz., "conservancy," "road watering," and "road cleaning." It is satisfactory to notice that there has been an increase of expenditure in all the Divisions,* which was largest in the Presidency. In the Burdwan Division this was most marked in the Municipalities of Burdwan (Rs. 2,402), Hooghly and Chinsura (Rs. 1,102), Serampore (Rs. 1,412), and Baidyabati (Rs. 3,304), where the expenditure rose from Rs. 3,480 in 1890-91 to Rs. 6,784 in 1891-92. There was a decrease in Howrah of Rs. 1,811 attributed to savings effected by the use of the conservancy railway. The increase in Burdwan is due to the strengthening of the sweeper staff and repairs to latrines. Repairs of road-watering carts and purchase of some new ones mainly caused the increase in Hooghly-Chinsura. The increase in Serampore is attributed to the purchase of some new bullocks and some zinc buckets, as also to the adoption of preventive measures to check the progress of cholera which broke out in the town. Acquisition of land for the burial of night-soil and strengthening of the latrine-cleansing establishment caused the increase in Baidyabati. In the Presidency Division the largest increase of expenditure occurred in the Municipalities of Cossipore-Chitpur (Rs. 7,222), Manicktolla (Rs. 15,438), South Suburbs (Rs. 1,038), and Berhampore (Rs. 1,622). The increase in Cossipore-Chitpur and Manicktolla is due to the acquisition of land required for new trenching grounds. In the Rajshahi Division, the Municipality of Darjeeling shows a large increase of Rs. 9,786 which is ascribed to a thorough and general improvement in the sanitary arrangements of the place. In the Dacca Division there was an increase of Rs. 2,434 and Rs. 1,331, respectively, in the Municipalities of Barisál and Nasirabad, due in the former case chiefly to the erection of corrugated iron sheds for sweepers, and to the purchase of cattle and carts, and in the latter to the appointment of a conservancy overseer. In the Chittagong Municipality there was an increase of Rs. 3,376. In the Patna Division the Patna and Arrah Municipalities show an increase of Rs. 2,937 and Rs. 2,000, respectively. The increased expenditure in Patna is due to the purchase of new conservancy carts and to repair and construction of wells for watering the roads. In the Bhagalpur Division there was an increase in all the municipalities except Bhagalpur and Purnea. The increase of Rs. 692 in Monghyr is reported to have been chiefly due to the more extensive watering of the roads in that town. In the Kendrapara Municipality the expenditure rose from Rs. 358 in 1890-91 to Rs. 1,038 on account of the enforcement of the provisions of Part IX of the Act relative to latrines. In the Puri Municipality a Conservancy Inspector was appointed during the year, paid partly from the Municipal fund and partly from the Lodging-house fund.

45. The statement contained in Appendix I shows the strength and cost of the conservancy establishment employed in each municipality during 1891-92, and these statistics read with the percentages in Appendix G display most remarkable variations. The average expenditure on conservancy throughout the province was 30·1 per cent. on the total municipal expenditure excluding debt and suspense heads. Manicktollah stands first for reasons already referred to with the high ratio of 62·4 per cent.; no other municipality approaches this figure, but seven others spent more than 40 per cent. On the other hand, the Municipalities of Chanduria and Cox's Bazar are returned as having spent absolutely nothing on conservancy, and in twenty-three others quoted in the margin the expenditure was less than 10 per cent. Such a small proportion is ridiculously inadequate when the importance of the object is borne in mind, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that greater attention may be given to the matter in these places in future. He also observes with satisfaction that not a single municipality in the Divisions of Rajshahi, Bhagalpur, and Orissa appears in this list, and that the Patna Division has only three representatives, viz., Lalganj, Sitamarhi and Jagdispur while about half the number are in the Presidency Division.

46. Hospitals and dispensaries.—The total expenditure under this head as shown in the annual accounts (Form III) rose from Rs. 2,32,651 in 1890-91 to Rs. 2,58,544. The increase is noticeable in all the Divisions* except those of the Presidency and Chota Nagpur, where there was a slight falling-off of Rs. 1,078 and Rs. 488, respectively. The table in Appendix J shows the working of dispensaries managed or aided by municipalities during 1891-92. One hundred and nineteen municipalities maintained or supported 128 charitable dispensaries against 126 dispensaries maintained or aided in the previous year by one hundred and eighteen municipalities. A branch dispensary was opened during the year at Ichhapur in the North Barrackpore Municipality, and another was established in the Nadia Municipality consequent on the extension of the Pilgrims' Lodging-house Act to that town. Six municipalities* are relieved of charges on this account, owing to the existence of useful institutions in their midst maintained by private individuals or from endowments. The dispensary at Lohardaga, which received a grant of Rs. 20 a month from the Municipality, has been taken over by the Municipal Commissioners from 1st April 1892. Of the dispensaries maintained or supported by municipalities, 87 institutions afforded relief to both in-door and out-door patients, only out-door patients being treated in the remaining 41 dispensaries.

47. The daily average number of in-door patients in all the dispensaries taken together was 1,121·4, of whom 232·21 represented females. In the 127 dispensaries for which complete figures are given, 846,405 out-door patients were treated, of whom 560,500 were males, 208,423 females, and 77,482 were children. The figures showing males, females, and children treated, whether in the in-door or out-door wards, are not quite accurate, as in the form prescribed under Government orders of 5th May 1890, in which the divisional returns were submitted, there was no column for showing children, and the figures for children taken from the respective dispensary registers, in which all patients, male and female, under 12 years of age are shown as "children" irrespective of sex, were therefore in many cases included either in the column for "males" or "females."

48. The total medical expenditure (Rs. 2,37,877), as shown in column 20 of Appendix J, differs from the total expenditure (Rs. 2,58,544) as shown in the column headed "Hospitals and dispensaries" in Form III by Rs. 20,667. The difference occurs mainly in four Divisions, viz., Burdwan (Rs. 2,729), Presidency (Rs. 1,528), Dacca (Rs. 15,407), and Patna (Rs. 948). These discrepancies will be separately inquired into: the same amount should always be shown in both the statements in future years. The large increase of expenditure in the Rajshahi Division was contributed to by all the municipalities except Shorepur, Serajganj showing an appreciable increase of Rs. 1,272 In the Patna Division the increase was shared by all municipalities, Patna and Muzaffarpur showing a large increase of Rs. 1,338 and Rs. 1,125, respectively. Out of its total income of Rs 13,803, the Bettiah Municipality contributed no less than Rs. 5,159 to the municipal dispensary. Taking the Province as a whole, the average municipal expenditure under the head Medical was 9·7 per cent (Appendix G) on the total expenditure As many as seventeen municipalities spent nothing at all under this head, while in some, on the other hand, the proportionate expenditure was very large, exceeding 25 per cent. in thirteen cases:—

Bettiah ...	... 31·04	Barisal ...	... 25·06

Most of these are places with small incomes, so that the contributions to the pay of the native doctor, which cannot fall below certain fixed limits, becomes a disproportionately heavy item of their expenditure.

49. Vaccination.—The statement in Appendix K shows the result and cost of vaccine operations performed in the municipalities during the year under review. One hundred and forty-two municipalities (i.e., all except Meherpur and Moheshpur in the Presidency Division and Lohardaga in Chota Nagpur) employed 210 vaccinators, at a cost of Rs. 17,818, who performed a total number of 88,871 vaccinations, including 85,071 primary operations and 3,800 re-vaccinations, each vaccinator performing on an average 423 operations. The average cost of a successful vaccination was less than one-third of a rupee. Of the total municipal population 3·1 per cent. received protection during the year in the shape of primary vaccination. Vaccination was not carried on in Meherpore on account of the prevalence of malarious fever. There were two prosecutions under the Act in Noakhali, in both of which the offenders were convicted. The figures in column 15 of Appendix K and column 24 of Form III do not always tally, but as they are supplied from the same source, there is no reason why these discrepancies should occur, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that they will be avoided in all future returns.

50. Public Instruction.—The total expenditure incurred by municipalities on education was Rs. 1,30,068, against Rs. 1,15,288 in 1890-91 (Appendix H), showing an increase of Rs. 14,780. All the Divisions show an increase except Dacca, Chittagong, and Bhagalpur, where there was a slight falling off. The largest increase occurred in Rajshahi, where the expenditure increased from Rs. 8,755 in 1890-91 to Rs. 15,972 during 1891-92, due mainly to the increase of Rs. 2,533 in the expenditure on secondary education and of Rs. 4,339 under "Miscellaneous." The Municipalities of Bogra and Dinajpur took over charge of the local middle vernacular schools, and the latter Municipality incurred a special charge of Rs. 2,247 on a building for the location of the school. The increase of Rs. 5,230 in the Burdwan Division was contributed mainly by the Municipalities of Howrah (Rs. 2,920) and Midnapore (Rs. 2,234). The increase in Howrah is said to be due to the transfer of the zilla school to the management of the Municipal Commissioners, and in Midnapore to the construction of boundary walls round the college compound, and to the maintenance of the Hardinge Middle Vernacular School. The statements in Appendix L compare, for each Division, the number of schools of different classes maintained or aided by municipalities during 1890-91 and 1891-92, the number of pupils under instruction in them, the municipal expenditure on the schools, as also the number of unaided schools within municipal limits, and of the pupils on their rolls. The following table summarises the statistics contained in that Appendix:—

51. It will be seen from the foregoing table that the increase of expenditure occurred under all heads, secondary, primary, and special schools, as also under "buildings and furniture" and "miscellaneous," the small item of "inspection" alone showing a slight falling off. The number of schools supported by municipalities rose from 872 to 1,108, and the number of pupils attending these schools increased from 44,952 to 55,433. Although there was a large reduction of 246 in the number of unaided schools within municipal limits, the number of pupils attending them rose from 58,222 to 63,748. There is again a discrepancy between the figures showing the total outlay of municipalities on education as given (1) in the tables in Appendix L of this resolution, (2) in the annual municipal accounts in Form III, column 36, and (3) in subsidiary table IV appended to the Report on Public Instruction during 1891-92, the three amounts being respectively Rs. 1,03,712, Rs. 1,30,068, and Rs. 82,335. Not only is there this discrepancy as to cost, but the statistics as to the number of schools of different classes and of the pupils under instruction in them as given in Appendix L differ widely from those given in Subsidiary Table IV of the Director's Report. The difference as to cost is largely due to a divergence in the system of recording the figures, viz., the net cost to the Municipality being shown in one set of statements, whilst the gross cost, including the charges met from schooling fees, &c., is shown in another. But there is no reason why the statistics as to schools and pupils should not agree, and in future their agreement must be secured. The Lieutenant-Governor has already passed orders on this matter in reviewing the Reports on District Boards, and similar measures will now be adopted to ensure a proper correspondence between the figures supplied by the Director of Public Instruction and by the Municipal authorities.

52. Taking, however, the figures in Appendix L as they stand, it appears that there was an increase of Rs. 4,136 spent on secondary schools, whilst the cost on account of primary schools increased by only Rs. 2,948. The Nator Municipality spent Rs 2,427 on buildings and furniture. The Commissioner remarks that the English high school maintained by it "swallows up a large portion of the municipal income year by year to the detriment of primary education and the sanitary needs of the town," and that he would "feel a difficulty in passing for the ensuing year a budget framed on this basis." Having regard to the fact that only Rs. 105 was spent on primary education, as also to the admittedly insanitary condition of the town, in which only Rs. 2,134 were spent on conservancy, the sum of Rs 5,111 spent on secondary education was quite unreasonable. The Commissioner of Burdwan remarks on this subject :—

"The contribution towards primary education is disproportionately low, with reference to the expenditure incurred on secondary education. This subject is already having my best attention, and in most of the municipal budgets for the current year the provision for primary education has been raised, with a corresponding decrease in the allotment for secondary schools. The Municipal Commissioners have been told that the municipal grants for secondary schools must gradually be reduced more and more."

53. The above remarks have the full concurrence of the Lieutenant Governor, who further takes this opportunity of explaining the principles on which in his opinion the financial responsibility of municipalities in respect of primary education should be gauged. The figures supplied by the recent census show that the municipalities in Bengal (excluding Calcutta) contain 216,223 boys of a school-going age, at the usual calculation of 15 per cent. on the male population. But for obvious reasons it is not to be expected that all these should be at school. The provincial average as shewn in paragraph 17 of the Resolution on the Education Report, 1891-92, is 29·8 per cent, but it rises to 54·8 in the Chittagong Division, and to 60·6 in the Burdwan Division. Considering that municipalities ought to be much ahead of rural districts in respect of education, it does not seem unreasonable to expect that they should provide instruction for 50 per cent. of their boys. There ought therefore to be 108,112 boys in the primary schools of municipalities, and the average cost of this class of education is shown in the same paragraph of that resolution to be about 10 annas per head. The cost which municipalities ought to defray is therefore about Rs. 67,000, whereas the amount actually paid is only about Rs. 16,000. Rupees 67,000 bears to the total ordinary income of the municipalities (Rs. 20,39,000) the ratio of 3·2 per cent., and this seems a very moderate demand to make on municipal revenues as the minimum sum which should be provided for the primary education of the youth resident within their limits. When this amount has been contributed, any further sum which the Municipal Commissioners are desirous of expending on secondary education can be so devoted, but the primary schools should be held to have the first claim. The subject will be further worked out in detail, and where municipal revenues are already so deeply pledged to obligatory expenditure that this small contribution cannot be made to primary schools, some help will be afforded from Provincial revenues for a year or two till the necessary equilibrium is established. Commissioners of Divisions are requested to bear these instructions in mind in sanctioning, and Chairmen of Municipalities in preparing, the Municipal Budgets for 1893-94.

54. Lighting.—There was a slight falling off of expenditure under this head from Rs. 1,43,343 to Rs. 1,39,515. The decrease occurred in the five Divisions named in the margin, whilst the remaining four Divisions show an increase, the expenditure having more than doubled in the Chota Nagpur Division, where it increased from Rs. 811 in 1890-91 to Rs. 1,796 during 1891-92, owing to the introduction of lighting for the first time into the towns of Purulia and Chaibassa. In the Burdwan Division there was a decrease of Rs. 4,356 in Howrah, as certain bills of the Gas Company were left unpaid, and no new lamp-posts were erected during the year. It is reported that the Commissioners of the Bally and Katwa Municipalities intend to introduce lighting into those towns. There was no expenditure on this item in forty-four municipalities,* against forty-seven in the previous year.

55. Water-supply.—Considerable attention was paid during the year to the important questions of water-supply. At Dacca the existing water-works, the gift of Nawab Sir Khwaja Abdul Ghani, Bahadur, K.C.S.I., and his son Nawab Khwaja Ahsanullah, Bahadur, C.I.E., were materially extended by means of a loan sanctioned by Government. The Burdwan Municipality matured a scheme for extending their supply of filtered water, and the question of providing an adequate supply of pure water for the town of Howrah was discussed by the Sanitary Board, but no final conclusion was arrived at. Projects for the water-supply of the group of municipalities on the east bank of the Hooghly in the 24-Parganas were brought forward and considered by the Sanitary Board. Rajpur and Jessore both propose to take a loan for this purpose. In Kurseong and Nasirabad the work has already made great progress. The artificial lake which supplies the town of Chaibassa with water was re-excavated and cleared out by the Commissioners during the year. The large decrease of Rs. 59,581 in capital outlay under this head was due to the extension of the water-works at Dacca in the previous year undertaken by means of a loan from Government. The expenditure of Rs. 50,703 was incurred for the most part in Burdwan, Darjeeling, Kurseong, Dacca, Nasirabad, and Gaya. The cost of establishment, repairs, &c, advanced from Rs. 28,217 to Rs. 39,073, a result inseparable from larger operations.

56. Roads.—The total cost of maintaining roads is shown in Form III, (column 30), at Rs. 4,32,600. This item was not separately shown in the previous year's accounts, and the expenditure during the two years cannot therefore be compared. The total length of different kinds of roads maintained by municipalities (except Bhadreswar, for which no information has been furnished) during the year was 2,010 miles and 1,364 feet (Appendix M), including 587 miles and 684 feet of embanked, bridged, and metalled roads, 495 miles and 3,735 feet of embanked and bridged roads not metalled, and 927 miles and 2,225 feet of all other classes of roads. The total cost shown in this Appendix (Rs. 3,79,333) differs widely from the amount shown in the annual accounts as noticed above. The figures of the Chittagong Division alone agree, the largest discrepancies having occurred in the Presidency Division (Rs. 19,887,) Bhagalpur (Rs. 15,380), Dacca (Rs. 7,827), and Burdwan (Rs. 7,103). The Lieutenant-Governor desires that correct information may be furnished in future years; both the length of roads and the cost of their maintenance should be carefully verified before the reports are submitted.

57. Savings on Police charges.—It appears from the reports that in several cases the stipulation under which the charges on account of Police in Municipalities were taken over by Government, viz., that the savings shall be applied to works of general municipal utility, have not been complied with by Municipalities, and the following are noticeable among them:—

Name of Municipality.	Amount of savings not yet applied to useful works.	Name of Municipality.	Amount of savings not yet applied to useful works.

58. Female Medical Education.—In the matter of studentships, the only Municipalities which actually contributed towards the support of a female student at any Government Medical School were those of Burdwan, Serampore, and Rampur Boalia. The Municipality of Burdwan spent Rs. 91 during the year on this account, and the Serampore Municipality paid Rs. 4 a month to a student of the Campbell Hospital The Commissioners of the Rampur Boalia Municipality have awarded a scholarship of Rs. 10 a month tenable for three years, on the understanding that the holder shall practise in the Municipality on the completion of her studies. The Municipalities of Kalna, Katwa, and Revelganj offered stipends to female medical students, but no candidate came forward to avail herself of these contributions. As to female medical help, the Burdwan Municipality expended Rs. 116 on the pay of a female doctor at the Municipal Dispensary. The Municipal Commissioners of Hooghly and Chinsura resolved to employ a trained midwife on Rs. 20 a month, but no one could be found to serve on that pay. There is a midwife in service at Sirajganj. Of the other municipalities in the Rajshahi Division, some bring forward, as in previous years, the plea of want of funds, while others say that no female student came forward. There was a midwife attached to the Barisal Municipal Hospital for nearly nine months of the year on a salary of Rs. 30 per mensem. A trained nurse is employed in the lying-in hospital attached to the Bankipore dispensary, and another midwife has been entertained by the Muzaffarpur Municipality on a salary of Rs. 40 per mensem, on condition that half of the fees earned by her in private practice will go to the municipal fund. In Darbhanga there is a Lady Dufferin Hospital maintained by the Darbhanga Raj, where facilities exist for females to learn midwifery and the treatment of diseases peculiar to their sex. The Commissioners of the Monghyr Municipality employ a midwife in the Municipal Hospital, but at the suggestion of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals arrangements are now in progress for replacing her by a female Hospital Assistant. There is a dispensary for females at Cuttack, called the Lady Thompson Female Dispensary, which is not recognised by the Municipality, nor aided from its funds. Attempts are being made by the Municipal Commissioners of Khulna to raise subscriptions for building a zenana hospital, but they have not met with much success yet. The District Board of Champaran have promised to contribute Rs. 500 towards the cost of a ward for females at the Motihari dispensary, and an attempt will be made to raise the balance of the sum required for the work by private subscriptions.

59. Vital statistics.—As observed in paragraph 40 of the previous year's Resolution, municipalities have been relieved of the duty of registering vital statistics which has now been entrusted to the town police with effect from the 1st January 1892. The subject is noticed at length in the Sanitary Commissioner's Report, and calls for no further remarks here.

60. Embezzlements.—A dismissed collecting sarkar in the employ of the Bansbaria Municipality collected a few rupees on account of taxes: the Municipal Commissioners have resolved to prosecute him. A Conservancy Inspector of the Baranagar Municipality had to be removed for drawing the pay of one of his private servants from the municipal fund. The head-clerk of the same municipality was convicted of misappropriation of municipal money, and was sentenced to 18 months' rigorous imprisonment. The whole of the collecting staff of this municipality has been recommended for removal for irregular conduct. The head-clerk of the South Suburban Municipality was found to have embezzled a sum of Rs. 174-6: he has since absconded, and a warrant of arrest has been issued against him: no security having been taken from him, a part only of the above amount, viz., Rs. 35 and odd annas, has been recouped from his pay. The tax-daroga of the Baduria Municipality was convicted of misappropriation of municipal money, and was punished. The examination of the accounts of the Maniktola Municipality by the Local Auditor brought to light defalcations of Rs. 746, Rs. 422, and Rs. 14-10-9. The collecting sarkars paid the amounts, and were dismissed: the whole collecting staff had to be changed on this account. In Chittagong the misappropriation of some petty sums by some of the collecting sarkars was brought to light by the official auditor: the men were dismissed. The Commissioner of the Division makes the following remarks on the accounts of the Municipality:—"The year has been a noteworthy one for this municipality, owing to a total change of local règime. The new Chairman and Vice-Chairman had to face a state of things which had become intolerable. There was almost no control over the levy and expenditure of the taxes, and they have worked most strenuously to get matters into order. Nevertheless, the result of the last official audit was that the state of the municipal accounts was reported to Government. An enquiry, the results of which have from time to time come before me, has been going on in consequence since April last. At the time of writing only one inconsiderable item remains unsettled, and I hope to be able to report in a few days that order has been completely restored. It will not have been attained without wholesale cancellations and remissions and the dismissal of the greater portion of the establishment." His Honor awaits the report promised by the Commissioner, but meanwhile gladly acknowledges the vigour and thoroughness with which the new officers seem to have introduced reform. The tax-daroga of the Tikari Municipality who was also cashier was convicted of embezzling a sum of Rs. 138 and odd annas and sentenced to 18 months' rigorous imprisonment, but was acquitted on appeal by the Judge. The Magistrate has pressed upon the Municipal Commissioners the advisability of suing the man in the civil court for the recovery of the amount embezzled. The municipal clerk of Hajipur was also convicted of misappropriation of dispensary subscriptions. He embezzled altogether Rs. 596, and the fraud was only discovered through several subscribers when written to for arrear subscriptions by the Chairman complaining that they had already paid. Steps are being taken to recover the money through the civil court, as the clerk did not furnish any security.

61. The Lieutenant-Governor fully agrees in the remarks of the Commissioner of Patna, that "these cases illustrate a degree of carelessness in the management of municipal affairs, and a general disregard of the rules and instructions. In the first place the same man should not have been made the tax-daroga and cashier, as was done in the Tikari Municipality; and secondly, if proper security had been taken from the men both by the Tikari and Hajipur Municipalities as enjoined by the rules, much of the subsequent troubles would have been avoided." Special attention was drawn to this subject in paragraph 44 of the last Resolution, and Sir Charles Elliott regrets to notice that the present reports should have again disclosed so many cases of embezzlement of public funds, while it is impossible to avoid the suspicion that many others have escaped detection. In all these cases the possibility of fraud has been due to breach or neglect of well-known account rules, and to the failure of superior officers to see that they are carried out. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware that in almost all Municipalities the Vice-Chairman, whose special duty it is to supervise the accounts and the office establishment, is largely occupied with other duties or his own private business, but it must be distinctly understood that the appointments of Chairman and Vice-Chairman carry important obligations as well as privileges, and the rate-payers have a right to demand that their interests should be thoroughly well guarded by those who have been elected or appointed for that purpose. The Lieutenant-Governor also observes that his orders in regard to the taking of security from Municipal officials entrusted with the handling of money have not been fully carried out, and further orders will issue on the subject

62. Miscellaneous.—On the occasion of the Moha Moha Baruni Yoga, a large concourse of people assembled at the Tribeni ghat in the Bansberia Municipality and at Naihati for the purpose of bathing in the Ganges. The Municipal Commissioners of Bansberia opened out two new roads, established a temporary hospital, lighted the streets and ghats, put up a bridge on Saraswati khal, erected many temporary latrines, and prohibited the sale of unwholesome food. In Naihati the Municipal Commissioners spent about Rs. 100 in improving roads, distributing medicines to the sick poor, and adopting necessary sanitary measures. In Narainganj a new charitable dispensary, called the "Victoria Hospital," was established by public subscriptions to commemorate the Jubilee of Her Imperial Majesty.

63. The Sanitary Board.—The Sanitary Board have rendered effective service during the year as the official advisers both of Government and of the local authorities who have to deal with questions affecting sanitation. Both District Boards and Municipal Commissioners sought the advice of the Board freely in the early stages of schemes of sanitary improvement. Projects of drainage and water-supply were initiated at their instance and under their supervision, and their influence was usefully exerted to procure the execution of the preliminary surveys, without which it is often impossible to determine whether a particular scheme is feasible or not. Arrangements were made to place at the disposal of the Board a complete set of surveying instruments to be lent to local authorities, who are often deterred from undertaking surveys by the cost of the necessary appliances. In the later stages of these operations, when schemes recommended by local authorities come before Government for legal sanction or in connection with applications for loans, the Sanitary Board discharges a useful function in aiding Government with their professional advice, which is all the more valuable for being based upon local experience acquired in dealing with the initial stages of the projects under discussion. No change in the constitution and duties of the Board was introduced during the year, nor does any such change seem at present to be called for.

64. Working of the Pilgrims' Lodging-House Act IV of 1871.—The Act is in force in the municipal towns of Puri, Chandbally, Ulubaria, Garbetta, Deoghur, and Gaya, and was introduced during the year into Nadia and Danton. The collections of the year including the opening balance were Rs. 31,152, against Rs. 30,156 in 1890-91. Out of this sum Rs. 23,333 were expended, leaving a balance of Rs 5,819 in hand.

65. General working of the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884.—Mr. Power, the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division writes:—

Burdwan Division.

"The work of the municipalities generally is very uneven. The administration of Serampore, Raniganj, Vishunpur, Sonamukhi, Kotrang, Bhadreswar, and Bansberia was decidedly bad. The defects imputed to them are factious quarrels, inadequate taxation badly distributed among the tax-payers, bad collections with heavy outstandings, excessive support to higher education, insufficient to lower, a tendency to spend too much on establishment and to increase that expenditure, too little care in keeping the town and the latrines clean, and no disposition to make any sacrifice for improved sanitation. Serampore suffered from a severe outbreak of cholera in October last. The Chairman is practically an absentee. Neither he nor the Vice-Chairman, a private medical practitioner, who apparently has no leisure to attend properly to municipal affairs, took proper action to arrest its progress: the latter cannot afford or does not see fit to keep a conveyance, and is agitating for travelling allowance. The tax-payers are beginning to complain of the mal-administration. Baidyabati has a history of its own. At the end of the year under report, by dint of great exertions on the part of the official Chairman and the new Vice-Chairman, it was recovering from the effects of utter disorganisation. As I write, it is threatened with bankruptcy because of fatuous resolutions carried by the Commissioners in opposition to the Chairman and Vice-Chairman. What happened at Suri is instructive. A former Chairman was energetic in supervising the working staff, collecting outstanding arrears, introducing the latrine system, and revising assessments. The result of this honourable service was that he got himself detested, and was made to feel the weight of public odium in his professional and private life. Affairs began to relapse into the old state, but latterly the municipality has received a wakening up, and is now doing fairly well Of the smaller municipalities, Kalna, Tamluk, and Uttarpara deserve praise for good collections and general efficiency on established lines. Regarding these municipalities I have only to repeat the opinion I have already indicated. When all roads have been made, widened and metalled, when a drainage system has been perfected, when a pure supply of water has been provided, when a latrine system, public and private, has been put into working order, when, in short, a municipality is a going concern, then, and not till then, is the time to hand it over to a body of amateurs, who, however well meaning, must, in the very nature of things, fritter away the tax-payers' money in attempts to perform tasks quite beyond their strength."

Presidency Division.

66. The Commissioner, Presidency Division, Mr. Beames, observes:—As I have only been in charge of the Division for one-third of the year, I have hardly had sufficient time to form an opinion on the working of the municipalities generally. From the cases that have come to my notice, I am led to believe that here, as elsewhere, the work of out-door supervision is not efficiently performed in a majority of cases. The Municipal Commissioners leave this branch of their duties almost entirely to their subordinates, and confine their attention to the work that can be done at meetings. Sanitation is in a very backward state, collection of taxes is not properly attended to, and there have been several serious cases of embezzlement which could not have occurred had there been proper supervision. Even at meetings much time is wasted in party squabbles and mutual recriminations. In many cases assessments are not fairly made, and in the present state of the law there is practically no redress. There are, it is true, exceptions to this state of things. Some Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen have shown activity and intelligence in the discharge of their duties, and in some places the Municipal Commissioners have done really good work; but the defects mentioned above prevail to a greater or lesser degree everywhere, and I do not see any marked diminution in them as the years go on. They are perhaps inherent in the character of those on whom the administration of municipalities devolves.

Rajshahi Division.

67. Mr. P. Nolan, the Commissioner of the Division, is of opinion that the municipal administration is as efficient as it has been at any previous period, but that there is everywhere much room for improvement.

Dacca Division.

68. The Commissioner of the Dacca Division, Mr. Cooke, remarks:—Taking a general view of the municipal administration of the division for the year, the result cannot be said to be encouraging as evidence of the progress of local self-government. Mr. Savage pays a high compliment to the administration of Barisal, but admits defects similar to those that exist in Faridpur and Mymensingh Municipalities in the matter of deficient funds standing in the way of efficient work. I think it probable that a disregard of the law in the matter of the proportion of non-agricultural population, the inclusion of large areas of thinly-populated country within municipal limits in order to increase municipal income, and an indiscreet extension of the municipal law to places to which it should not have been extended, may be accountable for the poor standard of efficiency attained in many small municipalities. More creditable results would probably be obtained from fewer and stronger municipalities; this is the same conclusion that I arrived at after considerable acquaintance with municipalities of various sizes, but in other respects similar. on the left bank of the Hooghly. A municipal income to make efficiency, as now understood, possible should not fall below Rs. 20,000; smaller incomes do not admit of the most ordinary requirements of municipal government in the present day and do not afford the necessary margin for incurring municipal debt, which is essential to all great undertakings in the way of drainage and water-works. The smaller municipalities must either be amalgamated, disappear, or be judged by a different standard. The most discouraging symptoms from a local self-government point of view is the state of things in Dacca, in which, if I am rightly informed, there exists a party desirous of surrendering the control of his municipality to an official Chairman.

Chittagong Division.

69. The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, Mr. Oldham, remarks:—"I inspected all the municipalities, except Chittagong, between November and March last. With the out-door working of the Chittagong Municipality I am well acquainted, as also with the difficulties which its Chairman and Vice-Chairman have had in administration. I deferred the inspection of its office till they could report that the old disorder had been remedied. My inspection of the Brahmanbaria Municipality was minute and recorded in full detail. At Comilla, too, I made a full outdoor and office inspection, but as there was no defect of moment to notice, and I had nothing but praise to offer, I made no detailed record of it. The Cox's Bazar Municipality exists only in name, unless when the Commissioners are interested in some question of the distribution of funds to education; otherwise all is managed by the Subdivisional Officer. At Noakhali my inspection of the office was stopped at the outset, because I found that the prescribed forms of account were not being kept, and the discovery seemed as great a surprise to the Vice Chairman, who was with me, and to the Chairman as to myself. At Comilla the connection of the Magistrate with the municipality has been very close, and at Chittagong more or less close. The Noakhali Municipality has held aloof for some time, though never in actual opposition. At Brahmanbaria the Subdivisional Officer was Chairman till last year. The municipality there now holds itself aloof to a certain extent from the local officer, but is very attentive to the opinions of superior authority. "On the whole the system of municipal Government cannot be looked on as successful in this Division. It is conspicuously successful in present circumstances at Comilla, with a minimum expenditure on establishment and a high rate of taxation, and every local want closely attended to. But Comilla is the only place in the Division which possesses residents with leisure as well as much capacity and experience, and the success of its municipality is due to the loyal support given by the Commissioners, to their experienced and able Chairman, Mr. H. M. Weatherall, as well as to the Magistrate. The Chittagong Municipality would fail altogether and give up its functions, but for the support it gives to its Chairman and Vice-Chairman, both busy men engrossed with other occupations, and yet about the only two competent residents willing to undertake the offices they hold. The state of Brahmanbaria is interesting and at present successful, but with its area composed as it is, and retained to gain a revenue, it cannot be called satisfactory, while as regards real municipal work it is still at the beginning. The Noakhali Municipality I look on as only existing to keep its administration from being resumed by Government."

Patna Division.

70. The Commissioner of Patna has not recorded his opinion on the working of municipalities in the Patna Division, but submits the following opinions of the District Officers on the subject.

71 The Magistrate of Patna, Mr. LeMesurier, observes:—"Since the powers of the Ward Committees of the Patna Municipality have been taken back and full and undivided authority restored to the chief executive officer, there has been a marked improvement in almost all the departments of the Municipality. Having succeeded to the charge of the district since the close of the year, I am unable to offer much comment on the working of the municipalities therein, but I have pleasure in again bringing to notice the good work done by Maulvi Syad Fazal Iman, Khan Bahadur, as Vice-Chairman in this as in other years."

72. The Magistrate of Shahabad, Mr. Skrine, is most unfavourably impressed with the management of the municipalities in the district. He inspected all except the Buxar Municipality. He writes:—"Dumraon, under the management of Rai Joy Prakash Lal Bahadur, C.I.E., the Dewan of the Maharaja, is the least ill-managed, but here, too, great improvements in the matter of drainage are necessary. Arrah is bankrupt, and things have arrived at such a crisis as to render it necessary that Government should appoint an official Chairman. Buxar is a disgrace to the district. Peculation and neglect are rife there. Jagdispur, though it has a European Chairman in the person of Mr. L. Mylne, is a nest of dirt and disease. Sasarám urgently requires drainage and water-supply; the latter would be easily obtained either by an artesian well or from a reservoir in the neighbouring hills."

73. As regards the Darbhanga Municipality the Magistrate, Mr. Dalton, reports:—"I am disposed to think that for several reasons Darbhanga would do far better if enrolled among the municipalities in the first schedule and deprived of the elective franchise until such time as the establishment of a Judge and Sub-Judge's Court here had brought in their train a large increment of the classes among whom we look for suitable candidates for the office of Municipal Commissioners. At present that class here is extremely restricted, and a glance at the assessment list will show the material position of the men who command the suffrages of the electors. * * * There is a long standing feud between the Muhammadans and Hindus, and while the former have gradually lost ground and have now hardly the strength for serious opposition, this fact itself does not tend towards reconciliation, and the evil results make themselves felt in many ways. The Vice-Chairman is a gentleman who does not know English, and whose health does not permit of his frequent attendance in office. The result is that much of the work is left to the amla to carry on without sufficient supervision, and to this I attribute improper assessment and bad collections. The Chairman being the Magistrate-Collector, he has little time to devote to the details of the working of the Municipal Office. An able and energetic Vice-Chairman is a necessity, and this unfortunately Darbhanga does not possess. The Municipal Commissioners of Rosorah are said to take little or no interest in the affairs of the Municipality. There is a strong party feeling among them. The appointment of Mr. Robertson, a neighbouring planter, as Chairman appears to have given satisfaction to both parties.

71. Speaking of the Chapra Municipality, the Magistrate-Chairman, Mr. Bourdillon, says:—"The year has been one of progress, municipal matters have worked smoothly, and some improvements have been made. The two markets, when complete, will be a great source of profit, it is hoped, and they have already cleared the roads of petty hawkers. Efficient sanitation is still the great demand of the town, and this will never be secured until (1) private latrines are brought under some regular system, (2) more public latrines are provided, and (3) drainage is brought under control. Part of the loan applied for from Government is intended to purchase better night-soil carts and more of them, and every pice that can be saved from luxuries should be spent on sanitation." The Revelganj and Siwán Municipalities appear to have worked fairly well. "These reports," the Magistrate adds, "all show that things are going on smoothly, but it need not be supposed that this state of things supplies any argument in favour of Local Self-Government. There has certainly been a change of name, but the municipalities in Saran are worked on exactly the same lines as they were 20 years ago. The Chairman, Vice-Chairman and staff, with here and there an energetic Commissioner, supply the motive power, but the remainder discharge their nominal duties with dignity and with a harmonious co-operation which has made, as I have said, the year's record one of smooth progress. More I neither expect nor desire."

Bhagalpur Division.

75. The Commissioner of Bhagulpur, Mr. Quinn, has recorded the following remarks on the subject.—"As regards the general working of the municipalities during the past year, there is nothing very special to note, the administration was as a rule carried on smoothly, and with a fair degree of efficiency on the same lines, and with the same defects, in regard to the supervision of executive work as hitherto. In Bhagalpur the necessity of improving the finances has been recognised, and the rate on holdings has been raised from 5 to 7 per cent. with effect from the commencement of the current year. The Magistrate of Malda, Mr. Samuells, reports as follows with regard to the two municipalities in the district:—

"The Commissioners of the English Bazar Municipality require to be more energetic. The state of their office is not good, and information cannot be speedily obtained, and there is no despatch in the transaction of their business. The work is carried on in a dreary, lethargic sort of way. No effort is made to increase their resources, and there is no sign of their taking an active interest in their work. Collections are often much in arrear. The state of the town has deteriorated under their management. The Commissioners of Old Malda seem to take more interest in their affairs. Their funds, however, are limited, and they have to fight against natural causes, which have affected the prosperity of their town Their collections are in a better condition, and information can be obtained more readily from them than from the Commissioners of English Bazar."

Orissa Division.

76. Mr. Toynbee, Commissioner of Orissa, writes:—"Having visited all the municipalities during the year, I am able in this report to give my impressions of their working. I regret to say that it is not generally favourable. Perhaps Kendrapara is the best, as Puri is the worst. There is a great want of out-door supervision and energy among the Municipal Commissioners, who are mostly content to leave everything to the Chairman and Vice-Chairman. They, in their turn, if they are hard-worked Government officials, pleaders or men with business of their own to attend to, leave the work too much in the hands of their subordinates. Matters jog along in old and deep grooves, and no attempt seems to be made to resort to loans as a means of carrying out extensive schemes of drainage or water-supply or of providing the municipality with some long-felt want. The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·6° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1892.

THE main features in the meteorology of November have been :—

1. The mean pressure for the month has been in defect of the normal by amounts which range from 0·02 inch to 0 03 inch. The smallest defects, however, have been at the stations in the extreme south of the province, where they usually equal less than 0·02 inch.

2. The mean temperature for the month for the province has been in defect of the normal by more than a degree. The defects have been largest at the southern and south-western stations, where in many cases they exceed 2°. This defect has been mainly due to unusually low minimum temperatures, which at many of the southern and south-western stations have averaged from 3° to 4° below the normal. On the other hand, maximum temperatures for the month have been in excess of the normal by moderate amounts over a large part of Bihar.

3. Humidity has been in slight to moderate excess, especially at the northern stations and in Assam, while cloud proportion has been rather largely in defect, and, except during the first few days of the month, the sky has been almost cloudless

4. At the end of October a wave of humid winds, accompanied by decidedly disturbed weather, had advanced over the southern half of Bengal from the Bay in connection with a barometric depression. This gave very disturbed weather and heavy rain to some of the southern districts up to November 4th, but after this date fine settled weather of the ordinary cold season type set in and continued up to the close of the month, the cold season conditions indeed being rather more strongly developed than is usual so early in the season throughout the greater part of the month.

5. The weather in the Bay was comparatively free from disturbance, and only one barometric depression formed in the south-east of the Bay, which advanced in a westerly direction towards the South Madras coast, where it filled up before reaching the land. This disturbance was too far away to have any material influence in the weather in Bengal.

6. No storms originating in or coming from North-Western India have advanced towards Bengal, and the weather in November has hence been free from any disturbance due to this cause.

7. Owing to the conditions which obtained in the early part of the month, abnormally heavy rain was received in South-West and East Bengal, and rather heavy rain in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. Very light rain fell in North Bengal and South Bihar, but North Bihar was quite rainless throughout the month.

The changes in the meteorological conditions during November do not call for any very detailed comment, but the main interest lies in the changes which obtained within the first few days. At the close of October an influential barometric depression had formed to the east of the centre of the Bay, and advancing rather slowly in a westerly or west-north-westerly direction, it had crossed the Madras coast between Nellore and Masulipatam during the night of 28th October and the early morning of the 29th. The wave of humid winds and very disturbed weather accompanying the depression then advanced up the Bay and spread over Orissa and the southern half of Bengal, and at the end of October weather conditions over this area were more like those of the rains than the beginning of the north-east monsoon. Pressure had fallen moderately to rapidly over Bengal and had become unusually low; easterly and south-easterly winds were blowing over the whole province, while general heavy rain was reported in Orissa, South-West Bengal, East Bengal, and Chota Nagpur, and a few showers had fallen in North Bengal and Bihar. A further rather rapid fall of pressure again occurred on November 1st, the fall in Orissa equalling a tenth of an inch, and hence what practically amounted to a barometric depression was formed over Bengal, the defect ranging up to 0·217 inch at Chaibassa, and to 0·202 inch at Balasore. Winds on this day had changed slowly, the southerly element had to a great extent disappeared, and winds had become easterly and north-easterly. This probably pointed to the fact that the moist current had ceased to advance and was being influenced by an opposing northerly wind current. The rainfall on this day was again general and heavy in the southern districts, but was mainly confined to Orissa, South-West and East Bengal, and Chota Nagpur On the 2nd a further moderate fall of pressure occurred at all except a few of the south-western stations, and the seat of minimum pressure was transferred to Jessore; and a very distinct barometric depression still existed over Bengal, for the defect ranged up to nearly a fifth of an inch at Calcutta and Jessore. Winds also had become much more northerly, showing that the moist air current was being driven further back, and there was also a very distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation over South and South-East Bengal and the Sundarbans. Conditions therefore had become very favourably for rainfall over South-East Bengal and the south of the province generally, and exceedingly heavy rain was reported on this day in the districts of Tippera, Dacca, Faridpur, Bankura, Jessore, Hooghly, 24-Parganas, and Midnapore, while heavy general rain was reported over the whole of the south of the province. On the 3rd a very distinct reaction set in, pressure rose rather rapidly over the whole province, and the depression over Bengal to a considerable extent filled up. Winds became westerly at the western stations and northerly elsewhere, showing that the humid current from the Bay had to a great extent been driven back, and on this date the rainfall reported was confined to small parts of South-West Bengal and to the greater part of East Bengal, and the remaining divisions were practically rainless. On the 4th, again, a further rapid increase of pressure took place, the increase at the northern stations in several cases exceeding a tenth of an inch, and the distribution of pressure became fairly normal for the cold weather. On this day winds were north-westerly and northerly over the greater part of the province, and beyond a few light showers of rain in East Bengal, the whole province had become rainless. On the 5th a further moderate increase of pressure took place, and the pressure distribution became quite that of the north-east monsoon or cold weather season, and a steady north-westerly air current flowed over the whole province The sky then cleared rapidly, humidity and temperature decreased, and rainfall became entirely absent, and the north-east monsoon conditions may be said to have established themselves in the province from this date, and to have continued uninterruptedly till the close of the month, during which period the only changes of meteorological conditions were of the small oscillatory nature characteristic of fine settled weather, and which hence require no detailed review.

The only other point in the meteorology of November requiring brief notice is the weather in the Bay at the close of the month. Fine and fairly settled weather of ordinary north-east monsoon conditions apparently prevailed over almost the whole of the Bay up till about the 26th, when conditions began to change, and from this date a slight barometric depression accompanied by strong winds and squally weather commenced to form in the south-east of the Bay. It remained stationary, perhaps concentrating slightly, for some days, and then slowly drifted in a westerly direction towards the South Madras coast. It had perhaps reached the middle of the south of the Bay on the last day of November, but it merely existed as a feeble diffused depression of little importance and with no very definite centre. It afterwards advanced towards the Madras coast, which it began to affect on the 1st and 2nd of December. The depression, however, was too feeble and too far distant from Bengal to affect the weather conditions, which hence remained quite settled and of normal cold weather character up to the close of the month.

Pressure.—The variations of pressure during the first few days of the month were large, but from about the 6th they were generally small and of little practical importance. For the first four or five days pressure was in defect of the normal by nearly a tenth of an inch. In the week ending November the 12th, pressure was almost normal; and in the following week pressure was again almost normal, but, if anything, very slightly in excess. In the week ending the 26th a slight defect had been established equalling about 0·03 inch to 0·04 inch, and during the last few days pressure was generally in excess of the normal. These variations have to a certain extent neutralized each other, and hence the general pressure for the month has not been very far removed from the normal, the average pressure being in defect by from 0·02″ to 0·03″. The defect is largest at the western and central stations, where it is from 0·03″ to 0·04″, and smallest in the extreme south-east and south-west of the province, where it equals from 0·01″ to 0·02″. In Assam the general defect has been decidedly larger, and it averages 0·039″, and it is actually largest at Sibsagar, where it equals 0·051″.

Temperature—Was decidedly above the normal at the commencement of the month, the mean excess for the period ending 4th November being 0·6°. In the second week the excess was replaced by a defect which continued practically till the close of the month. In the week ending the 11th the defect was 2·7°, in the next week 1·2°, and in the following week 0·8°. For the whole month the mean temperature of the province has been 1·1° in defect of the normal, but the defect is largest in Orissa and South-West Bengal, where it equals about 2°. As stated in the opening summary, the defect has been principally noticeable in the night or minimum temperatures, and in such cases as Calcutta, Bankura, Cuttack, False Point, and Gopalpur, they have been more than 3° in defect, while on the other hand at some of the Bihar stations, such as Bhagalpur, Darbhanga, Arrah and Dehri, the day temperatures have been about 2° and upwards in excess of the normal. In Assam the general temperature for the month has been 0·8° in defect of the normal.

Rainfall.—The whole of the rain fell during the first three or four days of November, except at a few of the stations in the hills, where showers were reported on the 27th instant. East Bengal received about three and-a-half inches and South-West Bengal two and-a-half inches. The falls in Orissa equalled one inch and in Chota Nagpur about half this amount. Elsewhere the falls have been unimportant. Hence the falls in East and South-West Bengal were largely in excess, and in Chota Nagpur slightly in excess of the normal; while in the other divisions the falls were in defect.

The following table gives in a condensed form the rainfall information for each of the seven large meteorological divisions of Bengal for the present year up to the close of November. The numbers there given, as in the case of the former months of the year, are the actual average rainfalls in each month in each division, expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period, and the last column also gives the total rainfall up to the close of November expressed in the same way :—

Meteorological Divisions.	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	July.	August.	September.	October.	November.	Actual rainfall of first eleven months of 1892 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.

Chota Nagpur ...	Nil	194	2	23	53	111	96	66	96	116	144	88

It will be seen that for the whole year up to November, North Bengal has received a fall 10 per cent. in excess and North Bihar has received a normal fall, while all other divisions have been in defect, the usual defect equalling from 14 to 20 per cent., the largest defect having occurred in South-West Bengal.

Taking up the case of the smaller districts, in November an average rainfall of 6·15 inches was recorded in Noakhali, falls exceeding 5 inches in Midnapore and Dacca, exceeding 4 inches in Hooghly, Jessore, and Faridpur, exceeding 3 inches in 24-Parganas, Chittagong Hill Tracts, Tippera, and Singhbhum, exceeding 2 inches in Howrah, Chittagong, and Backergunge, and exceeding an inch in Puri, Nadia, Khulna, Burdwan, and Bankura.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. For rainfall the normal mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station district, i.e., from total rainfall at the subdivisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one of

for the week ending Saturday, the 10th of December 1892.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least a trace of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 13*th December* 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY THE 10TH OF DECEMBER 1892.

THE meteorological conditions for the week again call for few remarks, for weather has remained fine and settled and of the ordinary cold season character throughout the week in all districts except in and near the hills. At the beginning of the week pressure was in slight excess of the normal, but it fell by small to moderate amounts on the 4th and 5th, and on the latter day in particular a decidedly rapid fall took place in the hills, for at Darjeeling pressure decreased by nearly a tenth of an inch, and generally over the province pressure became in slight defect. The rapid fall at Darjeeling may have been in connection with the formation of a feeble low pressure area in the hills. A further fall of pressure took place on the 6th, which was again largest at Darjeeling, where pressure became in defect by a tenth of an inch. Disturbed weather had also appeared in the hills, for on this day fairly general rain was reported in the Darjeeling district and a few showers in the Jalpaiguri district. On the 7th a rapid rebound of pressure took place, and pressure rose moderately rapidly, the increase continuing on the 8th, and to a certain extent the 9th, but on the 10th pressure was again falling moderately. From the 7th to 9th, however, pressure was in excess of the normal, but on the 10th it was again slightly in defect.

The disturbed conditions noticed in the hills on the 6th gradually passed away with the increasing pressure, but a few light showers were also reported in and near the hills on the 7th, though after this date again conditions became fine and settled over practically the whole province Hence except in the hills, where for two or three days weather was disturbed, fine settled weather has prevailed in the province throughout the week.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been in excess of the normal in all districts except Bihar and Chota Nagpur, where there has been a defect of a few thousandths of an inch. In other districts it has been in excess usually by one or two-hundredths of an inch, the excess being largest in Orissa, where it is almost 0·025″.

Temperature—At the beginning of the week was in slight excess of the normal at the western stations and in defect elsewhere, the defect equalling about 3° in South Bengal. Temperature generally then increased slightly for the next two or three days, but began to fall again from the 7th to the 8th, when the fall became decidedly rapid, so much so that on the 9th and 10th the mean temperature was from 3° to 6° in defect of the normal. The defects have again been more marked in the night than in the day temperatures. During the last two nights of the week indeed the minimum temperatures registered were about 5° below the normal at the majority of stations, and in some cases the defects rose to 7°, 8° and 9°. Thus on the 9th defects of about 7° were registered at Barisal and Jessore, of about 8° at Calcutta, Chittagong, and Krishnagar, and of about 9° at Bankura. On the 10th defects of 7° were reported at Dehri, of 8·2° at Krishnagar, and of 9·4° at Calcutta. Temperatures have therefore been exceptionally low, specially towards the close of the week.

The distribution of temperatures for the week in the province generally, and its variation from the normal value, are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with their normal values for the same period. It will be seen that the night temperatures at Calcutta for the week have been no less than 5·5° below the normal, while the day temperature has been nearly normal:—

For the whole province the mean temperature for the week has been in defect by about a degree, but the defect is largest in East and South-West Bengal, where it equals about 2°.

Rainfall.—Beyond the slight showers in and near the hills in the middle of the week, the whole province has been rainless during the week. The Darjeeling district only has received on the average about half an inch of rain, and the Jalpaiguri district 0·11 inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 10th of December 1892:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

In dealing with applications for such appointments preference will be given to applicants already in Government employ who have rendered approved service, and cæteris paribus to natives of Assam.

6. Any native of India, as defined in section 6 of the Statute 33 Victoria, Chapter III, may be nominated for the post of Tahsildar, who can produce approved certificates of good character and physical fitness for active work, and who has passed the Middle English or Middle Vernacular School Examination in Assam, or any examination in India equivalent thereto, and who, unless he is already in Government service, is not over 25 years of age.

Provided that the subjects of Native States in alliance with Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India shall also, if qualified in other respects, be eligible for appointment to Tahsildarships.

7. All persons appointed to the office of Tahsildar will be on probation for two years, during which they must, unless specially exempted by order of the Chief Commissioner, pass an examination by the Lower Standard in the following subjects, as laid down in the Departmental Examination Rules :—

They must also, within the same period, obtain a certificate of knowledge of practical surveying from the Director, Department of Land Records and Agriculture, or from such other officer as the Chief Commissioner may from time to time appoint on this behalf. On failure to pass the said examination, or to obtain the said certificate, they are liable to forfeit their appointments.

8. All persons who are applicants for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector must first apply for admission to the roll of competitive candidates for such appointments. All such applications shall, as a rule, be made through the Deputy Commissioner of the district to which the applicant belongs, or in which he is serving or living at the time. If the applicant does not reside in Assam, he should forward his application through the Magistrate of the district in which he resides.

9. All applicants for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector must be natives of India, as defined in section 6 of the Statute 33 Victoria, Chapter III. 10. Every applicant for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector will be required to produce the following certificates :—

(a) That he is in sound health and capable of bearing fatigue and exposure. This certificate must be signed either by the Civil Surgeon of the district in which the candidate resides, or, if he resides in Calcutta, by the Resident Physician or Resident Surgeon of the Calcutta Medical College Hospital.

(b) That he is of good moral character.

(d) That he is a good rider. This certificate must be signed by a district officer either in Bengal or Assam.

11. It will be in the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner to forward (in the Assam Valley districts) to the Commissioner, or (in the Surma Valley and Hill districts) to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, any application preferred to him under Rule 8. If the Deputy Commissioner refuse the application, the applicant may (in the Assam Valley districts) represent the matter to the Commissioner, or (in the Surma Valley and Hill districts) to the Chief Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

12. If an application under Rule 8 is forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner, a nomination roll in Form A annexed to these rules shall be submitted. The Deputy Commissioner shall also record a distinct opinion regarding the applicant's qualifications for office.

13. The Commissioner, Assam Valley Districts, and Heads of Departments may, without any recommendation from the Deputy Commissioner, send to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner nominations of applicants for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector already in Government employ, and who have served directly under their orders, or in respect to whose qualifications they may have had special opportunities of forming an opinion. All such nominations should be accompanied by the certificates and nomination roll required by Rules 10 and 12.

14. No applicant for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector shall ordinarily be nominated who is under 22 or over 25 years of age, unless he is already in the public service, or is a licensed pleader and is not over 30 years of age.

15. No person shall be nominated as a candidate for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector who has not passed an Indian University Examination, or other examination equivalent thereto.

Persons who have served Government for six years and have held for not less than two years a responsible permanent appointment above that of copyist with a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem in one of the Civil Departments of the Government service are exempted from the operation of this rule.

Education and knowledge of English.

Constitution and physical fitness for active work, and ability to ride.

17. If the Chief Commissioner approves a nomination for the post of Sub-Deputy Collector, the applicant's name will be entered in the roll of competitive candidates, and two copies of the entry will be forwarded to the Commissioner, Deputy Commissioner, or Head of Department who made the nomination; one to be filed in the office, and the other to be given to the candidate.

18. In the following rules "Candidate" means an applicant for appointment as Sub-Deputy Collector whose name has been entered in the roll of competitive candidates under Rule 17.

"Selected candidate" means a candidate who has been successful in the examination, as provided by these Rules, or who has been declared to be a selected candidate by the Chief Commissioner under Rule 25.

19. An examination of candidates for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector will be held at Gauhati and Sylhet on such dates as may from time to time be notified in the Assam Gazette. Such notification shall be three months in advance of the examination, and shall specify the number of vacant appointments which are open for competition. The Examination Committee will consist of the officers who form the Committee for the departmental examination of Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioners.

The subjects of examination will be the following :—

I. Vernacular of the province (Assamese or Bengali at the option of the candidate)—
Reading, handwriting, composition and conversation ... 200 marks.

The examination will include—

(1) Translation into English of proceedings, petitions, reports, &c., written in manuscript.

(2) Translation from English into the vernacular selected.

II. English—
Reading, handwriting, composition, conversation, and dictation ... 200 marks.

The examination will be so arranged as to test a candidate's ability to write correct and idiomatic English, and will include précis-writing and letter-drafting. In awarding marks great weight will be attached to good and legible handwriting.

III. Arithmetic, Mensuration, and Theoretical Surveying .. ... 100 marks.

The standard in these subjects will be—

(1) Rule of three.
(2) Greatest Common Measure.
(3) Least Common Multiple.
(4) Vulgar Fractions as far as is necessary as a preparation for decimal fractions.
(5) Decimals (omitting repeating decimals).
(6) Tables of English Land Measurement.
(7) Reduction from bighas, kathas, and lessas to acres and decimals, and vice versâ.
(8) Construction of Diagonal Scales.
(9) Calculation of Areas of Polygons.
(10) Use of the Talc Square or Area Comb.

20. A candidate who proposes to appear for examination must submit his name through the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which he is serving or permanently residing, or through the Head of his Department, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner in the General Department not later than one month before the date fixed for the examination.

A candidate may compete at one or both of the two examinations immediately succeeding the date of his admission to the roll of candidates, and no more.

21. The aggregate number of the marks obtained by a candidate at the examination will, except as provided in Rule 25, determine his position on the list of selected candidates. Candidates who fail to obtain half marks in each subject of examination will be disqualified.

22. Instead of entering for the above examination, a candidate who has passed the F. A. Examination of the Calcutta University, or an examination equivalent thereto, may apply to the Director, Department of Land Records and Agriculture, the Commissioner, or the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, to be taken as a probationer in his office.

23. One such probationer may be annually taken by each of the above officers with the previous consent of the Chief Commissioner.

24. The probationer will receive pay not exceeding Rs. 75 a month, as the Chief Commissioner may determine in each case, and will be under the orders of the head of the office to which he may be appointed. The period of probation will ordinarily be one year.

25. At the end of the period of probation, the head of the office will submit a confidential report to the Chief Commissioner regarding the probationer, and the Chief Commissioner will decide whether the probationer is to be recorded as a selected candidate or not, and, if so recorded, will determine his place on the list of selected candidates. It must, however, be distinctly understood that no probationer will be regarded as having any claim to an appointment merely by reason of his having been favourably reported on at the end of his term of probation.

26. The Chief Commissioner may extend the period of probation as he thinks fit.

27. Ordinarily the selected candidate highest on the list of selected candidates will be appointed to a vacancy in the office of Sub-Deputy Collector. If such vacancy be temporary only, and the selected candidate has to vacate the appointment, his name will be retained in its original place on the list.

28. The Chief Commissioner reserves to himself the right of appointing to the office of Sub-Deputy Collector any selected candidate, irrespective of his position on the list, or the date when he passed the examination prescribed in Rule 19, or any person other than a selected candidate, should the exigencies of the public service render such a course necessary. In selecting officers for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector, preference will be given cæteris paribus to natives of Assam.

29. All persons appointed to the office of Sub-Deputy Collector will be on probation for two years, during which they must pass an examination in the subjects and obtain the certificate prescribed for tahsildars in Rule 7, failing which they will be liable to forfeit their appointments.

30. Sub-Deputy Collectors will, after being confirmed in their appointments, be promoted, as vacancies occur, according to seniority, subject to fitness and approved conduct, but the Chief Commissioner reserves to himself the power to promote any particular officer out of turn without reference to seniority in cases of exceptional merit.

(c) Extra Assistant Commissioners.

31. Applications for the appointment of Extra Assistant Commissioner from persons who are residents of Assam may be made direct to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, but must be accompanied by the certificates referred to in Rule 10, unless the applicant holds the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector and has already submitted such certificates before receiving such appointment.

32. Every application for the appointment of Extra Assistant Commissioner should give the particulars required to be entered in columns 3 to 22 of Form A annexed to these rules, and, if the applicant is not a resident of Assam, should give references which will enable the Chief Commissioner to ascertain by enquiry his qualifications for the office of Extra Assistant Commissioner.

33. Sub-Deputy Collectors who have been confirmed and who have passed under the Departmental Examination Rules by the Lower Standard in Accounts and by the Higher Standard in the vernacular of the district are eligible for promotion to the rank of Extra Assistant Commissioner, but are not entitled, as a matter of course, to such promotion. In making such promotions preference will be given to officers who have taken an Indian University degree, or who have rendered exceptionally good service.

34. Selections for the appointment of Extra Assistant Commissioner will ordinarily be made from amongst the following classes of persons:—

(a) Sub-Deputy Collectors eligible under Rule 33.

(b) Graduates of an Indian University or persons who have passed an examination equivalent to that for an Indian University degree.

Provided that candidates for admission under class (b) must not be over 25 years of age, unless they are barristers, advocates, or pleaders, in which case their age must not exceed 30 years.

Provided also that no candidate for admission under class (b) shall be eligible who has not a thorough knowledge of one of the vernaculars of the province, including ability to read and write the written character with facility.

In making such appointments, the Chief Commissioner will give preference cæteris paribus to natives of Assam.

The subjects of Native States in alliance with Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India are eligible for appointment to Extra Assistant Commissionerships, provided that they are qualified in other respects.

35. Europeans who are not natives of India, if otherwise qualified, may be appointed to the office of Extra Assistant Commissioner with the previous sanction of the Government of India in each case.

36. First appointments to the office of Extra Assistant Commissioner will be on probation, and an Extra Assistant Commissioner will not ordinarily be confirmed until he has obtained the certificate prescribed in Rule 7, and until he has also passed under the Departmental Examination Rules by the Lower Standard in Law and Revenue and Accounts, and, unless specially exempted, by the Higher Standard in the vernacular of the district in which he is serving. First appointments will also ordinarily be in the seventh or lowest grade. The Chief Commissioner, however, reserves to himself the power in very special cases of making appointments to any grade in which there may be a vacancy.

37. An Extra Assistant Commissioner who fails to pass in the prescribed subjects or to obtain the necessary certificate within two years from the date of appointment will be liable to forfeit his appointment.

38. An Extra Assisstant Commissioner will take rank in the grade to which he is appointed according to the date of his confirmation.

39. Extra Assistant Commissioners will, after being confirmed in their appointments, be promoted up to and inclusive of the fifth grade, as vacancies occur, according to seniority, subject to fitness and approved conduct. Promotion to the fourth and higher grades will be given according to merit, and not necessarily according to seniority.

40. An Extra Assistant Commissioner, of whatever grade, will not ordinarily be promoted to a higher grade until he has passed under the Departmental Examination Rules by the Higher Standard in Law and Revenue, in Accounts, and in both languages.

41. No Extra Assistant Commissioner shall be dismissed from Government service otherwise than on the result of a judicial or formal departmental enquiry, if one is asked for.

C. E. BUCKLAND,

NOTIFICATION—No. 4468Agri.

The 20th December 1892.—The following instructions for competitors submitting designs and models for a two-mule army service cart, issued by the Government of India, in the Military Department, are published for general information. All future enquiries from intending competitors in India should be addressed to the Quartermaster-General in India.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

1. The premia offered are for the preparation of such drawings and models showing details to scale, and of such specifications as shall enable the jury to form an accurate judgment of the merits of the different cart designs proposed. On the selection of the six best designs and models, a full-size specimen cart of each will be constructed under the orders of the Government of India; and after trial, the prizes detailed in the Notice of International competition will be awarded.

2. Such a design would, ipso facto, have a great advantage, as would admit of the cart proposed being selected by the jury and without further reference being readily constructed by the ordinary agency of the Government of India. In other words, credit will pro tanto be given for a simple design, only requiring such material, plant, and workmanship as are available in a well fitted Government arsenal.

3. Where, however, the designer foregoes the above advantage, and proposes the use of materials, plant, and workmanship only to be obtained by special agency or in special localities, he must clearly indicate the arrangements under which the proposed cart could best be constructed. Whilst the necessity for special arrangements will in no way debar a design from a premium, any proposals tending to a monopoly will in themselves be considered a disadvantage.

4. The object sought is a design for a military transport cart for a mountainous country with absolutely no local resources in the way of skilled labour or constructive material. The few existing unmetalled roads are steep, narrow, and rough. Carts would further be largely employed on unbridged and unmetalled tracks newly opened along hill sides and stony river beds to meet the exigencies of military operations. The roughest handling is unavoidable. With abnormally dry air, scorching sun, freezing wind, and a temperature varying from 185° above to 15° below zero (of Fahrenheit), the consequent shrinking and warping of wood, however well it may be seasoned, absolutely debars the use of that material except, perhaps, in the poles or shafts, floor boards, and sides. Further, the use of wood, even in such secondary parts, is objectionable, as it is liable to be stolen and burnt as fuel. Teak is the best wood for sides or floor boards. Poles or shafts, if of wood, might be well supported by iron plates and bolts.

5. The cart, therefore, with the possible but undesirable exceptions noted above, must be entirely made of metal or of combinations of metals. As the effects of rough handling and jolting on loose joints and fittings, and bad workmanship generally, combined with the difficulty of making efficient and timely repairs, are the main causes of carts breaking down, machine boring and turning with perfect fit and interchangeability of parts is absolutely indispensable, so that every broken part in any cart could be immediately replaced by a similar part, without shaping, fitting or skilled labour whatever. Every designer should specify the standard of accuracy, $\frac{1}{64}$, $\frac{1}{32}$, $\frac{1}{16}$, inch, &c., he could guarantee in interchangeable parts. The effect upon the prime cost due to guaranteeing such different classes of workmanship should be fully specified.

6. Whilst no restrictions are placed upon the use of any metals whatever, designers are warned that whereas mild steel wrought, cast, and malleable cast iron, copper and brass are familiar to native workmen, these materials are more suitable than special qualities of steel, phosphorous, and Uchatius bronze, &c., in such parts as tyres, forgings, boxes, &c., which it may require specially skilled labour to manipulate without injury from overheating or burning.

7. As the merits of a design will be largely judged from its prime cost, competitors will consider how far light and strong but possibly very expensive metals should be used in place of commoner material, having especial regard to the importance in the matter of durability, of the cart itself not being unduly light with reference to the load it has to carry. In this connection 656 English pounds as a maximum, and 492 lbs. as a minimum, are indicated as generally suitable limits of weight for an empty cart. This remark, however, in no sense need restrict designers' ingenuity in devising a lighter cart if of sufficient strength.

8. The cart to have only two wheels to be provided with a brake or drag and to be drawn by two mules. The standard load to be carried is fixed at 656 lbs. (six hundred and fifty-six English pounds). The pole system of harnessing suspended from a curricle bar, and adaptable to mules varying from 13·1 to 13·3 hands in height, or from 40 to 42 English inches at the withers, is preferred to the system of shafts and collar-bars, which is not, however, excluded. The mules to be led by a man on foot, a driving seat being inadmissible. No kind of overhead covering is necessary. Laden carts will practically never be driven faster on level ground than at four miles an hour.

9. Meshes are allowable in the floor and sides of the cart, which need not be closed throughout, whilst the sides may be left open at both ends or merely closed by a chain, the smallest size of package to be provided for in the mesh is 20″ by 7″ by 8″. The most convenient height of cart-floor for the loading of military stores is from 2′ 9″ to 3′ 3″, according to the size of wheel. For meshes in the floor and sides hoop-iron, diagonally bracing the cart, has been found suitable.

10. As a guide to dimensions convenient for army purposes, but which need not, however, be necessarily adhered to, an extreme width of 4′ 6″ over tyres of wheels, and outside diameter of wheel of from 4 to 5 feet and a width of tyre of from $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 inches is suggested. For clear room for packing in the body of the cart the cubic space averaged by 5′ 6″ in length, 3′ 3″ in width, and 1′ 9″ in height would be generally suitable. Although the army cart now in use, which is chiefly made of wood, is a very unsatisfactory one, it may be useful to competitors to know that its average cost and its weight when empty is Rs. 190 (one hundred and ninety) and 615 (six hundred and fifteen) English lbs., respectively.

11. Although it is not debarred, the easing of the draught by springs and by bent axles providing for higher wheels is not, in the interests of simplicity, generally recommended. Where springs are proposed, the alternative cost of a similar cart without springs might with advantage be given. The solidity, which under rough handling is scarcely attainable without sufficient weight and mass in the cart itself, should not be sacrificed to lightness and appearance. For similar reasons spider wheels, as being further too narrow in the tyre for sandy soil, are not recommended.

12. A grease box, spanner, hammer, and such small stores as may be necessary, have to be suitably provided for and carried on the cart. The proposed lubricant should be mentioned. Where washers, linch-pins, bolts, &c., are liable to shake out and be lost, they must be attached to the vehicle. As carts will often be loaded in railway trains by night, special importance attaches to ease and rapidity in dismantling and re-erecting of the carts, and to facilities for the compact railway packing of constituent parts. This would indicate the use of removable poles or shafts. Great stress will be laid upon facilities for tightening up parts on the march, and for replacing tyres, spokes, &c., with ease and rapidity and without skilled labour.

The models, the proper handling of which, if at all complicated should be duly explained, will be expected to most fully illustrate the facilities for interchangeability, and for repairing, tightening, and replacing different parts.

13. Each design and model, in addition to the fullest specification, description and estimate of cost, including that of two coats of best red lead as priming, and one of specified finishing paint should, besides giving the total weight, be accompanied by a measurement book showing by calculation the weight and cost of each constituent interchangeable part. This will enable the jury to check the estimate, and to decide upon relative merits with reference to the cost of providing certain numbers of spare interchangeable parts, such as wheels, axles, poles, &c., on different systems, to replace breakages with each organized unit of cart transport. Bolts, nuts and screws to be of standard English pattern, Whitworth or others.

14. Each designer will state in describing his cart whether he is willing to enter into a contract for its supply, and, if so, within what time and at what cost he is prepared to furnish a single specimen cart, 12 carts, 100 carts, or from 500 to 2,000 carts, free on board in London, or delivered in Calcutta, Bombay or Allahabad.

15. Each specification, drawing and model must be prominently marked by a motto or device, and be accompanied by a sealed cover to be opened after the award of the premia, and to contain the full name and address of the competitor. Successful competitors will be directly notified of their success by letter, and on the premia being awarded, the names and addresses of the successful competitors, and the devices or mottoes on all the unsuccessful designs received, will be duly notified in four successive weekly issues of the official London Gazette and Gazette of India. All designs and models will remain unconditionally the property of the Government of India, which will obtain the full right to manufacture carts wholly or partially after one or all of the patterns proposed.

16. All specifications, descriptions, letters, &c., must be written on foolscap paper. No drawing will be accepted except on sheets of strong tracing cloth, of a uniform size of 24 inches by 18 inches. General drawings to be on a scale of 1 (one) inch to the foot, and drawings of details on 2½ (two-and-a-half) inches to the foot. Models, which must be thoroughly working models, are to be made on the scale of 2½ (two-and-a-half) inches to the foot. All the letters, documents, tracings, drawings and models appertaining to any one design to be securely packed, and sent post paid by overland parcel post in a solid cover and in a box addressed to—

The Secretary to the Government of India,
Military Department,
Calcutta,
India.

Different letters and boxes belonging to the same competitor should be clearly marked "Cart competition," with the designer's distinctive motto or device on the upper left hand corner, so as to prevent confusion and mistakes.

17. The English language, although not obligatory, as German and French may be used, will necessarily have an advantage in the competition. English measures, weights and prices are alone admissible in the specifications, drawings and models.

18. The strictest adherence to the details laid down as above for the conditions of the competition is earnestly invited.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1891-92, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 488 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

The following information concerning the existence of a shoal lying off the north-west coast of Borneo, and the buoyage, &c., of Mallawallé channel, has been received from Commander A. M. Field, H.M. Surveying ship Egeria :—

(1) Shoal north-west of Acis shoals.

A shoal (James shoal), with 12 fathoms water on it, and 22 to 31 fathoms around, lies about 25 miles north-west of Acis shoals, in approximately lat. 4° 0′ N., long. 112° 18′ E

(2) Mallawallé channel—Buoys and beacons.

a. BILLEAN ISLAND.—A cylindrical buoy, painted red and black in horizontal stripes, and surmounted by a black spherical cage (20 feet above the sea), is moored on the east extreme of the 2½ fathoms shoal lying N.-E. by N. from Billean island, with the north end of that island in line with the centre of Tagipil island bearing S. 36° W., in approximately lat. 6° 38′ 55″ N., long. 117° 47′ 50″ E.

CAUTION.—A shoal, with 3 fathoms water on it, lies about one mile N.-E. ¾ E. from Billean buoy, which does not therefore mark the edge of the danger line north-east of Billean.

b. LEONAN REEF.—A beacon consisting of a framework iron tripod surmounted by a black triangle has been erected on the south-east extreme of Leonan reef, with Kalaugaan island bearing N. 74° W., distant 7¾ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 44′ 30″ N., long. 117° 37′ 40″ E.

c. SANDY ISLAND.—A beacon, consisting of a framework tripod, painted red and black, and surmounted by a cage 35 feet high, has been erected on Sandy island, with Sipindung island bearing N. 59° W., distant 4¼ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 49′ 30″ N., long. 117° 37′ 10″ E.

d. SIPINDUNG ISLAND.—A small red buoy, surmounted by a ball (6 feet above the sea), is moored with Sipindung island bearing N. 33° E., distant 1½ miles, or in approximately lat. 6° 50′ 45″ N , long. 117° 32′ 35″ E.

CAUTION.—A note has been placed on Admiralty chart No. 1650 to the effect that "The route marked has been followed with safety, but in such reef strewn waters other dangers not charted may exist."

CHINA SEA—BORNEO, NORTH AND EAST COASTS.

Newly discovered dangers.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 489 issued by the British Admiralty is republished.

The following information relating to the existence and particulars of the undermentioned dangers and banks lying off the north and east coasts of Borneo has been received from Commander A. M. Field, H.M. Surveying ship Egeria:—

1. BANGUEY SOUTH CHANNEL.—A coral head (Ten foot rock), 70 yards long in an E.-N.-E. and W.-S.-W. direction, and 30 yards broad, with a least depth of 10 feet at low water spring tides, and 17 fathoms close around, lies near the fairway of South Banguey channel, with Petrel rock bearing N.-N.-E. ¾ E., distant about 7 cables, or in approximately lat. 7° 3′ 50″ N., long. 117° 6′ 10″ E.

CAUTION.—As no less than three shoal patches have recently been discovered in the track usually followed in this part of Mallawallé channel, the utmost caution must be used in navigating this locality, as well as the whole channel to Sandakan, as it is more than probable that others exist as yet undetected.

2. LANKAYAN ISLAND.—A coral patch (Keohil rock), about 3 cables in extent, with 4½ fathoms water on it, and 19 to 21 fathoms around, lies with Lankayan island bearing about S.-W. ⅝ W., distant 7 miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 34′ 40″ N., long. 118° 1′ E.

3. LANGAAN ISLAND.—A coral patch (Johnston rock), 4 cables long in a N.-N.-W. and S.-S.-E. direction, and 2 cables broad, with 13 feet on it at low water spring tides, and 18 fathoms around, lies with the south-east extreme of Langaan island bearing S.-W. ¾ W., distant $2\frac{3}{10}$ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 13′ 20″ N., long. 118° 11′ 15″ E.

4. NYMPH REEF.—A coral shoal (Royalist rock), 4 cables long in a N.-N.-E. and S.-S.-W. direction, with a least depth of 6 feet at low water spring tides near its south-west end, and 18 fathoms around, lies with Nymph reef bearing N.-N.-E., distant about 1¾ miles. Approximate position, lat. 5° 42′ 50″ N., long. 118° 40′ E.

5. Sunday bank, previously known to exist, somewhat circular in shape and about 5 miles in extent, has depths of 9 to 47 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest part found (9 fathoms over coral) lies near its western edge in approximately lat. 5° 49′ 30″ N., long. 119° 9′ E.

6. A bank (Normandy bank), about 5 miles long in a N.-N.-E. and S.-S.-W. direction and 2½ miles broad, has depths of 6 to 50 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest part found (6 fathoms over coral) lies near its south-west end, in approximately lat. 5° 47′ N., long. 119° 13′ E. Soundings of 119 and 203 fathoms were obtained between this bank and Sunday bank.

7. A bank (Sentry bank), the north edge of which has not been defined, but probably about 7 miles in extent, has depths of 7 to 50 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest spot found (7 fathoms) lies about one mile within its western edge in approximately lat. 5° 40′ N., long. 109° 18′ E.

8. DENT HAVEN.—A narrow coral shoal (Hardy patch), 1¼ cables long in a north and south direction, with a least depth of 18 feet at low water spring tides, lies in the approach to Dent haven, in approximately lat. 5° 15′ 20″ N., long. 119° 18′ 20″ E.

9. SIBUKO OR ST. LUCIA BAY.—A coral head (Hand rock), about 50 yards in extent, and a wash at low water spring tides, with 18 fathoms around, lies in the fairway of Sibuko bay, in approximately lat. 4° 8′ N., long. 118° 11′ E. This rock should be marked P.D.

A narrow coral patch, about 2½ cables long in an east and west direction, with a least depth of 14 feet at low water spring tides near its west end, lies with Batu Tinagat, north shore of Sibuko bay, bearing E. by N. ½ N., distant about 3 miles. Approximate position lat. 4° 12′ N., long. 117° 56′ E.

INDIAN OCEAN.

Icebergs in about Lat. 50° S., Long. 104° E.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 497 of 1892) that information has been received from Shaw, Savill, and Albion Company, London, that the Commander of the S.S. Coptic reports that between lat. 50° 9′ S, long. 99° 40′ E., and lat. 49° 35′ S., long. 108° 37′ E., thirteen icebergs were passed.

NOTE.—Ice in this locality in this quantity is not frequent at this time of the year, though the records show it has occurred before. Taken in conjunction with the mass of ice at present in the South Atlantic, it appears probable that there has been an unusual dislocation and spreading north of the southern ice, and caution should be used.

THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.—SINGAPORE.

The port of Klang, Selangor, worked under the block system.

THE Colonial Secretary to the Government of the Straits Settlements has given notice, (Notification No. 636 of 1892) that on and after Thursday, 10th November, navigation of the river Klang between the Police station at Kuala Klang and the Railway wharves at the port of Klang will be worked under the block system.

A signal mast carrying a red ball will be erected near the Police station, Kuala Klang, and another at the wharves at Klang.

The normal condition of the river is to be considered closed, when the red ball on the signal mast will be at the yard arm.

When a steam-vessel desiring to enter the river comes within a mile of Kuala Klang, she must sound her steam-horn as a warning to the signalman at the Police station, and she may not enter the river until the signal ball is lowered from the yard arm.

No vessel may leave the wharves at Klang without the consent of the Station master Klang, and until the signal ball at Klang wharves has been lowered.

The ball signal will be worked between sunrise and sunset, and a red lamp will be shewn in the same way between sunset and sunrise.

This Regulation does not apply to sailing vessels.

Approximate position, lat. 10° 24′ 10″ S., long. 161° 23′ 45″ E.

NOTE.—Near the coast, and N.-E. by E. ½ E. from the abovementioned shoal, is situated a village named Bea. From this village, and for about one mile to the south-eastward, a rocky ledge extends parallel to the beach, and about 5 cables from it, which dries at half tide.

GUADALCANAR ISLAND—MARAU SOUND.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The rainfall the normal mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station district, i.e., from total rainfall at the subdivisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one of

for the week ending Saturday, the 17th of December 1892.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

Calcutta, the 20th December 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY THE 17TH OF DECEMBER 1892.

THE week under review has again been one in which the meteorological changes have been small and rather unimportant, and the weather throughout the week in Bengal has been fine and settled, and of normal north-east monsoon character. On the 11th, or the first day of the week, pressure had risen moderately rapidly, and was in excess of the normal by small to moderate amounts. Temperature had again fallen slowly, and was very largely in defect of the normal, the defect in the day temperatures usually equalling from 2° to 5°, while in the night or minimum temperatures the defects ranged from 3° and 4° up to 8° and 9° at such stations as Jessore, Saugor Island, Calcutta, False Point, Burdwan, Darbhanga, &c. A steady and fairly strong northerly and north-westerly wind was blowing over the whole province, the sky was practically cloudless, rainfall was entirely absent, humidity was low, and the cold weather conditions were thus strongly pronounced over the whole province. On the 12th again a moderate increase of pressure took place, and pressure became rather largely in excess. The fall of temperature had however ceased, and a slight increase was recorded, but still temperature, and particularly minimum temperature, was largely below the normal, defects of 8° and upwards in the night temperatures being reported at such stations as Jessore, Saugor Island, Calcutta, &c. On the 13th a very slight fall of pressure was recorded, and again the mean temperature of the day rose generally, and the defect in the night temperatures diminished distinctly, though on the other hand the day temperatures were a little lower, and the mean temperature reported on the 13th was about 2° to 4° in defect of the normal. On the 14th pressure continued to fall by small amounts, while the temperature changes were small and variable. On the 15th the fall of pressure had ceased and an increase was recorded, while temperature had risen moderately and the defects had become small only. A further increase of pressure and a fall of temperature took place on the 16th, and the mean temperature reported on this day became almost normal, while on the 17th, pressure had commenced to fall and temperature had risen, so that on this day the mean temperature had become in excess of the normal in the east, north and west of the province, though in the southern and south-western districts slight defects were still reported Thus the largely defective temperature which characterised the commencement of the week had quite disappeared at its close. Throughout the whole of the week also a steady northerly wind current has flowed over the province, cloud proportion and humidity have been low, and rainfall has been quite absent in all districts.

Pressure.—The pressure registered throughout the week has been in excess of the normal. This excess has averaged generally about a twentieth of an inch, but in Chota Nagpur it has only equalled about 0·03″ to 0·04″, while at some of the northern and eastern stations it has equalled about 0·06″ to 0·07″.

Temperature.—The main features of the temperature changes have been already referred to. The mean temperature for the week has been in defect of the normal in all districts of the province, the defect ranging from 0·8° in North Bengal to 3·6° in Orissa and South-West Bengal. For the whole province the mean defect for the week has equalled 2·3°.

The distribution of temperature for the week in the province generally and its variation from the normal value are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with their normal values for the same period. Again, it will be seen that the largest defects have been recorded in the night or minimum temperatures, which at such stations as Cuttack and Calcutta they have been nearly 5° below the normal:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

5. All appointments to the post of Tahsildar in the Assam Valley will be made by the Chief Commissioner on the nomination of the Commissioner, and in the Surma Valley and Hill districts on the nomination of the Deputy Commissioner. In dealing with applications for such appointments preference will be given to applicants already in Government employ who have rendered approved service, and cæteris paribus to natives of Assam.

6. Any native of India, as defined in section 6 of the Statute 33 Victoria, Chapter III, may be nominated for the post of Tahsildar, who can produce approved certificates of good character and physical fitness for active work, and who has passed the Middle English or Middle Vernacular School Examination in Assam, or any examination in India equivalent thereto, and who, unless he is already in Government service, is not over 25 years of age.

Provided that the subjects of Native States in alliance with Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India shall also, if qualified in other respects, be eligible for appointment to Tahsildarships.

7. All persons appointed to the office of Tahsildar will be on probation for two years, during which they must, unless specially exempted by order of the Chief Commissioner, pass an examination by the Lower Standard in the following subjects, as laid down in the Departmental Examination Rules:—

(1) Civil Law.
(2) Criminal Codes.
(3) All questions relating to Revenue subjects in the General Law paper without books.

In addition to passing in the above subjects, all such persons are liable to be called upon to pass within the period of probation an examination by the Higher Standard in the vernacular language of the district in which they are employed if the Chief Commissioner should consider this necessary.

They must also, within the same period, obtain a certificate of knowledge of practical surveying from the Director, Department of Land Records and Agriculture, or from such other officer as the Chief Commissioner may from time to time appoint on this behalf. On failure to pass the said examination, or to obtain the said certificate, they are liable to forfeit their appointments.

8. All persons who are applicants for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector must first apply for admission to the roll of competitive candidates for such appointments. All such applications shall, as a rule, be made through the Deputy Commissioner of the district to which the applicant belongs, or in which he is serving or living at the time. If the applicant does not reside in Assam, he should forward his application through the Magistrate of the district in which he resides.

10. Every applicant for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector will be required to produce the following certificates:—

(c) That he belongs to a respectable family.
(d) That he is a good rider. This certificate must be signed by a district officer either in Bengal or Assam.

11. It will be in the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner to forward (in the Assam Valley districts) to the Commissioner, or (in the Surma Valley and Hill districts) to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, any application preferred to him under Rule 8. If the Deputy Commissioner refuse the application, the applicant may (in the Assam Valley districts) represent the matter to the Commissioner, or (in the Surma Valley and Hill districts) to the Chief Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

* Subject to the approval of the Secretary of State.

12. If an application under Rule 8 is forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner, a nomination roll in Form A annexed to these rules shall be submitted. The Deputy Commissioner shall also record a distinct opinion regarding the applicant's qualifications for office.

13. The Commissioner, Assam Valley Districts, and Heads of Departments may, without any recommendation from the Deputy Commissioner, send to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner nominations of applicants for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector already in Government employ, and who have served directly under their orders, or in respect to whose qualifications they may have had special opportunities of forming an opinion. All such nominations should be accompanied by the certificates and nomination roll required by Rules 10 and 12.

14. No applicant for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector shall ordinarily be nominated who is under 22 or over 25 years of age, unless he is already in the public service, or is a licensed pleader and is not over 30 years of age.

15. No person shall be nominated as a candidate for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector who has not passed an Indian University Examination, or other examination equivalent thereto.

Persons who have served Government for six years and have held for not less than two years a responsible permanent appointment above that of copyist with a salary of not less than Rs. 50 per mensem in one of the Civil Departments of the Government service are exempted from the operation of this rule.

16. In nominating applicants for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector, special weight should be given to the following points :—

Education and knowledge of English.

Previous good service, if any.

Constitution and physical fitness for active work, and ability to ride.

17. If the Chief Commissioner approves a nomination for the post of Sub-Deputy Collector, the applicant's name will be entered in the roll of competitive candidates, and two copies of the entry will be forwarded to the Commissioner, Deputy Commissioner, or Head of Department who made the nomination; one to be filed in the office, and the other to be given to the candidate.

18. In the following rules "Candidate" means an applicant for appointment as Sub-Deputy Collector whose name has been entered in the roll of competitive candidates under Rule 17.

"Selected candidate" means a candidate who has been successful in the examination, as provided by these Rules, or who has been declared to be a selected candidate by the Chief Commissioner under Rule 25.

19. An examination of candidates for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector will be held at Gauhati and Sylhet on such dates as may from time to time be notified in the Assam Gazette. Such notification shall be three months in advance of the examination, and shall specify the number of vacant appointments which are open for competition. The Examination Committee will consist of the officers who form the Committee for the departmental examination of Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioners.

The subjects of examination will be the following :—

I. Vernacular of the province (Assamese or Bengali at the option of the candidate)—

Reading, handwriting, composition and conversation ... 200 marks.

The examination will include—

(1) Translation into English of proceedings, petitions, reports, &c., written in manuscript.

(2) Translation from English into the vernacular selected.

II. English—

Reading, handwriting, composition, conversation, and dictation ... 200 marks.

The examination will be so arranged as to test a candidate's ability to write correct and idiomatic English, and will include précis-writing and letter-drafting. In awarding marks great weight will be attached to good and legible handwriting.

III. Arithmetic, Mensuration, and Theoretical Surveying ... ... 100 marks.

The standard in these subjects will be—

(1) Rule of three.

(2) Greatest Common Measure.

(3) Least Common Multiple.

(4) Vulgar Fractions as far as is necessary as a preparation for decimal fractions.

(5) Decimals (omitting repeating decimals).

(6) Tables of English Land Measurement.

(7) Reduction from bighas, kathas, and lessas to acres and decimals, and vice versâ.

(8) Construction of Diagonal Scales.

(9) Calculation of Areas of Polygons.

(10) Use of the Talc Square or Area Comb.

20. A candidate who proposes to appear for examination must submit his name through the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which he is serving or permanently residing, or through the Head of his Department, to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner in the General Department not later than one month before the date fixed for the examination.

A candidate may compete at one or both of the two examinations immediately succeeding the date of his admission to the roll of candidates, and no more.

21. The aggregate number of the marks obtained by a candidate at the examination will, except as provided in Rule 25, determine his position on the list of selected candidates. Candidates who fail to obtain half marks in each subject of examination will be disqualified.

22. Instead of entering for the above examination, a candidate who has passed the F. A. Examination of the Calcutta University, or an examination equivalent thereto, may apply to the Director, Department of Land Records and Agriculture, the Commissioner, or the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, to be taken as a probationer in his office.

23. One such probationer may be annually taken by each of the above officers with the previous consent of the Chief Commissioner.

24. The probationer will receive pay not exceeding Rs. 75 a month, as the Chief Commissioner may determine in each case, and will be under the orders of the head of the office to which he may be appointed. The period of probation will ordinarily be one year.

25. At the end of the period of probation, the head of the office will submit a confidential report to the Chief Commissioner regarding the probationer, and the Chief Commissioner will decide whether the probationer is to be recorded as a selected candidate or not, and, if so recorded, will determine his place on the list of selected candidates. It must, however, be distinctly understood that no probationer will be regarded as having any claim to an appointment merely by reason of his having been favourably reported on at the end of his term of probation.

26. The Chief Commissioner may extend the period of probation as he thinks fit.

27. Ordinarily the selected candidate highest on the list of selected candidates will be appointed to a vacancy in the office of Sub-Deputy Collector. If such vacancy be temporary only, and the selected candidate has to vacate the appointment, his name will be retained in its original place on the list.

28. The Chief Commissioner reserves to himself the right of appointing to the office of Sub-Deputy Collector any selected candidate, irrespective of his position on the list, or the date when he passed the examination prescribed in Rule 19, or any person other than a selected candidate, should the exigencies of the public service render such a course necessary. In selecting officers for the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector, preference will be given cæteris paribus to natives of Assam.

29. All persons appointed to the office of Sub-Deputy Collector will be on probation for two years, during which they must pass an examination in the subjects and obtain the certificate prescribed for tahsildars in Rule 7, failing which they will be liable to forfeit their appointments.

30. Sub-Deputy Collectors will, after being confirmed in their appointments, be promoted, as vacancies occur, according to seniority, subject to fitness and approved conduct, but the Chief Commissioner reserves to himself the power to promote any particular officer out of turn without reference to seniority in cases of exceptional merit.

(c) Extra Assistant Commissioners.

31. Applications for the appointment of Extra Assistant Commissioner from persons who are residents of Assam may be made direct to the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, but must be accompanied by the certificates referred to in Rule 10, unless the applicant holds the appointment of Sub-Deputy Collector and has already submitted such certificates before receiving such appointment.

32. Every application for the appointment of Extra Assistant Commissioner should give the particulars required to be entered in columns 3 to 22 of Form A annexed to these rules, and, if the applicant is not a resident of Assam, should give references which will enable the Chief Commissioner to ascertain by enquiry his qualifications for the office of Extra Assistant Commissioner.

33. Sub-Deputy Collectors who have been confirmed and who have passed under the Departmental Examination Rules by the Lower Standard in Accounts and by the Higher Standard in the vernacular of the district are eligible for promotion to the rank of Extra Assistant Commissioner, but are not entitled, as a matter of course, to such promotion. In making such promotions preference will be given to officers who have taken an Indian University degree, or who have rendered exceptionally good service.

34. Selections for the appointment of Extra Assistant Commissioner will ordinarily be made from amongst the following classes of persons :—

(a) Sub-Deputy Collectors eligible under Rule 33.

(b) Graduates of an Indian University or persons who have passed an examination equivalent to that for an Indian University degree.

Provided that candidates for admission under class (b) must not be over 25 years of age, unless they are barristers, advocates, or pleaders, in which case their age must not exceed 30 years.

Provided also that no candidate for admission under class (b) shall be eligible who has not a thorough knowledge of one of the vernaculars of the province, including ability to read and write the written character with facility.

In making such appointments, the Chief Commissioner will give preference cæteris paribus to natives of Assam.

The subjects of Native States in alliance with Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India are eligible for appointment to Extra Assistant Commissionerships, provided that they are qualified in other respects.

35. Europeans who are not natives of India, if otherwise qualified, may be appointed to the office of Extra Assistant Commissioner with the previous sanction of the Government of India in each case.

36. "The amounts represented by these treasury vouchers are not charged against Letters of Credit, but by transfer, and may be paid to any amount quite independently of the balance of such Letters of Credit as the treasury holds in favour of the Post Office"

And that the following Rule shall be substituted for Rule 26 of the Revenue Money-Order Rules :—

"The Treasury officer will, on the same day, charge off the amount represented by the treasury voucher (A. C. 14) by transfer and credit the amounts of the several money-orders as shewn in the list and on the acknowledgments to the appropriate Departments."

If the estate or holding on account of which a remittance has been received is situated in another district, the remittance should be credited in the usual way, and the Collector to whom the money-order should have been addressed should be advised of the credit according to the procedure in Chapter IV, Section XIII, Rule 3 of the Board's Rule (Miscellaneous Volume, 1888). The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1891-92, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 488 of 1892, issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

The following information concerning the existence of a shoal lying off the north-west coast of Borneo, and the buoyage, &c., of Mallawallé channel, has been received from Commander A. M. Field, H.M. Surveying ship Egeria :—

(1) Shoal north-west of Acis shoals.

A shoal (James shoal), with 12 fathoms water on it, and 22 to 31 fathoms around, lies about 25 miles north-west of Acis shoals, in approximately lat. 4° 0′ N., long. 112° 18′ E.

(2) Mallawallé channel—Buoys and beacons.

a. BILLEAN ISLAND.—A cylindrical buoy, painted red and black in horizontal stripes, and surmounted by a black spherical cage (20 feet above the sea), is moored on the east extreme of the 2½ fathoms shoal lying N.-E. by N. from Billean island, with the north end of that island in line with the centre of Tagipil island bearing S. 36° W., in approximately lat. 6° 38′ 55″ N., long. 117° 47′ 50″ E.

CAUTION.—A shoal, with 3 fathoms water on it, lies about one mile N.-E. ¾ E. from Billean buoy, which does not therefore mark the edge of the danger line north-east of Billean.

b. LEONAN REEF.—A beacon consisting of a framework iron tripod surmounted by a black triangle has been erected on the south-east extreme of Leonan reef, with Kalangaan island bearing N. 74° W., distant 7¾ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 44′ 30″ N., long. 117° 37′ 40″ E.

c. SANDY ISLAND.—A beacon, consisting of a framework tripod, painted red and black, and surmounted by a cage 35 feet high, has been erected on Sandy island, with Sipindung island bearing N. 59° W., distant 4¼ miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 49′ 30″ N., long. 117° 37′ 10″ E.

d. SIPINDUNG ISLAND.—A small red buoy, surmounted by a ball (6 feet above the sea), is moored with Sipindung island bearing N. 33° E., distant 1½ miles, or in approximately lat. 6° 50′ 45″ N., long. 117° 32′ 35″ E.

CAUTION.—A note has been placed on Admiralty chart No. 1650 to the effect that "The route marked has been followed with safety, but in such reef strewn waters other dangers not charted may exist."

CHINA SEA—BORNEO, NORTH AND EAST COASTS.

Newly discovered dangers.

NOTICE to Mariners No. 489 issued by the British Admiralty is republished.

The following information relating to the existence and particulars of the undermentioned dangers and banks lying off the north and east coasts of Borneo has been received from Commander A. M. Field, H.M. Surveying ship Egeria :—

1. BANGUEY SOUTH CHANNEL.—A coral head (Ten foot rock), 70 yards long in an E.-N.-E. and W.-S.-W. direction, and 30 yards broad, with a least depth of 10 feet at low water spring tides, and 17 fathoms close around, lies near the fairway of South Banguey channel, with Petrel rock bearing N.-N.-E. ¾ E., distant about 7 cables, or in approximately lat. 7° 3′ 50″ N., long. 117° 6′ 10″ E.

CAUTION.—As no less than three shoal patches have recently been discovered in the track usually followed in this part of Mallawallé channel, the utmost caution must be used in navigating this locality, as well as the whole channel to Sandakan, as it is more than probable that others exist as yet undetected.

2. LANKAYAN ISLAND.—A coral patch (Kechil rock), about 3 cables in extent, with 4½ fathoms water on it, and 19 to 21 fathoms around, lies with Lankayan island bearing about S.-W. ⅝ W., distant 7 miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 34′ 40″ N., long. 118° 1′ E.

3. LANGAAN ISLAND.—A coral patch (Johnston rock), 4 cables long in a N.-N.-W. and S.-S.-E. direction, and 2 cables broad, with 13 feet on it at low water spring tides, and 18 fathoms around, lies with the south-east extreme of Langaan island bearing S.-W. ¾ W., distant 2 3/10 miles. Approximate position, lat. 6° 13′ 20″ N., long. 118° 14′ 15″ E.

4. NYMPH REEF.—A coral shoal (Royalist rock), 4 cables long in a N.-N.-E. and S.-S.-W. direction, with a least depth of 6 feet at low water spring tides near its south-west end, and 18 fathoms around, lies with Nymph reef bearing N.-N.-E., distant about 1¾ miles. Approximate position, lat. 5° 42′ 50″ N., long. 118° 40′ E.

5. Sunday bank, previously known to exist, somewhat circular in shape and about 5 miles in extent, has depths of 9 to 47 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest part found (9 fathoms over coral) lies near its western edge in approximately lat. 5° 49′ 30″ N., long. 119° 9′ E.

6. A bank (Normandy bank), about 5 miles long in a N.-N.-E. and S.-S.-W. direction and 2½ miles broad, has depths of 6 to 50 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest part found (6 fathoms over coral) lies near its south-west end, in approximately lat. 5° 47′ N., long. 119° 13′ E. Soundings of 119 and 203 fathoms were obtained between this bank and Sunday bank.

7. A bank (Sentry bank), the north edge of which has not been defined, but probably about 7 miles in extent, has depths of 7 to 50 fathoms on it, and deep water around. The shoalest spot found (7 fathoms) lies about one mile within its western edge in approximately lat. 5° 40′ N., long. 109° 18′ E.

8. DENT HAVEN.—A narrow coral shoal (Hardy patch), 1½ cables long in a north and south direction, with a least depth of 18 feet at low water spring tides, lies in the approach to Dent haven, in approximately lat. 5° 15′ 20″ N., long. 119° 18′ 20″ E.

9. SIBUKO OR ST. LUCIA BAY.—A coral head (Hand rock), about 50 yards in extent, and a wash at low water spring tides, with 18 fathoms around, lies in the fairway of Sibuko bay, in approximately lat. 4° 8′ N., long. 118° 11′ E. This rock should be marked P.D.

A narrow coral patch, about 2½ cables long in an east and west direction, with a least depth of 14 feet at low water spring tides near its west end, lies with Batu Tinagat, north shore of Sibuko bay, bearing E. by N. ½ N., distant about 3 miles. Approximate position lat. 4° 12′ N., long. 117° 56′ E.

INDIAN OCEAN.

Icebergs in about Lat. 50° S., Long. 104° E.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 497 of 1892) that information has been received from Shaw, Savill, and Albion Company, London, that the Commander of the S.S. Coptic reports that between lat. 50° 9′ S., long. 99° 40′ E., and lat. 49° 35′ S., long. 108° 37′ E., thirteen icebergs were passed.

NOTE.—Ice in this locality in this quantity is not frequent at this time of the year, though the records show it has occurred before. Taken in conjunction with the mass of ice at present in the South Atlantic, it appears probable that there has been an unusual dislocation and spreading north of the southern ice, and caution should be used.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The rainfall the normal mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station district, i.e. from total rainfall at the subdivisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one of

for the week ending Saturday, the 24th of December 1892.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 27th December 1892.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 24TH OF DECEMBER 1892.

THE meteorological changes during the week under review have again been unimportant, and fine settled weather of ordinary north-east monsoon character has prevailed almost throughout the week. On the first day, or the 18th instant, pressure had fallen rapidly over the northern half of the province, and had become moderately in defect of the normal, while it had fallen slowly only at the southern stations, and was still in slight excess. The mean temperature over the greater part of the province was slightly above the normal, though defects were shown at some of the central and eastern stations. The variations from the normal of both day and night temperatures were about equal, the unusually large defect which had characterised the night temperatures for some time previous to this having disappeared. A light to moderate northerly and north-westerly wind was blowing over the whole province, humidity and cloud proportion were low, and rainfall was entirely absent. On the 19th, pressure rose over the northern half of the province, though it was still falling slowly at the southern stations, and on the 20th a rather brisk increase had extended over the whole province, so that pressure became generally in excess of the normal by about a twentieth of an inch. During these two days also temperature had generally fallen, and for the 20th the mean temperature was below the normal by amounts ranging usually from 1° to 3°, the defect being largest at the central stations. A further increase of pressure took place on the 21st instant, and pressure became in excess of the normal by amounts ranging up to nearly a tenth of an inch in Bihar, but, on the other hand, temperature had risen and had become fairly normal. A rapid fall of pressure took place on the 22nd, though pressure still remained in slight excess of the normal, while temperature was in excess of the normal by small amounts at the northern and in slight defect at the southern stations. On the 23rd instant the changes of pressure were small and rather irregular, and temperature rose very slowly and became in slight excess of the normal at the great majority of stations. Finally, on the 24th instant, or the last day of the week, pressure rose by small to moderate amounts over the whole province and became in excess of the normal by amounts ranging up to a twentieth of an inch, while temperature had again risen very slowly, and was in excess of the normal by about 1° to 2°.

Up to about the 22nd instant weather continued perfectly fine, and rain was absent from the whole province, but after this date, a slight disturbance occurred in the hills, and one or two light local showers, but of no practical importance, were reported from the districts in and near the Himalayas; but except in the Darjeeling and Kuch Bihar districts, the whole province was rainless for the whole week. Throughout the week, therefore, ordinary cold weather conditions have again prevailed. Light northerly winds have blown steadily in all districts, the sky has been almost cloudless in most districts, and humidity and temperature have been generally low.

Pressure—Has been in excess of the normal for the greater part of the week, and the mean of the seven days has shown an excess of about 0·02" to 0·04". This excess has been fairly equally distributed in all divisions.

Temperature.—The mean temperature for the week has been more nearly normaly than has been the case for a considerable period, and for the whole province the mean has been less than a fifth of an inch in defect of the normal. In the western districts, indeed such as Bihar and Chota Nagpur, temperature has been in slight excess, while the largest defects have been registered in East and South-West Bengal, where they have equalled nearly a degree.

The distribution of temperature for the week in the province generally, and its variation from the normal value are clearly seen in the table below, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with their normal values for the same period. Again, it will be seen that the largest defects have been recorded in the night or minimum temperature, which at Calcutta has been about 2° below the normal:—

Rainfall.—Except for light showers of less than a quarter of an inch in the districts in and near the hills, the whole province has been rainless throughout the week.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.
